GIVEN AN UNEXPECTED BATH.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Pushing in from the sea, a waterspout, traveling at great speed, struck a train on the Brooklyn Elevated road, bound cityward from Rockaway Beach. The motorman saw the spout just as the train was on a trestle over Broad Channel, Jamaica Bay. He threw on full power in an effort to get past, but the flood of water struck between the third and fourth cars. The platforms were crowded with persons unable to get inside the cars. These were almost swept off into the bay, but managed to hold fast to the railings. The flood rushed down the aisle and caused a wild scramble. Hundreds of pleasure-seekers were drenched to the skin. No one was seriously injured.

CHAOS COME AGAIN AT THE MOUND CITY.

Twenty-five Thousand Homeless Along the Rampant Mississippi.

Twenty-five Lives Known to Be Lost—More Than Two Hundred Thousand Acres of Rich Farming Lands Under Water—Thousands of Head of Stock Drowned—East St. Louis Threatened With Complete Inundation.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. LOUIS, June 9.—So great an extent of territory is covered by the flood and so constantly changing are the conditions, as the water creeps higher and renders the situation the more chaotic, and so unreliable are the various rumors of the devastation that a substantiated summary of the losses of life and property cannot be obtained, but up to 8 o'clock tonight information from apparently the most reliable sources showed the situation to be as follows:

River stage, 37.5 feet, stationary.

Twenty-five lives are known to have been lost.

More than 200,000 acres of rich farming lands under water.

All of Venice and the greater part of Madison and Granite City under water. Twenty-five thousand people rendered homeless. Freight traffic completely paralyzed and passenger traffic practically stopped.

The shipping and manufacturing districts of East St. Louis for three miles along the river front are under from three to eight feet of water. Probably thousands of head of stock drowned.

East St. Louis threatened with complete inundation.

St. Louis flooded only along the water front.

Entire property loss estimated at $3,000,000.

EXTRA SESSION IN KANSAS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) June 8.—It is regarded as practically certain that there will be a special session of the Kansas Legislature in two weeks to relieve some of the suffering caused by the flood of last week. If a special session is called, it will be called for the purpose of building bridges washed away by the flood. Kansas City is especially interested in the session, because there were thirteen Kansas River bridges washed out in that city. Eight bridges were washed out [illegible]

The Governor is said to [illegible] to calling a special session for the purpose of making a general flood-relief appropriation, for the reason that such action would effectually prevent further contributions toward the relief of the sufferers. It has been suggested that the session should provide seeds for the farmers in the Kaw Valley. There farmers, if given potatoes immediately, can raise a good crop yet this year.

EAST SIDE CITIES.

ENTIRE GROUP UNDER WATER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. LOUIS, June 8.—This afternoon the viaduct connecting East St. Louis with the Eads bridge was condemned as unsafe. The street cars are not allowed to cross the bridge. The waters of Cahokia Creek have been washing against the viauct for several days, and it has been strained to its utmost by sightseers, who used it as a vantage point to view the flood.

The entire group of the East Side cities, lying just north of East St. Louis, and including Venice Madison, West Madison, Newport, Brooklyn and Granite City are under from ten to eighteen feet of water, which is still rising, and deaths from drowning are variously estimated at from five to twenty. Eight thousand persons were driven from their homes. Very little confirmation of the reports of drowning can be obtained, as these places are all cut off from railroad service, and telephone service is uncertain at present. The Weather Bureau promises relief after the river shall have risen to about thirty-eight feet. It is now within a few inches of the mark, but rising slowly.

The harbor boat Mark Twain and private yacht Annie Russell, with several tugs, have gone to Madison and Granite City where the floods have caused a number of deaths and where scores of families cut off from the escape are at the mercy of the rising water.

Dummy trains of the Terminal Association, connecting with skiffs, commenced this morning the work of bringing across the river more than seven hundred persons who spent Sunday afternoon and night on the tops of houses and at other points of elevation above the flood in Madison, Venice and Newport. Four drownings were reported by the refugees, but no one knew the names of the victims. One said that a father, mother and child had been drowned while trying to reach a point of safety, and another told of the death of a man under like circumstances.

In East St. Louis, on proclamation of Mayor Cook, business is suspended, the saloons are closed, and everybody is at work on the levees in a desperate effort to save the city, which is from one to four feet below the level of the water that presses up against the embankments. A hastily-constructed levee of sandbags and mud is all that stands between the city and almost complete submersion. If the levee gives way, all the main part of the city will be quickly flooded, and not a street in the business section will be left out of water. The relay station is now surrounded by water.

Train service in every direction is laid out by the high water, and no freight business is being done at all on the East Side. Two roads, the Missouri Pacific and 'Frisco, are the only ones running between here and Kansas City. Passenger traffic and the most urgent freight business is all that the railroads will handle west. It is too early to estimate the damage, which will run into millions, and the loss due to the interference with business.

Relief boats were today sent to Venice, Ill., which is badly flooded, as a result of a break in the levee just south of Merchant's bridge yesterday afternoon. Only the roofs of houses are visible and the 500 inhabitants are homeless.

During the day, 100 persons were rescued. Their stories of the disaster are thrilling and pathetic. In their hurry to escape, many persons were obliged to race from the flood only partially clad. None of them was able ot save any household goods. Most of the Venice houses are frame structures, and yielded readily to the force of the flood. The Methodist Church was lifted from its foundation and carried three blocks. Only the steeple is now visible. In the schoolhouse, which is of brick, 200 men, women and children have found an ark of refuge. Unless there is a rise of another foot or so, they are safe, but they have no food supplies, and their need is urgent.

Several business houses were carried away in the terrific current, and stock valued at thousands of dollars was destroyed. No estimate can be formed of the damage, but it will probably amount to several hundred thousand dollars for both Madison and Venice.

John Crittenden, aged 10, was drowned near the Merchant's bridge while endeavoring to get shelter on the roof of a house which was floating downstream. At one house, a man was seen to crawl onto the roof, bearing a child in his arms. There he remained the greater part of the night. Clinging to high fences, roof tops and trees, a score of families were found. Some had remained in the water fifteen hours, and were weak and exhausted. So far as known the casualties are as follows:

JOHN CRITTENDEN, aged 10; drowned near the Merchant's bridge in Venice.

A woman and seven children, swept from a fence by a flood in sight of the Terminal Railway operator at Madison, who was attempting to save them. [illegible] pole turned in the water, and both disappeared.

Manager Shipley of the Madison Car Works reports seeing seven employés of the American Car and Foundry Company drown.

HENRY EDMONDS, farmer, drowned near Granite City. His wife was rescued.

Others are reported drowned.

PROSPECTS OF RELIEF.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. LOUIS, June 8.—According to the local Weather Bureau, relief seems in sight for the flooded districts in the vicinity of St. Louis. This morning the stage recorded by the government gauge is 37.5 feet, a rise during the twenty-four hours of 1.3 feet. This breaks all records but that of 1844. It is expected that the river will rise from now on until tomorrow night, and that the predicted 38 feet, if at all, will be barely attained. Then, after remaining stationary for a short time, the government officials say the water will begin falling Tuesday evening or Wednesday. Unofficial reports from St. Charles, on the Missouri River, to the north of St. Louis, are to the effect that the river is rising very little, if any.

Inability to secure communication with Madison and Granite City, Ill., lying a few miles north of St. Louis, where a number of people, late last night, were reported in danger of losing their lives from the encroaching flood, caused great anxiety here. At Madison nine persons are reported drowned and others, either on a crumbling levee or in unsafe buildings, are in peril. Nothing definite as to this can be learned, however. From Ferdinand Cole, president of the Board of Levee Commissioners of Madison County, living at Venice, comes a report of lives lost through the collapse of a brick hotel at North Venice or Newport. Communication between Granite City and Venice is impossible. Two men are said to have braved the flood by swimming from Venice to Madison, being forced by the water from the roof of the house they were living in. Six feet of water is reported sweeping through the offices of Henges Hotel, Madison, with guests imprisoned in the upper stories.

Residents of Granite City are in great peril from several breaks in the levee, protecting that manufacturing town. Persons living about the manufacturing plant in which they are employed are reported fleeing from the flood that comes from the north, and a fresh break in the abutment to the west. Adjacent farm lands are being flooded, and the residents of the lowlands are seeking safety with those of the city. Efforts are being made in various ways to reach these places by water and land and afford help, but it may be several hours before anything definite can be learned.

The conditions in East St. Louis are the same as last night, when a squad of twenty police were sent over from here at the request of Chief of Police Purdy to assist in guarding lives and property. All the available men that could be spared were sent over today.

John Buehrar, who lives on Choteau Island, twelve miles north of St. Louis, reports that eighteen people on the island cannot get away. He wanted assistance, but was unable to secure aid, as all the boats are at present busy and cannot reach the island.

BREAK AT EAST ST. LOUIS.

At 3 o'clock Monday morning the combined forces of the Missouri River and Cahokia Creek broke the barriers at the Relay depot, East St. Louis. The Relay depot was surrounded with water, but the embankment of clay and sandbags made by the workers Sunday saved the city from the rush of water. Trains continued to pass on the tracks around the depot, but at 8:45 o'clock the eastbound Southern train was stopped on the bridge incline. The water had risen so high that the engine could not pass through without "dying."

An army of men is working along the tracks that reach from the northern extremity of the city to the south, and now from the eastern bank of the Mississippi. East St. Louis city authorities expect to hold these embankments until tonight, hoping that by that time the crest of the flood will have passed. In order to do so, the different plants of East St. Louis has sent their men to work for the city. Elliot's frog shops have been converted into a commissary department. East St. Louis women, under the direction of Dr. J. L. Wiggins, have worked in the commissary night and day, giving food to the workers on the levees.

Seepage water has entered the cellars and basements in the central portion of the town, and the men not at work on the levees are removing goods to higher places.

After daylight this morning water began to break through at Cohen station, in the railroad yards west of Summit avenue. The several breaks were stopped before the water gained any great headway.

Just back of Elliot's frog shops, three blocks south of Broadway, the water is three feet higher than Main street, the first street east of the tracks. It is kept back by an embankment of clay, topped with sandbags. It seeps through constantly, but does not break the bank, because it has little current, and is not beaten by the wind. Rush City and the portion of the town east of the Southern tracks and south of Broadway are under water. Residents of that part of town have left their houses and gone to the northern part of the city. Owners of different halls and large buildings in East St. Louis have proffered them for the use of the flood sufferers.

Guards are on duty at the Canal bridge on the Illinois Central's tracks at Centerville station, seven miles southeast of town, and the backwaters from the river have flooded to the southeast, and the farmers in that section of the country threaten to cut the timbers blocking the water. Should this be done, the water would back up Pittsburgh Lake, which at present reaches up to the city limits of East St. Louis, and gain another point of attack on the city.

The Associated Press received the following dispatch from the National Stockyards at East St. Louis this morning: "No market here today, account high water." This indicates that the meat supply of St. Louis, which comes through these yards, will be cut off until the river falls considerably.

With all East Side terminal points between Malton and St. Louis in the embrace of the floods, and the Merchants and Eads bridges accessible only to a few lines, St. Louis passenger and freight traffic, both incoming and outbound, is temporarily paralyzed.

No attempt has been made to transport freight between this city and East St. Louis, and relief from this critical situation is not expected within the next twenty-four hours. It is estimated that the flood disaster has already cost [illegible] this was two hours late leaving Union station, and there is no assurance that it will make anything like schedule time. All other lines are suffering heavily.

MADISON AROUSED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. LOUIS, June 8.—All the whistles in Madison were blown early today to arouse citizens for rescue work as soon as the fact became known that a colony of persons were at the mercy of the flood. J. R. Elder, superintendent of the American Car and Foundry Works, said at 3 o'clock that he personally saw nine men plunged into the water and drowned. Just where the colony is situated cannot be definitely learned, as reports received in St. Louis vary. Some reports say they are imprisoned on a crumbling levee, and others that they are imprisoned in a tottering building at the car works, whence they had fled from the breaking levee. Every effort is being put forth to rescue them.

Madison is about four miles north of St. Louis. The steam yacht Annie Russell cannot breast the current, and after trying for an hour, she put back into port, and the harbor boat Mark Twain will attempt to go to the rescue. At 3 o'clock a.m. the river had reached a stage of 37.4 feet, and was still rising.

Information obtained from the Tri-cities is to the effect that Granite City is the least injured of the three which felt the effects of yesterday's break in the levee. Both Madison and Venice are reported entirely under water, while in Granite City a space one-half mile square, containing the postoffice, the American Steel Works and the St. Louis Stamping Works, was still uncovered at noon. At that time twenty drownings are reported from several sources, all but one being at Madison and Venice. The work of rescue was carried on today in Madison by skiffs.

REFUGEES AT ALTON.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. LOUIS, June 8.—Five hundred persons, driven from their homes in Calhoun, Ill., and Missouri points, have taken refuge in Alton, Ill. The Alton City Council held a special meeting this afternoon to devise means for caring for the unfortunates. The business houses and factories on the lower streets of Alton are submerged.

Four boys, ranging in age from 12 to 15 years, were drowned in the freight yards of the St. Louis Valley Railroad on the island, at East St. Louis, near the eastern end of Eads bridge this afternoon.

BACK INTO OLD CHANNELS.

CONDITIONS AT TOPEKA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) June 8.—The water is fast getting back into the old river channel, leaving North Topeka a desolate sea of mud. The railway situation is improving. It is almost certain that a special session of the Legislature will be held for the purpose of appropriating money to allay the suffering caused by the flood.

The pontoon bridge connecting North Topeka with the north approach of the big Melan bridge, which latter spans the river connecting both parts of the town, went out at 1 o'clock today. This severs all connection with the North Side save by boat, and it is not thought that it will be possible to repair the damage before Wednesday. This will result in great hardships to

WASHINGTON.

CAMPAIGN CHAIRMAN.

Quay Not Likely to Displace Hanna.

Eastern Republicans' Gossip on Intimation From Keystone State to the Contrary.

Leaders Agree that the President's Wishes Will be Paramount After His Nomination.

Taft Replies to Miles Regarding Philippine Relief—Diplomatic Agent to Bulgaria.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.]—The report that Senator Quay of Pennsylvania has started a row with Senator Hanna and will try to get the chairmanship of the National Republican Committee away from him is due to the efforts of the President's opponents in the East to cause more trouble for him. The story that Quay will fight Hanna is based upon the fact that Hanna voted against the admission of Quay to the Senate on appointment by Gov. Stone some years ago. There was some feeling then, but it long ago passed away.

The exact status of the relations between the President and Senator Hanna will be fixed this week, while the President is the guest of Senator Hanna at the latter's house in Cleveland at the marriage of Miss Ruth Hanna. It is clearly understood here that the two are to have a frank political talk during this visit and find out just where they stand for the good of the party. The President, it is said, wants Senator Hanna to retain his place and manage the next Presidential campaign.

Senator Quay has no reason for desiring to make trouble for the President or for Hanna. A year or more ago Senator Quay announced definitely that he was for the President's nomination, and he was the first of the big politicians to make any such announcement. He is [illegible] Western trip and had talks with and declare that he unequivocally wants Hanna to manage his campaign.

SENATOR PLATT'S VIEWS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Republican national leaders who were in this city tonight discussed with caution the reports from Philadelphia that Senator Matt S. Quay of Pennsylvania desires to succeed Senator Hanna of Ohio as chairman of the Republican National Committee. Senator Platt admitted that the choice of chairman would rest wholly with the President. It was asserted in Philadelphia that Senators Quay, Platt and Foraker were planning to place Senator Quay in charge of the next national campaign, and that Senator Quay, who is on close terms with the President, was especially desirous of bringing the change about so as to insure his own reëlection.

"Senator Quay has shown himself to be a most admirable leader in Pennsylvania, as his long series of victories there demonstrate," Senator Platt said, when asked if the Pennsylvania Senator was to take Senator Hanna's place. "I do not know that he is a candidate for the chairmanship, and I have not heard that any movement has been started in his behalf. Senator Hanna has been an excellent chairman of the National Committee, and he suits me. I suppose the President will be consulted in the matter, and, of course, I cannot speak for him."

Unusual difficulties will surround the chairman of the National Committee in the coming campaign, and Senator Hanna was remarkably successful in raising money for the expenses of the campaign of 1896. When he asked for contributions in 1900 he found that the men who had been so liberal four years previously were inclined to scale down the offerings on the ground that there was no actual danger of the election of Bryan.

HOW PENNSYLVANIA STANDS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania went up to the White House today and told the President that Pennsylvania would be solid for him in the next election, but suggested that Pennsylvania would be inclined to get extremely wobbly on any candidate for President who might show a disposition to allow any considerable tariff tinkering, while business remains as good as it now is.

Senator Panrose also, said, Pennsylvania would be for some energetic and conservative man from the Middle West—maybe Indiana—for Vice-President, and this naturally started the talk again about Senator Beveridge. Beveridge has just left Washington for home, and before leaving here, and after several talks with the President, he said, that he does not seek the Vice-Presidency, even if he can get it, as he prefers his work in the Senate. But there are a good many people in Indiana who want to see Senator Beveridge the second man on the national ticket, and if they have their way, the Republican ticket next year will be almost juvenile, compared with the tickets in previous years. The President will be 46 then and Senator Beveridge will be but 42.

A SENATOR'S OBSERVATIONS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator N. B. Scott of West Virginia was at the Fifth-avenue Hotel tonight, where he told of his observations of economic conditions abroad and at home, and discussed the suggestion that Senator Quay might succeed Senator Hanna as chairman of the Republican National Committee. Senator Scott said:

"There will be no change unless the President consents. Theodore Roosevelt will undoubtedly be the nominee. The new committee will not be chosen until after the convention has nominated its candidate, and the committeemen will, of course, elect a chairman agreeable to the candidate."

Asked what effect the many strikes throughout the country would have on the election, Senator Scott said: "They won't hurt the Republican party. There are always more labor troubles when there is a period of prosperity. We have been having good times now for some years, and some of the boys forget that there ever were hard times. It would be a good thing if, for the sake of labor, its representatives would select a committee of reliable men and send them abroad to study conditions there. It is no exaggeration to say that the American workingman is paid from two and a half to five times more than his brother of the same trade abroad."

"What do you think of Chamberlain's protective policy and bid to the colonies?"

"They move slowly over there. They are still carrying grain to mill with one side of the sack bearing a balancing stone, but England must do something to preserve the empire. I met Mr. Chamberlain at the dinner given by Ambassador Choate. Chamberlain is a strong man, and his latest move is a wise one."

GRAFF BROTHERS INDICTED.

TYNER'S CASE IS NEXT.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The Federal grand jury found true bills against the Groff brothers in connection with the alleged offering of bribes to A. W. Machen, former superintendent of free delivery of the Postoffice Department. This action was taken, it was learned, on the same day that Machen was indicted. The delay in presenting the indictments has been due to the fact that they could not be prepared for presentation before today.

The Groff Brothers will be tried under section 5451 of the Revised Statutes, which makes it an offense to promise money to any government officer with a view of influencing his action or decision on any question or matter which may be pending before him. By bringing in the indictments today the hearing before the United States commission, which was set for tomorrow, will be abandoned.

The grand jury will at once take up the case of James M. Tyner, former Assistant Attorney-General for the Postoffice Department, who was dismissed from office as a result of the rifling of the safe in his office. Although the opening of the safe was not done by Tyner personally, it is said that he was connected with the act in such a way as to compel the laying of the case before the grand jury for its action.

At 3:20 o'clock p.m. separate indictments against the Groff brothers were returned. The bond of Samuel A. Groff was increased from $5000 to $10,000, and that of Diller B. Groff was not changed from $10,000. Both furnished the required bond for their appearance at the fall term of court.

PAYNE'S SECRETARY INVOLVED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.]—The Tribune's Washington special says the meshes of the postoffice investigation have enveloped H. H. Rand of Wisconsin, confidential clerk to Postmaster-General Payne, chairman of the committee which awards all postoffice contracts for the Postmaster-General, and vice-president of the National Capitol Copper Mining Company, of which August M. Machen is president.

Because of the delicacy of the investigation of the confidential clerk of the Postmaster-General, Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General Bristow has heretofore refrained from going into what might be regarded as an inquiry into the affairs of the Postmaster-General himself, but Gen. Payne said today it was his wish that Bristow should probe the scandals which implicated Rand to the bottom. Moreover, Payne himself will make a thorough examination of Rand's relations with Machen, Lorenz and others.

Payne is not prepared to believe that anything discreditable to Rand will result from this investigation. He has the utmost confidence in Rand, whom he has known for years, and whom he brought here from Milwaukee with him.

WAR VESSELS TO CHILE.

SOCIALISTS ACTIVE THERE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Upon the receipt of a report from American agents in Chile to the effect that the situation at Valparaiso is unsatisfactory, owing to the recent Socialist disturbances there, the State Department this afternoon requested the Navy Department to dispatch a ship to that point in order that American interests may be fully protected in the event of an emergency. The Navy Department at first thought of sending the entire Pacific squadron from San Francisco, but as Rear-Admiral Glass has just brought his ships to California waters for repairs, it was decided to order Rear-Admiral Sumner, commanding the North Atlantic station, to proceed at once with his squadron, now at Montevideo, through the straits to Valparaiso. Cable orders to this effect were sent Admiral Sumner this afternoon.

Orders also were telegraphed to Admiral Glass to be ready for sea, and in the event that Admiral Sumner's fleet gets under way at once, the Pacific squadron may be ordered to Chilean waters in its stead. Rear-Admiral Sumner's fleet consists of the protected cruiser Newark, flagship; protected cruiser Detroit and the gunboats Gloucester and Montgomery.

PHILIPPINE RELIEF.

TAFT REPLIES TO MILES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The War Department today made public a report received from Gov. Taft replying to statements made by Lieut.-Gen. Miles after his visit to the islands last year. The report is dated at Benquit, April 18, and says:

"I am in receipt, by reference from the Chief of the Bureau of Insular Affairs and the Ajutant-General of the army, of an excerpt from the report of the Lieutenant-General of the Army, relating to the conditions of agriculture in the archipelago, and the means of avoiding a probable famine, and in accordance with the direction in the reference I have the honor to make the following comment:

"That there is a shortage in the islands of the usual supply is undoubtedly true, but I have been surprised to find thus far how little famine and hunger there is. I have not received a single call from a single provincial governor for rice for free distribution in the entire archipelago. In the province of Batangas, Capt. Broughton, in managing the so-called war famine fund, the history of which has been already officially reported to you, has made a very small gratuitous distribution of rice, not exceeding, I should think, in quanity more than $2000 worth. The action of the commission in directing a proclamation by the civil governor calling upon the people everywhere to plant corn, camotes or sweet potatoes, rice and other quick-growing food products had a very wide influence in stirring up the people to provide against the coming of famine. It is true that an unexampled drought in the islands has prevented the planting from being as productive as it otherwise would have been, and that the locusts, too, have been interfering with some of the crops but on the whole I have been greatly surprised to find the suffering so much less than we expected it to be in May, June and July. We may have calls for aid, but we will be able to promptly respond to them, especially now that $3,000,000 has been appropriated for them.

"The most serious feature of the situation is the loss of the cattle from rinderpest. It is not feasible to bring cattle into the islands without making sure that they will not catch this disease after coming here and die from it. The fields of the islands are affected with rinderpest, so that if cattle be brought here they are almost sure to have it. It is almost necessary, therefore, that all cattle brought here shall be immunized, having a serum injected into their veins which will render them immune for three or four months and at the same time by being inoculated with the rinderpest virus, which renders them immune at least for five years, and probably longer. We have made a contract for 10,000 carabaoes in the islands after the permanent immunization. These are to be brought from China. Our insular purchasing agent, together with a cattle expert of the Agricultural Bureau, is now visiting the various ports of the Orient with a view to making further contracts.

"I am unable to see that the government transports could be made useful to us, either in the transportation of rice or cattle. We can charter steamers adapted to our purpose at perhaps one-quarter or one-fifth the cost of operating the transports as proposed by the lieutenant-general. We have a number of coast-guard vessels which can transport rice quickly to any part of the archipelago, and we can purchase rice in the Orient at a much cheaper price than we can bring corn or wheat from the United States. The rice which we can thus bring to save the people from starvation is the food which they are used to eating, whereas they would have to be taught to eat wheat.

"It is exceedingly important that we shall not pauperize the people of these islands by unnecessary gratuitous distribution of rice. In anticipation of a corner in rice, we made a purchase of rice involving the expenditure of about $800,000 gold. We succeeded in breaking the corner and keeping down the price of rice, and should the price of rice advance again we may have to do the same thing. We have sold the rice in various parts of the archipelago nearly at cost whenever the merchants in that neighborhood insisted on increasing the price beyond what was reasonable. We have on hand some 58,000 piculs of Bangkok rice, which is the best in the market, and we have recently disposed of 100,000 piculs of what is called Calcutta superior family rice, to be sold throughout the archipelago at a moderate price, which was named in the contract of sale. If more than the rice we have on hand is needed for the purpose of feeding starving people, we shall be able to buy it in the market and distribute it without the use of government transports.

"The purchase of cattle and the landing of them on the islands are threatened with the greatest difficulty, for the reasons I have stated. We cannot hope to bring into the islands as many cattle as have died. We can only hope to bring in a sufficient number to keep agriculture going. The price at which we have contracted for the purchase of the first 10,000 is $88 Mexican, delivered in Manila, completely immunized. We hope to be able to make purchases of our own at a somewhat lower price, though hardly less than $80, Mexican. If we are able to sell the carabao in the provinces at Mexican money, it will be a great boon to the people, especially if we do not require a deposit of more than 50 per cent. of the cost price, and allow a credit of six months for the payment of the balance.

"I think, generally stating, the facts in the report of the Lieutenant-General are correct, so far at least as the dreadful depression in agriculture by reason of the loss of cattle is concerned. The remedy which he suggested by the use of the government transports, however, I do not concur in. Danger from famine has not been as significant as I supposed it was. In any event, with the funds provided by Congress now, I feel confident that the Philippine government is in a position to meet any emergency of this kind which may arise."

WATERLOO FOR JOEY.

British Colonial Secretary May Find It Advisable to Resign.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Daily News, a Radical organ, declares that some powerful members of Chamberlain's own party believe that he will submit his resignation to the King after the Cabinet Council, which is to be held this afternoon, prior to the opening of debate.

MINISTERS AGAINST HIM.

[NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, June 8.—A Cabinet Council was summoned this afternoon to consider the situation. It is understood that the ministers took exception to Chamberlain's letter to a workingman, published yesterday, which is regarded as definitely committing the Colonial Secretary to the policy he enunciated, thus going far beyond Premier Balfour's position, as revealed in his speech prior to the adjournment of the House, which only committed him to an academic discussion on the subject of the preferential duties. There is no doubt that the situation is extremely tense.

CONGER'S PROTEST.

CAUTION IN HANDLING IT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Minister Conger's protest against Count Cassini's published interview concerning the Russian occupation of Manchuria has reached the State Department. The department officials suspect that Minister Conger has perhaps seen a version of the interview so closely abbreviated as to convey an erroneous impression as to what the Ambassador really said, and they are disposed to move slowly in forwarding the protest.

DIPLOMATIC DESIGNATIONS.

LUXEMBURG GETS MINISTER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 8.—John D. Jackson, at present American Minister to Greece, Roumania and Servia, has also been designated American diplomatic agent to Bulgaria. He replaces in that capacity Consul-General Dickinson of Constantinople, as the change is made as an outcome of the case of Miss Stone, when the Bulgarian government declined to receive a diplomatic agent, who was also Minister to Turkey.

Sanford Newell, at present American Minister to the Netherlands, has also been made Minister to Luxemburg. This is a new post, and Luxemburg, having asserted its independence of the other German States diplomatically, the American Ambassador at Berlin finds it outside of his jurisdiction.

Turns Down Venezuela.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Having been notified by the United States Consul at the Venezuelan ports recently closed by President Castro of that action, the State Department has given instructions that this decree is to be disregarded where it interferes with American commerce, except in places where the government is actually in possession of the port sought to be closed. These instructions are in line with the department's course in all similar cases.

MILLIONAIRE SWIFT CRUELLY USED HIS WIFE.

SHE IS GRANTED A DIVORCE AND HEAVY ALIMONY.

Although Defendant Filed an Answer to His Wife's Bill When the Case Was Called He Allowed Judgment to be Entered by Default.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Allegations of cruelty against Charles H. Swift, son of the late packer Gustavus H. Swift, freed Mrs. Lutie M. Swift from her marriage vows in Judge Gibbons' court today. The defendant, although he had previously filed an answer to his wife's bill, allowed the case to go by default, and Judge Gibbons, after hearing Mrs. Swift tell of blows received from the fist of her husband, entered the decree, and ordered the defendant to pay $400 a month alimony during her life.

The couple married on June 27, 1894. Mrs. Swift set the date of the first time her husband struck her as November 1, 1901, and mentioned other instances of cruelty occuring March 1 and March 10, following. The bill, however, was not filed till April 4, 1903, just after the death of her father-in-law, G. H. Swift, and it is said Mrs. Swift delayed appealing to the courts during her father-in-law's life because of her veneration for him. The order of the court provides that in the event of Swift dying before his divorced wife, alimony shall be continued out of his estate. In accepting the alimony ordered, Mrs. Swift agreed to relinquish all claims on her husband's estate.

STEEL TRUST EARNINGS.

This Quarter's Will Equal Those of Banner Quarter of Last Year—Record Oders an Argument for Prosperity.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The earnings of the United States Steel Corporation for three months ending June 30 will be entirely satisfactory to the stockholders, and the record orders on hand will be a bull argument concerning prosperity. During 1902 this was the banner quarter, and the record for monthly net earnings was established in May of last year, it being $12,120,930. The total for the quarter was $37,662,658, as compared with $26,363,849 for the same quarter in 1901, which was the first of the corporation's existence.

It is possible that no new monthly record will be established this quarter, but the total will be as much, at least, as that of last year. The floods in the West are favorable to the United States Steel Corporation, at least, and its rail and bridge departments are likely to be choked with orders on account of the damage done to bridges and railroads. Orders on this account have been placed already.

The next statement of earnings by the Steel Corporation will be made July 7. Dividends will be declared at that time.

FORMER WIFE KILLED HIM.

BUTTE (Mont.) June 8.—Mrs. Lee Brown of Powderville surrendered herself to the Sheriff today, saying that she had shot and killed Dick Standifer yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Brown was formerly the wife of Standifer, but had been divorced. Standifer, she alleges, had knocked her down and was attempting to kill her when she shot him.

HOOSIERS GASLESS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS, June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Indianapolis Natural Gas Company carried out its threat this morning, and shut off the gas from its mains, leaving 5000 domestic users without fuel, and putting them to all sorts of shifts to get breakfast. The action is the result of the Council's refusal to pass an ordinance installing the meter system.

INSURANCE MAN IRRESPONSIBLE

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WAUKEGAN (Ill.) June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Judge Jones today decided that Granger Smith, for many years prominent in Chicago insurance circles, is mentally irresponsible, and appointed Mrs. Smith as conservator of the estate, which consists of a considerable amount of realty in Lake county. Smith, it is asserted, has several times attempted to end his life, and a constant watch is kept over him.

TYRANNY OF AGGREGATIONS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HOPKINTON (Iowa) June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gov. Cummins, in an address to the students of Lenox College today, said: "We behold an unprecedented association of wealth. We have recognized and I recognize its necessity, but we never dreamed of its power. Association is necessary, but the excesses of its power must be controlled, prohibited, or there shall be commercial slavery at the end of the path. We witness great aggregation of men—so I say of labor organizations, they are necessary, but it is easy for me and for you to see that they can become so tyrannical that nothing but riot and revolution can result."

ASSETS HAVE DWINDLED.

Heavy Losses of Banks in Eppinger Failure.

Warehouse Receipts for Far More Grain than Found.

Murderer Walkerez Caught. Perkey Will Not Retire. After Highbinders.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—The Chronicle tomorrow will say that the Eppinger failure, which is now declared to be the inevitable result of about five years of unwise investments, is more sweeping in its result than was at first supposed. It is now known that the liabilities will approximate $1,372,000. There is only about [illegible] worth of property with which to pay this, and $400,000 of it is represented by 20,000 acres of land, on which the London, Paris and American Bank holds the mortgages, leaving but about [illegible] in warehouses, stores and grain to satisfy claims of nearly $1,000,000. The absolute loss with no possible payment will be approximately $750,000. The Eppingers will be left practically penniless, and four San Francisco banks and three country banks will have to bear the combined loss of [illegible].

There is more than a suspicion that the firm issued receipts for much more grain than was stored in the warehouses, and then secured large loans on these receipts as security.

Three banks have already laid legal claim to what grain there is in the Port Costa warehouse, resulting in [illegible] and conflicting possession of the property. These banks are the Nevada National and American National of San Francisco, and the Bank of Monterey. The company has out as security receipts for 22,000 tons of grain in the Port Costa warehouse, while only 4500 tons are really there.

The committee appointed by the creditors today to handle the affairs of Eppinger & Co. is as follows: Sigmund Greenebaum, representing the London, Paris and American Bank; Ignatz Steinhart, representing the Anglo-Californian Bank; W. P. Harrington, representing the Yolo Bank, Colusa County Bank and the Bank of Woodland; Frederick E. Lippman, representing Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Bank; David Freidenreich, representing the London and San Francisco Bank, and Isaac Cohen, a local capitalist.

SCRAMBLE OF CREDITORS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MARTINEZ, June 8.—As the result of a replevin suit commenced in San Francisco by the Nevada National Bank against the Pacific Coast Warehouse Company and Eppinger & Co. to recover $50,000 loaned on wheat in the shape of warehouse receipts, Sheriff Veale served the papers and took possession of 5,153,616 pounds of barley and 1,[illegible],416 pounds of wheat now in the warehouse at Crockett. He has installed a keeper. Ahead of the Nevada Bank, however is the Bank of Monterey and the American National Bank of San Francisco. They have put in as keeper Chief Grain Inspector Gross of the Merchants' Exchange. As a result there is not enough grain left to satisfy what the warehouse receipts call for and many of the sacks have been stamped by three different banks, who claim title to the same. Mr. Gross has now taken possession of the warehouse in the name of the Pacific Coast Warehouse Company. Matters are in such a tangle that the ownership of the grain still there will not be determined until the courts pass upon the question.

SWAN-TALBOT CASES.

PIRKEY TO TRY THEM.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WILLOWS, June 8.—In the suits of Swan vs. Talbot, involving $136,000, Superior Judge Pirkey this morning denied the motion of defendant's attorneys requesting that another judge be called. In his decision the judge disclaimed any feeling of bias or prejudice against the attorneys, as alleged. He said that the calling of another judge would mean a big expense to the county.

The defendant's attorneys filed a bill of exceptions, which will be settled Wednesday, and the first suit will come up next week.

ACCUSED OF MURDER.

HEADS OF CHINESE TONGS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—The [illegible] Chinese presidents of highbinder tongs, who were accused of conspiracy to murder, and who were awaiting a hearing upon that charge, were today arrested on fresh warrants accusing them of murder. The conspiracy charge was postponed.

They are charged with the murder of Tom Wick, a member of the Educational Society, on the night of May [illegible]. This crime was presumed to be the result of a conspiracy of the various tong presidents to rid themselves of objectionable Chinese, who were suspected of giving information relative to Chinese gambling.

THRILL ON MT. HAMILTON.

AUTOMOBILE HELD UP.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE, June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Far up the Mount Hamilton road where the highway winds around the sloping mountainside, there occurred, Saturday, an incident thrilling enough to serve in an up-to-date novel. The daily stage from this city, in charge of Fred Ross, and containing a number of passengers, was making the steep ascent, when suddenly there swept around the curve ahead, a puffing, tooting "red devil" of an automobile, enveloped in a cloud of dust and coasting down the road at thirty miles an hour. The unexpected appearance of the machine and its rapid race frightened the stage team, and the driver signalled to the autoneer to slacken his speed. Paying no attention to the stage or its occupants, the man at the wheen came straight on toward them.

A serious collision appeared imminent, when a lanky tourist, seated on the seat with the driver, sprang to the ground and ran up the road ahead of the horses. With a revolver pointed at the goggle-eyed automobilist, he repeated the order to slow up, and the machine came to a standstill.

Chief Hodgkins received information last Saturday that Walkerez had passed between San José and Gilroy. He appeared to be very tired and was traveling slowly. WIDENER'S DIAMONDS.

Left Them in London Hotel and Did Not Know it Until Customs Officers Questioned Him.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, June 8.—George D. Widener, prominent in financial circles in Philadelphia and a son of the traction magnate has just returned from Europe with his family. When he reached the pier an official of the Treasury Department, asked him the meaning of a cablegram from the other side, which stated that the financier had purchased a considerable number of diamonds of value.

The interrogation was made because no purchases of diamonds were mentioned in the declaration of baggage made by Widener to the customs officials, who boarded the ship at quarantine. A consultation over the matter resulted in the discovery that Widener had left a valuable lot of jewels in the rooms of a London hotel. They had been forgotten in the haste of packing. Cable messages were hurriedly sent to the management of the hotel, in an effort to recover the valuables.

BALTIMORE BANK FAILS.

It is stated that the liabilities are $500,000, assets about the same. The suspended company did a banking and storage business.

MASSACRE IN RUSSIA FURNISHES TEXT FOR ZIONISTS.

Meeting of the American Federation Receives Greetings from Herzl, Nordau and Zangwill—In Palestine is Hope and Refuge for Persecuted Jews.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PITTSBURGH, June 9.—The consideration of amended constitution of the American Federation of Zionists occupied nearly all of today's first session. Greetings from eminent Jews of the world were received and read at the convention. This telegram from Vienna was sent by Dr. Herzl:

"To the Zionist convention, Pittsburgh: The situation of our Russian brethren is very serious, and calls for our most earnest attention. A great immigration from Russia is to be extended. We shall bring to the Basle Congress a programme which, we believe, will help our people. With Zionist greeting.

[Signed] "HERZL."

From Baritz came these words of Dr. Max Nordau:

"I trust you will continue to develop into a power to the honor of American Jewery, and to the benefit of the Jewish people, whose position in the world is more appalling than it has been at any moment in the last century. The name of Kishineff, written with letters of blood and fire in the martyrology of Israel, is sufficient, by itself to bear out this statement. It shows that for our people there is no such thing as progress. For us, history has not moved onward by one step for the last 800 years. We are still in the fearful period of the crusader when the pious warriors of the cross trained themselves to their heroic work by the wholesale slaughter of Jews, and the looting of defenseless ghettos. It shows also that Zionism is the only way to lead our miserable breathren in Russia, and elsewhere, out of their present hell. I would despair of Judaism and of humanity as well, if the free and happy Jews of America were to turn a deaf ear to the blood-curdling tale of Kishineff."

Israel Zangwill sent the following message:

"Greeting to the Pittsburgh convention: The Kishineff massacre has brought home to the blindest the need of publicly and legally safeguarded homes for our unhappy race. When you come to consider where this centralized home should be you will find no place as practicable as Palestine, or at least for a start, its neighborhood.

"May the strenuous town of fire and steel in which you meet inspire you to build a great bridge over which Israel shall pass to his ancient home and his glorious future."

PROPOSES PROTEST TO CZAR.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, June 8.—At an enthusiastic meeting in the Temple Beth-El, the Rev. Dr. G. C. Lorimer has proposed that a committee of twenty, composed of both Jews and Gentiles, be selected in the United States and sent to Russia to wait on the Czar and "protest against the massacres at Kishineff, in the name of God and humanity."

"I propose that we appoint a committee new," said Dr. Lorimer, "to join other committees elected at mass meetings throughout the United States, which in turn will elect a committee of twenty composed of eminent men, both Jews and Gentiles, to go to Russia and if possible see the Czar and protest in the name of God and humanity against these outrages. They may not be able to meet the Czar personally, although I know of eminent men whom I believe could obtain an audience."

Notwithstanding the enthusiasm aroused nothing definite toward forming a committee was done.

Dr. Lorimer declared that it was most important this committee be formed at once, whereupon M. S. Stern, Grand Master of the United States Independent Order of the Free Sons of Israel, under whose auspices the meeting was held, announced that at the next meeting of the executive board. Dr. Lorimer's proposal would be laid before the Grand Lodge for immediate action.

Several speakers coincided with Dr. Lorimer.

Samuel Berg, who says he shot and killed Marshal McLaughlin at Mountain Iron, Minn., has surrendered to the authorities. He is fatally wounded, having been shot by McLaughlin before the latter was killed.

FLASHES FROM THE WIRES.

A collision occurred Sunday night between street cars running between St. Louis and Creve Cour Lake, and fifteen passengers were severely shaken up and bruised. The cap of a motorman blew off, he stopped his car and backed up to secure his cap, when a car dashed around a curve from behind and plunged into the first car.

A syndicate of Boston and Halifax capitalists has purchased for $250,000 the Canada Atlantic and Plant line steamer Halifax, together with the wharf property at Halifax, the leases of the wharf property at Hawkesbury, N. S., and at Charlottetown, P. E. I., and the charter of the steamer Olivette.

Policeman John McGovern of New York was shot twice and dangerously wounded while attempting to arrest a man who was acting suspiciously in the street.

PAPER MILL STRIKE.

HOLYOKE (Mass.) June 8.—The employés in the finishing rooms in all the coarse paper mills here struck today because of dissatisfaction with the schedule presented by the American Writing Paper Company. The strike was inaugurated by the cutter girls of the Nontuck division. About eight hundred are on strike. The cutter girls were granted an advance of 10 cents. They asked for 35 cents. There are about four thousand employés in all the mills.

The strike affects the George R. Dickinson, Nontuck, Albion, Wauregan, Crocker, George C. Gill and Mount Tom divisions of the American Writing Paper Company and the Chemical Paper Company. President Mackey of the International Brotherhood of Paper Makers, who is in Watertown, N. Y., has been telegraphed for, and he will come to Holyoke at once. It is feared the strike will spread.

EX-CHIEF DEVERY'S POLITICS.

NEW YORK, June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ex-Chief Devery was the star attraction at tonight's ball of the Bartenders' Union. "Union" was Devery's theme.

"You must grip this facts," he thundered from the improvised speaker's stand in the gallery, "in union there is a heap of strength. Why, it only took three men to free Switzerland. They agreed to do it, and they done it."

Warning bartenders not to mistake the spirit of their organization, Devery remarked: "You must not think you belong to a union to jolly customers along and get money out of their clothes."

Outlining his theory of what the labor-union vote could do to reigning political grafters and highbinders, Devery contended that the late Henry George should rightfully have ruled this city as its Mayor.

"He was elected," he shouted. "I know he was, but they counted him out."

BIALYSTOK OUTRAGES.

They Equal in Some Respects the Riots at Kishineff—Jewish Residences and Shops Gutted by the Townspeople.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Abraham Gruenfeld, a Jewish refugee who arrived here today from Bialystok, Russian Poland, describes the recent anti-Semite outrages in that city as equaling in some of the details the riots at Kishineff, although the Bialystok outbreak was not attended with loss of life. The mob, Gruenfeld says, forced an entrance to the Jews' houses, pitched out their furniture and set fire to it in the streets. One hundred and fifty-five houses and eighty-four shops were looted. The mob seized Rabbi Kohen, shaved one-half of his head, and led him through the streets dressed as a clown. The populace mocked the Rabbi, spat upon him and cursed his race. A prominent Hebrew, Solomon Landau, was compelled to abjure the Jewish faith in the public market on pain of death.

Gruenfeld asserts that the police, previous to the outbreak, went around asking when the Gentiles meant to imitate the Kishineff outbreak and exterminate what they called the "Jewish vermin."

GOITRE?

Victims are to be pitied. Neck swollen; face congested; eyes protruding, dull and heavy. To such we offer hope! Many cases have been cured by the use of the Thermo Ozone Generator. No pain, no knife used.

Mr. A. M. McGuffin, Nola, Va., writes: "The treatment has reduced the goitre three inches in six weeks. It was hard when treatment was commenced, now it is soft and flabby.

Dr. Foster of Clifton Springs, N. Y., sent a Generator to one of his patients for exophthalmic goitre; her recovery was rapid, surprising and complete.

Dr. Sparhawk of St. Johnsburg, Vt., writes: "I have met with surprising success in treating cancers by the Generator, and have also removed a goitre by its use."

Now since we offer a month's trial of the Generator for only $4, why delay? You who read this advertisement, and know of people afflicted so heavily, why not call their attention to so fair an offer? Don't be selfish in your abundance of health.

All $25.00 Tailored Suits $17.50.

Dainty White Suits $9.00

We have shirt waist suits—and pretty ones—even much lower than this. But most women are quite willing to pay $9.00 for a shirt waist suit, providing the style and material pleases them. This comes in white linen. Could anything be more desirable? The waist and skirt are handsomely tucked and trimmed with Cluny lace. There's a trim and stylish air about them that is most becoming and fetching.

MISSOURI AND KAW.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

KANSAS CITY, June 8.—The Missouri River has fallen a foot since 6 o'clock last night, the government gauge at 10 o'clock marking 25.1 feet, and a similar fall of the Kaw is noted. WASHINGTON BULLETIN.

GENERAL FLOOD WARNINGS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The Missouri River is falling except over its extreme lower portion, and the Mississippi is also falling north of Hannibal. At St. Louis this morning the stage was 37.5, a rise since Sunday morning of 1.7 feet. The stage at Cairo was 41.1 feet, a rise of 1.5 feet since Sunday morning. The river at St. Louis will probably come to a standstill during Monday, in the neighborhood of 38 feet, but will continue to rise below.

General flood warnings have also been issued for the rivers of South Carolina and the James River of Virginia.

SPARTANBURG'S DEAD.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

ATLANTA (Ga.) June 8.—The Journal's staff correspondent at Spartanburg estimates the casualty list in the entire flooded district at forty known dead, with a large number still missing. Taking into consideration all those unaccounted for, the Journal computes the number of killed at between fifty and sixty.

SOUTH CAROLINA VICTIMS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

CHARLOTTE (N. C.) June 8.—Reports today increase the death list from the flooded mill districts of South Carolina. Sixty people are also said to be missing. Estimates made today place the total loss at Clifton and Pacolet at $2,500,000 or $3,000,000. The loss to the country and to private property will probably be increased to the same amount.

ZENITH IS REACHED AND RIVER FALLS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

ST. LOUIS, June 8.—The crest of the flood has been reached, and the river is falling. At [illegible]:30 o'clock the gage registered 37.1 feet, indicating a fall of four-one hundredths of a foot since 7 o'clock this evening. Reports from along the river indicate that it is falling. The high-water mark of the flood of 1893, as established at St. Louis, is 37.5 feet.

The situation is appalling. The climax came last night, when, by the breaking of a levee near Granite City, a wall of water six feet high rushed down upon Madison and more deeply engulfed the already stricken city, sweeping houses from their foundations and drowning fifteen people who were vainly fleeing for their lives. Hundreds of persons were forced to the roofs of their floating houses, and an appeal was sent to St. Louis for assistance. Every effort was made to force steamers against the heavy current four miles north of the stricken town, but it was noon before the steamers Mark Twain and Annie Russell, lashed together and their engines working under every ounce of steam after hours of battling with the current, were able to reach Madison.

For the balance of the day and far into the night, the work of rescuing refugees from floating or flooded houses, treetops and various high places proceeded, and there being no place to take them nearer than St. Louis, they are now pouring into the city by the hundreds, weak, hungry, and despairing. It is probable that the estimate of twenty lives lost is far below the actual number.

Throughout the entire flooded district, men with riot guns are patroling the levees to prevent pillaging, and anxious to try their marksmanship on some possible river thieves, caught in the act, but the thieves pillage houses situated far from the levees, where they are safe from detection.

An Associated Press reporter visited East St. Louis today, and the situation there is desperate. Mayor Cook had issued a proclamation ordering all business suspended and calling upon every citizen to lay aside his employment and render service in preventing the inundation of the city.

The Mayor went about seeing that signs were posted offering men 31 cents an hour to help build the levees, but the offers of employment were ignored by the majority of the throngs of unemployed negroes and white workmen who stood idly about. The situation was getting so desperate that for a time it seemed possible that men might be forced to work at the point of the rifle.

Citizens hurried to the work of saving the city, and the inspiration spread until idle workmen joined the throngs on the levees, and the sandbags were piled higher and higher as fast as freight cars could bring them. Tonight the city is still dry, but still menaced by flood.

The Merchants' Exchange has raised a flood relief fund of $7000. Of this amount $1000 has been sent to Topeka and Kansas City, Kan. The remaining $6000 will be used in relieving suffering in this vicinity.

VATICAN'S DILEMMA.

Projected Visit of President Loubet to King of Italy is the Cause of Much Tribulation.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

ROME, June 8.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The official announcement of King Victor Emmanuel's visit to Paris and President Loubet's return visit, although foreseen, has produced considerable impression at the Vatican, as President Loubet will be the first ruler of a Catholic country to visit Rome officially since the fall of the temporal power. By the exercise of all kinds of pressure the Holy See has prevented Catholic rulers from visiting the Quirinal. President Loubet will be the first to break this rule, and the question how the Vatican will treat him, especially in view of the present situation in France regarding the religious orders is keenly discussed.

There are two currents of feeling at the Vatican. The uncompromising element insists that the President shall be refused admittance to the Vatican, while the conciliatory section wishes to find a way to arrange the matter, arguing that the prohibition to come to Rome is only for Catholic sovereigns, not for Presidents of republics, who, although ruling Catholic countries, may themselves be non-Catholics. The visit of the King of Italy to Paris is considered as a great success for the French Ambassador at Rome, to whose diplomatic ability it was principally due.

Interesting Tests of Timber.

BERKELEY, June 8.—A series of experiments are now being carried on in the civil engineering laboratory of the University of California, that are unique in the history of practical engineering in the United States. Under the direction of W. K. Hatt of the Bureau of Forestry of the United States Department of Agriculture, a great number of tests are being made to determine the exact strength of various kinds of timber that are used in the Pacific Coast. Timber testing has been done, of course, by engineers on previous occasions, but never before has an attempt been made to solve the problem on a comprehensive scale.

LABOR.

UNION RANKS SPLIT OPEN.

Great New York Strike is Near Dissolution.

Chief Agitator Parks is Under Arrest for Extortion.

San Francisco Can Makers Out. Clark may be Successor to Wright.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Heart's American, which is the avowed champion of organized labor in New York, and throughout the East, admits tonight that unionism as received the greatest blow in its history late this evening, when sixteen members of the committee of the building trades selected to settle the strike of the whole trouble. The sixteen who gust, after the committee by a vote of 22 to 16 refused to expel the Teamsters' Union, which is at the bottom of the whole trouble. The 16 who withdrew represent the electricians and other high-class mechanical trades.

The split followed a bitter controversy and the unions admit the withdrawal is a great blow to their cause, and fear the split is permanent. The men who withdrew represented the highest paid skilled labor in the city.

Another sensation in the great fight which has tied up $200,000,000 in capital for over a month, occurred when the notorious walking delegate Sam Parks was arrested on complaint of the president of the Hecla Iron Works, charging him with extortion. Parks admits receiving $2000 from the Hecla works to settle the strike of a year ago, but declares he disbursed the money among strikers for losses suffered during the time they were out. Dist.-Atty. Jerome declares that this is only one of many similar schemes in which Parks has been involved. He says Parks received $4800 from a big company and $5000 from the subway people for settling strikes and has large deposits in the savings banks while posing as a champion of downtrodden labor. He asked that Parks be required to furnish heavy bail and the amount was fixed at $5000. Heads of great industries in New York now openly admit "doing business" with Parks in the past as the cheapest way out of labor difficulties.

The keystone to the present situation is the overthrow of the walking delegate. "It is a bitter pill for the union to swallow," said a leading member of the Building Trades' Employers' Association tonight, "but the walking delegate must go. He has made himself a nuisance and a menace, and we will tolerate him no longer. This man Parks has caused no less than 5000 strikes in New York, since his arrival seven years ago, and brags he never lost one of them. He is now to be shown up and I believe the result will be the end of the walking delegate and settlement of labor troubles in this city for years to come."

WRIGHT'S SUCCESSOR.

CLARK STANDS GOOD CHANCE.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There is now a strong probability that E. E. Clark, the railway conductor, who served so acceptably to his colleagues on the Anthracite Strike Commision, and who was afterward slated for Assistant Secretary of Commerce, may be shifted to the head of the Bureau of Labor. It is very well known that Carroll D. Wright, who is to leave that bureau soon to assume his new duties as principal of the Collegiate School at Worcester, Mass., would like to be succeeded by Clark, whom he regards as singularly well adapted to the executive management of the bureau. The president knows this, and is very likely to be guided by Col. Wright's advice.

The head of bureau will have more of an opportunity to do independent work, and show what is in him than an assistant secretary, who will be at best chiefly an understudy to the secretary and clothed with only occasional passing responsibility.

STRIKERS YIELDING.

SITUATION IN OMAHA.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

OMAHA (Neb.) June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It begins to look as if the building trades strike might be settled by arbitration. A conference between the strikers and employers is in progress. If an adjustment is made the employers say the only concession they will make is as to wages. In so much as the strikers see they have lost ground from the start, the chances are they will return to work on almost any fair basis, which is all the employers ask.

The striking Union Pacific blacksmiths and the company have settled their trouble, and all the men still in town will return to work immediately. They got a slight increase in wages and piece work was abandoned as a compulsory provision, but those who desire may work on that plan. The non-union blacksmiths now in the shops can remain, and a guarantee has been given by returning strikers that they will not be interfered with.

CAN MAKERS OUT.

WANT HIGHER WAGES.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—Over 1100 employés of the American Can Company went on strike this morning. The walk-out was due to differences between the Can Makers' Union and the company relative to the demand of the employés for increased wages and shorter hours.

The employés, many of whom are boys and girls, reported for work this morning as usual. At 9 o'clock they were called out by the union officials.

It is stated that Manager Phelps, representing the company, wishes to have the differences submitted to arbitration, but the union officials say there is nothing in the matter which is a proper subject for arbitration. They claim that the can makers are not paid wages in proportion to the work done, and that the increased cost of living, and rents, have made it imperative for them to get more money for their labor.

One hundred and eighty members of the Burlap and Cotton Bag Workers' Union decided to go on strike this morning to enforce a demand for a 10 per cent. increase of wages. The concerns whose help will quit work are Ames & Harris, the Gulf Bag Company and the California Bag Company. It is said that the officers of these factories have refused to discuss the demands of the union, and have told the executive officers of the Labor Council that they would not concede anything in the way of additional pay.

Boiler Makers Out.

DETROIT (Mich.) June 8.—The boiler makers and boiler makers' helpers of this city went on strike today to enforce a demand for recognition of the union and an increase of wages. Over 700 men are out.

FOG MUCH TOO DENSE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

HIGHLANDS (N. J.) June 8.—Fog hung heavily over the Sandy Hook course this morning where the yachts, Reliance, Constitution and Columbia were to meet today in further contest for the honor of defending the America's cup, and the race was called off. Rain had fallen all night.

The contest had been awaited with more than the usual interest, because if the Reliance again defeats her adversaries there will be few who will not concede that she will be the cup's defender. Her superiority in the quieter waters of the Sound and the lighter airs has been established. Today's event was to be in the same waters in which the international races will be held, and whether the Reliance would act as well in the rougher water was the interesting question.

The rules will allow the quarter-back in the same section of the field to run with the ball, provided he cross the line of scrimmage at least five yards from where it is put into play.

WON ON A FOUL.

SULLIVAN VS. RYAN.

After eleven rounds of hard fighting in San Pedro last night, "Kid" Sullivan of San Francisco was given the decision over Tom J. Ryan of New York on a foul. R. G. Cuthbertson refereed the bout, which was to have gone the twenty-round limit. Several times Ryan struck Sullivan below the belt, but it was brushed over until the eleventh round, when the blow was fiercely dealt the latter in plain sight of the audience. A roar was sent up immediately, and the referee decided the go in Sullivan's favor.

Preceding the main event were two preliminaries. "Denver Kid" put "Kid" Glover out in four rounds, while "Kid" Spikerd and Ed Conklin fought four rounds to a draw.

There was a large crowd and up to the tenth round of the main event the betting was pretty evenly divided, with few odds on either side. The contestants started out briskly from the jump, each doing good work. Ryan played on Sullivan's wind all the while, but the smaller man showed no signs of weakneess and was always up to the scratch.

BAD MEN MAKING FOR THE BAD LANDS.

STRONG POSSE IN PURSUIT OF GLASGOW JAIL BREAKERS.

Fierce Battle in Which Many Are Likely to Fall is Expected if the Pursuers Should Succeed in Overtaking the Outlaws.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HAVRE (Mont.) June 8.—Later advices from Glasgow show the escaped prisoners to be William Hardee, condemned murderer, who was to have been hanged June 26; George Pierce, accused of murder; Harry Brown, gambler, doing time for assisting in Hardee's previous escape, and Fred McKenney, a short-term prisoner.

The bend in the river where the men were thought to be hiding, was raided by the posse early this morning, only to find that the desperadoes had made good their escape. Two horses were stolen from the Patton ranch, and it is supposed that the outlaws are riding double and making for the bad lands, where, armed as they are, they can stand off many men. Once there, capture is almost an impossibility, as the country is filled with men who are avoiding justice.

The posse of twenty-five men are hot on the trail, and fifty more left Glasgow this morning. At daylight two of the men thought to be Brown and Hardee, were seen near Milk River, going east, and riding hard on their jaded horses. Another day must elapse before the bloodhounds can be put on the trail, owing to delay in the train service.

The conditions have thus far been in favor of the outlaws, and it looks as if a long chase may be expected. Many of the posse are likely to go down before the deadly rifles of the desperate men before they can be taken or killed. Sheriff Buckley of Fort Benton and George Hall, United States inspector, have joined the posse, equipped with field glasses and heavy rifles. The manner in which the men slipped through the fingers of the patrol in the bend of the river shows them to be cunning and daring. There is strong talk of lynching should any of them be taken alive, which, however, is hardly probable.

LYNCHING FOLLOWS MURDER.

MACON (Ga.) June 8.—W. Cone Winslow, Jr., whose father was one of the leading members of the Georgia bar, was instantly killed by a negro named Banjo Peavy, on the former's farm near Fort Valley, this afternoon. The negro owed Winslow a small amount of money and was asked to work out the debt. He refused and shot Winslow through the head. Peavy was soon captured and turned over to the Sheriff. At 8:30 o'clock tonight the officer and guard were overpowered and the negro was hanged. His body was riddled with bullets.

RAIN ENDS LONG DROUTH.

BOSTON, June 8.—Rain and plenty of it tonight ended the fifty-days' drouth in Northern and Southern New England, and quenched most of the forest fires, which have turned vast areas into blackened wastes. The rain already has drenched the entire New England coast line.

Cotton Company's Complaint.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The Planters' Compress Company of Boston today filed a complaint with the Interstate Commerce Commission against a number of railways, alleging that round-bale cotton is discriminated against in foreign rates.

SAN LUIS OBISPO COUNTY.

HOT WEATHER INJURES GRAIN.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, June 8.—The warm weather of the past few days has proven very detrimental to the grain crop in portions of this county. In the Cholame Valley, and on the Carrisa Plains in the eastern part of the county, where the prospects were good for a fair yield of grain three weeks ago, all the barley and wheat will be cut for hay. On the coast side of the Santa Lucia Mountains the damage from the heat was not so great, and a good crop will be harvested.

American Derby Favorites.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Savahle, the candidate of John A. Drake of Chicago, and Irish Lad, the property of Harry Payne Whitney and Herman Duryea of New York, are running neck and neck as favorites for the American Derby.

BIG GUN EXPLODED.

NEWPORT NEWS (Va.) June 8.—While the new monitor Nevada was at target practice off the Cape this afternoon, an explosion of one of the big guns tore up the turret, inflicting considerable damage.

BUSINESS.

Over a million were the local bank clearings yesterday, reaching the sum of $1,102,597.46, as compared with $866,144.46 for the corresponding period of last year.

Stocks of corn and cotton carriers and of the coalers were subject to severe inroads at New York. Room traders checked the decline with bidding-up in the last hour. Heaving dealing in Atchison made it the most conspicuous of the stocks. Chicago grain markets, ruled by the weather, were weaker.

THE "DECEDENT" BUTCHERS' STRIKE.

The butchers' strike is dead. It is a sure-enough decedent. The Times said yesterday that it was death-struck, and the end came last night, much to the disappointment of the Biddle-Hay gang, who wanted to prolong it for reasons affecting their own pockets. Simon Maier, the boycotted butcher, said last night that the finish was very satisfactory to him. He did not recognize the Council of Labor, but made terms with his own men. Biddle and Hay may now sit down again and add the eighth failure to their list. They are the most conspicuously incompetent nincompoops that ever set up as labor managers. Their threat to bring about a "meat famine" has only intensified public contempt for them.

Too strong words cannot be used in commendation of the stand taken by the Retail Butchers' Association, which voted to stand solidly together against the aggressions of the Biddle-Hay gang and to support the boycotted meat dealer to the end of the chapter. They decided to buy more meat of him, instead of less. That is the way a boycott usually works. It is apparent that the retail butchers have had their eyes wide open to current events and were not at all disturbed by the impotent bluster of the gang. The threats of Hay, Biddle & Company have proven harmless in every instance. They haven't made a single killing. They are ridiculous specimens of absurd preposterosity, as well as fakes, frauds and bogie-men with the straw sticking out of their cracks. Huh!

MANHOOD VERSUS MONEY.

As recently stated by the Times, there seems to be something like an epidemic of defalcations and breaches of trust abroad in the land. We have had several instances of this, here in Los Angeles, of late, and similar happenings are reported all over the country. They are doubtless, in many cases, due to the stories published in the press of people who have suddenly acquired wealth, which lead others to try to emulate these examples, not always being particularly careful as to what means they employ. The public, also, is inclined to be too careless in distinguishing between real gold and gilded brass. A man will drift into a city, open up extensive offices, spend money freely, talk glibly, and within a few months he is regarded as one of our "prominent citizens." Then, one morning, the news appears in the papers that Mr. Blank has suddenly disappeared, leaving a large number of mourning creditors behind him.

At least nine-tenths of them go this way, sooner or later. The old saying that "honesty is the best policy" is as true today as when it was first enunciated. As we recently suggested, is it not about time to start a crusade under the motto, "Manhood Versus Money," as preached by Theodore Roosevelt? That would not be a bad rallying cry for the next Presidential campaign.

A REMARKABLE SERIES OF DISASTERS.

It is held by many persons that, for some occult reason, great disasters generally go in cycles. It must be confessed that some color is lent to the theory by the fact that a great accident is often followed by another, and another, and not infrequently by a third and a fourth, in rapid succession. This is doubtless mere coincidence, but the sequence is so often repeated that it sometimes looks very much like fatality, and it is not to be wondered at that people inclined to be superstitious very often regard it in that light.

The list of serious accidents during the month of May, 1903, was a formidable one, and the present month is keeping up the record of death and destruction in an appalling manner. In addition to the usual large list of minor accidents, there were many which approximated the proportions of a calamity, involving extensive losses of life and large destruction of property. The more serious of these are summarized below:

May 2—Explosion in the Thor manufacturing plant at Cleveland, O. Four killed and 27 injured, some fatally.

May 4—Grand Trunk flyer ran into a crowd of Polanders in Detroit. Fifteen killed and as many more injured seriously.

May 5—Clyde steamship Saginaw sunk in collision with the Norfolk off the Virginia coast. About twenty lives lost. American fishing schooner Gloriana wrecked on the Breton coast. Fifteen drowned.

May 7—Train crashed into a caboose at Dexter, on the Canadian Pacific, killing twelve men and dangerously injuring eight more.

May 17, 18 and 19—Disastrous storms in Montana. Ninety thousand head of stock on ranges perish. Loss upward of $5,000,000.

May 21—Cyclone near Ashland, Kan. Wide area of country laid waste and several lives lost.

May 22—Solomon Valley, Kan., swept by cyclone. Second and more severe cyclone near Ashland. Towns of Bala, Salina, Mulvane and Vermillion damaged. Numbers of people killed or injured.

May 23—Cyclone in Oklahoma. Village of Carmen wiped out. Damage at and near Watonga. Kaw City flooded. Several lives lost and heavy damage to property. Storms and floods in Nebraska, attended by several fatalities. Tornado at St. Charles and Luverne, Minn., with serious damage.

May 24—Cloudburst at Enid, Okla., causing $300,000 damage. Heavy storms at Oklahoma City, with $100,000 loss. Tornado at Foss, Okla., killing three persons, wounding many and causing heavy damage. Serious washouts in Kansas and Indian Territory.

May 25—Tornadoes in Nebraska. Twenty-one killed, many injured, and much damage done. The same storm visited portions of Iowa, carrying death and destruction.

May 26—Three tornadoes in Iowa, one at Glenwood, one near Buxton and one at South Des Moines. About a dozen lives lost, and many more injured, some fatally.

May 27—Town of Botna, Iowa, completely destroyed by a tornado. Many farmhouses wrecked. Damage and loss of life, also, at Creston, Gray and Marshalltown. Tornado at St. Elmo, Mo., eighteen killed. Heavy damage by tornadoes in Northern Ohio.

May 28—Earthquakes at Melazgherd, in Armenia. Two thousand lives lost. Town totally destroyed and heavy damages in surrounding country.

May 29—Damaging floods at Topeka, Kan. Ten thousand persons rendered homeless. Tornado at Strong City. Damages at Abilene amounting to $100,000. Serious floods and many deaths in Oklahoma. Also heavy flood damages in Nebraska, Minnesota and Colorado.

May 30—North Topeka, Kan., swept by flood and fire. Four hundred houses burned. One hundred and fifty to two hundred lives lost. Wreck on the Southern Pacific Coast line. Forty-five persons injured. Street-car collision in San Francisco, fifty persons injured. Six thousand people made homeless by flood at Des Moines, Iowa. Unprecedented damage at many other points along the Mississippi and Missouri rivers.

June 1—Terrible tornado at Gainesville, Ga. Loss of life about 150. Many seriously injured.

June 2—Steamer Ariquipa founders near Valparaiso. Sixty-three lives lost. Other vessels wrecked off Chilean coast, with loss of many lives.

June 4—Head-on collision at Stillwell, Kan. Seven persons killed and three injured.

June 6—Terrible cloudburst in South Carolina, twelve lives lost and heavy damage to property.

June 7—Steamship collision off Maire Islands in the Mediterranean. One hundred lives lost.

June 8—A dozen lives lost in the Mississippi floods. Highest water at St. Louis since 1844.

The mere fact that mobs of foolish and wicked men sometimes lynch negroes in the United States doesn't lessen Russia's responsibility in the Bessarabian riots, so far as can be seen from this distance. The world's opinion of Russia is not to be changed by that country's yelling at the United States: "Aw, g'wan; you're another."

Although Kansas has sustained losses by the recent floods to the amount of something like $17,000,000, it won't take these cheerful people more than six months to forget it, and the country to look as fine, in that length of time, as if nothing had happened. You can't keep a Kansan down.

The original team of Los Angeles baseball players is home again from a victorious campaign in the enemy's country, and will now proceed to drive a few more spikes in the staff that is attached to the pennant; or the fans in this part of the country would like to know the reason why not.

In order to be just a little more unique in its disasters than any other section of the country, New York has brought off a waterspout, which attacked an elevated-railroad train. We believe this takes the palm, and if there is heard no objection it will be handed over.

Radium, which was only the other day considered about the highest-priced thing out, now has to take a back seat for polonium, which costs a pot of money just for a smudge of it on paper. The most of us will try to worry along without a large stock of polonium.

Union Pacific boiler makers and machinists have returned to work, and they haven't as much money as they would have had, but they know more than they did previously. In some respects they resemble the beauty of the man who was kicked by a mule.

New York City hasn't had a flood, but it has sustained losses amounting to the tidy little sum of $25,000,000, by strikes, within the past season. There are times when it is nip and tuck between man and nature as to which can do the most damage.

But for the presence of troops it looks as if there might have been another assassination to record at Jackson, Ky., this morning. Sooner or later steps ought to be taken to annex Jackson to the United States.

AT THE THEATERS.

BURBANK. The Neill-Morosco company presents this week "Mrs. Dane's Defense," a four-act society drama, laid in England, by Henry Arthur Jones. This play deals with the old, old problem of the "woman with a past," and notwithstanding the fact that the subject is somewhat shopworn, to say the least, the company makes a capital hit in their production.

Briefly, Mrs. Dane, when she was a Miss Felicia Heineman, young and unsophisticated, got tangled up with another woman's husband, and as a result the other woman killed herself. Deeply repentant, and to avoid the disgrace, Miss Heineman comes to Sunningwater, England, under the name of Mrs. Dane. Here an old gossip called Mrs. Bulsom-Porter hears a hint of her story, and sets it going. Meanwhile, a nephew of Sir Daniel Carteret, eminent jurist, has fallen in love with Mrs. Dane, and the whole Carteret outfit work through the rest of the play trying to clear Mrs. Dane's name. The truth finally comes out to them, but not to the world, and after they have torn an apology out by the roots from Mrs. Bulsom-Porter exit Mrs. Dane, amid the customary tears.

The author has written some clever lines into this piece. Preëminently the best work is done by Frank McVicars, as Justice Carteret; by Thomas Oberle, as Canon Bonsey, and by Adora Andrews, as Lady Eastney. The heaviest share falls upon Mr. McVicars, who is on the stage almost every moment of the time, and who is really the principal character. Miss Andrews is simply delightful because of her exquisite naturalness—seldom has the Burbank seen a woman with the finish, repose, and utter lack of stage mannerism which characterize the really artistic impersonations of this lady. Thomas Oberle, who amounted to nothing at all last week, is a startling surprise in the role of a conceited and foppish English clergyman. His interpretation is capitally funny.

The leading woman, Miss Lillian Kemble, is delicious to look upon, and is conscientious in her interpretation, although it lacks the polish which makes Miss Andrews's smallest line effective. Frederick Sumner handles the thankless part of the gushing, brainless, spineless lover of Mrs. Dane. Phosa McAllister impersonates Mrs. Bulsom-Porter with the requisite churlishness essential to that unpleasant role. As a whole the staging is good, and the first night audience appeared greatly pleased, giving numerous curtain calls for the entire company after each act.

ORPHEUM. The Orpheum management this week presents Mary Hampton as its top-liner. Miss Hampton has a clever little sketch about a man who attacks the difficulties of amateur play writing, and who during the absence of his wife falls asleep and is tormented in turn by the orchestra leader, heroine and adventuress of his projected melodrama. Taking the parts of the wife, heroine and adventuress, Miss Hampton cleverly handles the differing characterizations in all their phases, from voice and gesture to make-up. George Chancellor, violinist, and William Davis, as the dramatist, ably assist her.

The Brothers Permaine, English clowns, occupy the last place on the bill, but are by no means last in merit. They introduce a "Nightingale wooing" in which some remarkable whistling and very pretty acting are done. In addition they have all manner of sport with a huge rubber ball, and an inflated rubber pig, which they knock all around the stage on each other's heads.

Zelma Rawlston, "Fashion Plate," returns this year with more swell and up-to-date togs, worn with exquisite grace which any one might envy. Also she brings a rather worn voice and a little better acting than she gave us last season. Kartolli, wire artist, does some wonderful things on the slack wire, such as riding a single-wheeled bike, and other trifling feats which look easy and are absolutely unattainable. The Baileys, colored (natural,) dancers and singers, introduce a few of the usual coon ideas of melody and rhythm.

Holdovers are the Brothers Freydo, acrobats; Martini and Max Millian, conjurers, and Whitney brothers, novelty musicians.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

[The Times freely publishes the views of correspondents, without holding itself responsible for writers' opinions. Be brief, write plainly, state clearly. The space of 250 words, on the average, is sufficient for the expression of an idea.]

The Merits of Canada.

LOS ANGELES, June 6.—[To The Editor of The Times:] I read and admire The Times, particularly its news and editorial columns, but your issue of today contains an editorial squib that is unfair, to say the least. You say "Canada having brought off a $10,000,000 failure, has further shown that she is ripe for annexation to the United States. We don't like a cheap country." First, regarding the failure, I think your paper gave a corrected report showing it was not nearly as large as first stated, further the bank expected they would be able to pay up in full. The above refers to a private bank; it is very seldom a chartered bank ever fails in Canada. As to Canada being "ripe for annexation," there is no section of the people who are in favor of it. There was a time when she wanted reciprocity with the United States, but she is not even asking for that now. Canada is satisfied to work out her own destiny in her own way, and she is succeeding beyond the most sanguine expectations. She is enjoying a period of unexampled prosperity. Immigration is rapidly pouring in. At the beginning of the season it was estimated that 100,000 Americans alone would locate in her Northwest Territory, but, if I am not mistaken, the number far exceeds that. She is not a "cheap country" by any means. She has the most magnificent resources, as all Europe is finding out. The United States is a big country, big in population, and big in every way and surely it can afford to be honest and fair to a neighbor.

FAIR PLAY.

Open Letter to Lembiddle.

Secretary L. A. C. C. of L., Sir: A circular letter addressed to my wife, who is an invalid, was received by her a day or two ago. It has the appearance of being intended for general circulation, and not being signed by the person holding the office, I enclose it to The Times, with such comments as I consider pertinent thereto. My wife is first addressed as fair-minded. This is correct. She is advised, being such, not to trade with A. Hamburger & Sons, for reasons set forth, among which are that Hamburger advertises in The Times, and The Times abuses by "slander" men and women who are members of labor organizations. There is a law against slander, and The Times is supposed to be responsible. I would not suffer any one to slander me. It looks very bad to me that any one else does—they belonging to labor organizations or otherwise. "Hamburger is the largest advertiser," etc. Blackstone, Coulter, Robinson, Letts, and others advertise because Hamburger does." It would hardly answer for the said secretary to go personally and tell those gentlemen that was their reason for using The Times, as they all do. They doubtless think they get good returns, or they would not continue advertising week after week.

People cannot abuse their help and do business long anywhere. The Times, if its help is of the usual intelligence, could not keep their help a week, paying less, and "making longer days," than others. How can any fair-minded person do otherwise than respect the gentlemen Hamburgers, The Times, or any other business house, for continuing to conduct their affairs in their own way—subject, of course, to the laws of the land, in spite of any combination, call it what we may? I believe it best for all the women in the land to trade where they please, the most of them will.

Continue to be a newspaper! Tell both sides as you have, and I believe Hamburger will continue to be a "friend of Otis," as is

ART AND DESIGN.

School's Annual Exhibition of Pupils' Work Shows Good Results Accomplished by Young Illustrators.

The Los Angeles School of Art and Design gave its sixteenth annual exhibition of pupils' work yesterday afternoon and evening, in the school hall on Hill street, showing from 250 to 300 pieces. The display made in the various departments spoke well for the scope of instruction and showed a high standard, while the average attainment was excellent. A noticeable feature of the work was the preponderance of studies from life, although the ever favorite flower pieces were by no means lacking. Oils, watercolors and crayons occupied the wall space on one side of the long hall, while a smaller studio was devoted to wash drawings, studies in anatomy, cartoons and sketches ready for reproduction by ambitious amateur illustrators.

Their labor has not been in vain, for one designer secured the first prize in a contest for a cover of the St. Nicholas, other pupils have received good coin for a series of magazine illustrations, and Mr. Macleod points with pride to this, that or the other exhibit, saying that the students are already making their way in a commercial, as well as an artistic sense. And he also affirms that within a few years illustrating has forged to the front in a remarkable manner in the school, for whereas in former years an interest in illustrating was rare, of the 111 students booked since October last fully two-thirds have devoted much time to this branch of art. Clyde Forsythe's cartoons are all clever, and some of them are even more so, forming a sharp contrast to the graver work of Hernando Villa, whose wash drawing of "Sorrow" reveals unusual power of artistic conception, accompanied by an intuitive insight into the deeper things of life that go far to atone for its very obvious faults. Paul J. Burnham exhibited one of the official posters for the recent San Bernardino street fair, for which he received $25, and one is inclined to the opinion that the picture of the pretty girl in the red gown is worth every cent of the price. One of the flower pieces best worth noticing was Lula Holden's oil piece of pink hydrangeas, which is an exceedingly good treatment of a difficult subject.

Considering that the exhibit was all students' work, and some of them are young in years, the result was most satisfactory, and spoke with loud voice of honest endeavor among both students and faculty.

Large Families.

There are more things in heaven and earth than are dreamt of in our everyday philosophy, and one of the most curious among them is the mysterious way in which the birth rate of a country goes up and down in accordance with political or even social requirements. This strange phenomenon greatly exercised the ingenuity of Roman statisticians recently when his holiness, the Pope, desiring to commemorate the celebration of his jubilee, gave orders that every child born in the eternal city on that memorable day—or night—should receive a gift of baby linen and a small sum of money. The head of the papal treasury duly made his preparations accordingly and based his calculations of the cost on the averages as reckoned by the statistical tables. According to these documents, the average number of children who come into the world daily in the Italian capital is thirty-five, and for so many innocents did the treasury of the Vatican make provision. But the Roman mothers, having heard of the windfall in store for their darlings, upset these prosaic calculations by giving birth to exactly ninety-three olive branches, the number of the Pope's years in this vale of tears. "Worldly wisdom is justified of her children," murmured one puzzled papal official.

"Fools and children cannot lie," replied one of the happy parents, and as the certificates were all in order, the Pope's officials thought they had better believe than insist upon further proof, although some of the new-born babes looked like "children of larger growth." Among them were triplets, consisting of two boys and one girl. To the former were given the names of and Remus, while their unc ter was honored by the Roma. The baptism took Church of St. Peter's.

It would be dangerous to lin benevolent experiments the sovereign pontiff of Ro the German capital a record established in every detail. healthy, active hausfrau has ing her quiver so rapidly that still but 45 years old, she twenty-eight olive branches table. Another, who is four junior, ushered twenty-three world, while three other tween the ages of 40 and ed their husbands with descendants each. Two hun forty Berlin women are the of from thirteen to twenty apiece.—[London Telegraph.

LOCAL RAILROAD RECORD.

EDICT AS TO S. P. TRACKS.

Said That Electrics Can't Cross at Grade.

Latest Move in Hostilities of Steam Against Trolley.

Mystery About the Alleged Ukase. New Mileage Books in Sight.

Good authority vouchsafed the statement yesterday that the Southern Pacific, has declared that no more Huntington lines shall cross its tracks on grade. It was said, that the steam people are determined on this point and that extensions of the of the Los Angeles Railway Company in the southern part of the city are indefinitely held up on this account. Grade crossings are to be tabooed, unless the courts decide otherwise, and it was a part of yesterday's disclosure that the matter is to be carried to the courts.

Of course, if grade crossings cannot be obtained, the street railways must either tunnel beneath the tracks of the Southern Pacific, wherever a crossing is desired in the future, or build viaducts or other overhead work. This would be exceedingly expensive, compared with an ordinary grade-crossing.

During the regular sessions of the last Legislature, a bill was quietly passed, prohibiting grade-crossings, and for awhile it looked bad for prosperous street railways throughout the State that were figuring on extensions that would take them over the rights of way of steam roads.

But the Governor failed to sign the bill.

John A. Muir, general manager of the Los Angeles Railway Company, was asked about the latest grade-crossing edict from the Southern Pacific last night ,and he said: "There is nothing in the report. Work on Maple avenue and Central avenue is hung up, all right enough, but not for any such reason. We are negotiating with the Southern Pacific for the privilege of crossing its tracks, but a mere matter of detail has hung up the matter as between Superintendent Ingram and myself. The subject of a grade-crossing was never mentioned by him, much less considered by us. As I say, a matter of detail relative to maintenance of way is the sticking point. No, I have never heared of any such so-called 'edict.'"

MILEAGE BOOKS COMING.

Country patrons of the Pacific Electric Railway Company will be gratified to learn that the long-talked-of mileage books for transportation purposes are about to be put into active use on all of the company's divisions. Unless present plans miscarry these books will be ready about June 20—in any event, July 1. It is believed they will prove a most acceptable innovation.

Under the present schedule of fares many people just outside of the city limits and at intermediate stations are compelled to pay rates that are far too high—rates that apply to stations many more miles distant from Los Angeles, perhaps. The mileage book is designed to obviate this hardship. The long mileage slip in the book is ruled off into 500 coupons, representing 500 miles, at the rate of 1¼ cents per mile, and the book will be good for use at any point on any of the company's lines within a year, and one coupon will be torn out for every mile ridden, provided that a minimum of four coupons (or 5 cents) shall be charged for rides under four miles.

The people of Compton will welcome the mileage book as a great saving in car fare to Los Angeles, and perhaps it was their continued complaint against the present rate that induced the management to introduce something new in the way of a fair adjustment of present difficulties.

The book will cost $6.25 and can be used for fares inside the city limits. It will not be honored north of Altadena.

STOLEN MONEY LITTLE.

When asked how much money had been stolen by the operations of the conspirators arrested on Saturday for stuffing the pay rolls of the Pacific Electric Railway Company, General Manager Randolph stated yesterday that the amount would be small—not to exceed $1500, perhaps less. The scheme had been nipped in the bud, else much money would have gone a-glimmering. Through a negro and a Mexican detective the company gained the first intimation that an assault was being made on its coffers.

Through a regrettable error, the information anent the arrest of the suspected young men spread that "F. J. Cornwell" was one of the conspirators; but this was a mistake. The Cornwell man arrested was F. W. Cornwell. Said Mr. Randolph yesterday: "Mr. F. J. Cornwell is, I am glad to say, one of our faithful and loyal employés."

WILL SUE FOR DAMAGES.

Victim of the Coast Line Wreck on Southern Pacific, Will Seek Redress from That Corporation.

As the character of the injuries received by passengers on the ill-fated Southern Pacific Coast Line Limited train, which jumped over the Santa Barbara cliffs nine days ago, becomes known, the accident is again brought to notice.

One of the seriously injured is the wife of J. C. Lewis, the head of a large mercantile firm at Louisville, Ky. Since the morning following her terrible experience, Mrs. Lewis has lain at the Angelus Hotel suffering from contusions which cover almost her entire body, but it is now known that she has a broken wrist and probably an internal injury of the groin.

The superficial examinations given Mrs. Lewis by the railroad surgeon on the day of her arrival here, disclosed neither of these serious injuries, and the delay occasioned thereby, and by the failure of the surgeon to call when he promised, Mr. Lewis says, have been a serious detriment to his wife. He feels outraged at the lack of attention given his injured wife by the railroad surgeon, and declares that if he had depended upon that official's unkept promises, instead of at once employing a surgeon for his wife, she would now be in a more precarious condition.

"I do not want to be hasty, nor to bring a damage suit just for the sake of damages, but my wife has suffered greatly, maybe maimed for life, and is entitled to damages the same as anybody else. I regard the accident as the result of the grossest carelessness, and therefore feel differently from what I might, if the circumstances had been otherwise.

"I have consulted one of the leading attorneys of Los Angeles, and in accordance with his advice, I will accept no favors at the hands of the railroad company, but as soon as my wife gets able to travel, we will go home to Louisville and bring action against the Southern Pacific Company there, when the real extent of her injuries can be more definitely determined.

"I fear she may be seriously injured internally, as she makes such slow progress toward recovery, although I immediately secured one of the best physicians in the city."

Mr. Lewis says he cannot tell when he will start home, but at present his wife is unable to travel. His son, who came here from New Mexico, when he learned of the accident, after spending several days with his parents, went home yesterday, as his business demanded his attention.

METHODIST MINISTERS.

Bishop Hamilton Surprises Them by Appearing Unexpectedly at Their Weekly Meeting.

Bishop Hamilton unexpectedly dropped in on his Methodist brethren yesterday, on his return north from the dedication of a new church at Redlands.

Because the annual meeting of the board of trustees of the University of Southern California occurs today, the gossips at once concluded that there was some connection between this event and the visit of the bishop, but he asserts that such was not the case, and he will leave for San Francisco this morning before the meeting takes place.

The paper of the day, at the ministers' meeting, was read by Rev. A. W. Adkinson of Long Beach, who discussed some of the questions which will probably attract attention at the General Conference next year—abolition of the probationary period, being the most radical one.

Francis Murphy was among the number who took part in the discussion, and his talk was received with great applause. He thought if the church had plenty of gospel, the laws would take care of themselves.

UNIVERSITY FACULTY TO BE NAMED TODAY.

NOT ALL OF THE PROFESSORS SURE TO REMAIN.

Regret Over Dean Randall's Leaving so Keen that Students Petition to Have Him Remain, but He Declines. Commencement Season Opens.

Ever since the announcement of the resignation of Dean William T. Randall as head of the College of Liberal Arts of the University of Southern California, a condition of unrest and disappointment has hung over the student body and faculty.

Underlying the joyousness of the commencement season has been a feeling of discontent and sorrow. It has been the one great theme of the week. Rumors of all kinds have been flying thick and fast. Stories plausible and tales impossible have alike gone the rounds, and in the minds of the majority all is chaos and confusion.

During the two years Dean Randall has served he has endeared himself to faculty and students as no other dean ever has. So disheartened were the students at the prospects of losing him that, without his knowledge, they circulated a petition asking the board of trustees to elect him to a place on the faculty. A large number of signers had been secured, and Guy Dyar had been chosen to present the petition to Dr. Bovard as chairman of the board, when a rumor of the movement reached the ears of Dean Randall. He immediately asked Mr. Dyar not to bring the matter before the board, declaring that his resignation was final and he could not reconsider. Dyar pleaded with him in vain. His course of action, he said, had been mapped out, and, unpleasant as it was for him to give up his work at the university, hard as it was to part with the students he so dearly loved, and who had shown such hearty appreciation of his efforts in their behalf, still he felt that he was but doing what he believed was right, and that consequently he must follow the path of duty as he saw it.

Mr. Dyar declared that the main reason the dean refused to reconsider his determination to retire completely from university affairs was because if he were elected to a place on the faculty he would crowd someone else out.

Yesterday brought forth another demonstration of the loyalty of the student body to the dean.

At a students' meeting in the chapel of the College of Liberal Arts, resolutions of appreciation of Mr. Randall and his efficient management during the two years he has had charge, were unanimously adopted, and signed by Tully C. Knoles, and countersigned by Claude Fergusson, president and secretary, respectively, of the student body. The resolutions express sincere regret at Mr. Randall's departure.

While it is evident that the dean will stand pat on his resignation, the status of the rest of the faculty is not so definitely assured.

It is known that Dr. Bovard has asked every member of the faculty to return, but there was an unconfirmed rumor last night that one and possibly two of the professors might not be named by him at the meeting of the trustees this morning. It was also rumored that the faculty may not be elected today, but that simply a discussion of the qualifications of the candidates for the various departments will take place, and that the election of the instructors will be held at an adjourned meeting, possibly tomorrow night. It is believed that the faculty will be decided upon today.

Yesterday was class day at the university. The whole time was given over to the senior class. In the afternoon the annual tree and ivy-planting exercises were held on the college campus.

In the evening an interesting programme of a humorous nature was given in the chapel before an audience that taxed the auditorium and halls to the utmost.

The entertainment was opened with "'03, Jingles," composed by Miss Estella Williams, '03, and sung by the members of the class.

Miss Edith Bien read the class history, and Luther Rice delivered an oration, which created much merriment, and was roundly applauded.

The class poem by Miss Ruth Brown also made a hit.

"? ? ?" by Maynard Beckwith and John Jacobs, was the feature of the evening. These young men gave a series of stereopticon pictures of college "profs" and students and scenes around the college grounds. All of them were good, and many were comical and greatly pleased the audience.

The closing number was "Presentation," by Tully Knoles, who called the presidents of all the classes to the platform and in a neat speech to each one, presented them with various gifts. The coming freshman received his proverbial cane, the "soph" a "hobby-horse," the junior a hammer, and the senior the famous dog-on-button.

This afternoon at the college chapel the Library Aid Association will be organized, and in the evening the annual concert of the College of Music will be given in Simpson Auditorium.

OFFICER SHOOTS A MAN.

James Morris, who claims to hail from San Juan Capistrano, was shot, but not dangerously wounded, at 2:30 this morning by Patrolman Walsh. Officer Walsh would not make a statement, and the wounded man was too excited to do so, and details were lacking at the time of going to press.

LEARNING THINGS
We Are All in the Apprentice Class.
When a simple change of diet brings back health and happiness the story is briefly told. A lady of Springfield, Ill., says: "After being afflicted for years with nervousness and heart trouble, I received a shock four years ago that left me in such a condition that my life was despaired of. I could get no relief from doctors nor from the numberless heart and nerve medicines I tried because I didn't know that the coffee was daily putting me back more than the doctors could put me ahead.
"Finally at the request of a friend I left off coffee and began the use of Postum and against my convictions I gradually improved in health until for the past six or eight months I have been entirely free from nervousness and those terrible sinking, weakening spells of heart trouble.
"My troubles all came from the use of coffee which I had drunk from childhood and yet they disappeared when I quit coffee and took up the use of Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
Many people marvel at the effects of leaving off coffee and drinking Postum, but there is nothing marvelous about it—only common sense.
Coffee is a destroyer—Postum is a rebuilder. That's the reason.

TAYLOR-CHRISTIE STEAL MOUNTS UP.

WHEN Henry Christie and A. J. Taylor, respectively president and secretary of the National Construction Company, were arrested several days ago on warrants charging them with obtaining money from the Continental Building and Loan Association of San Francisco by false pretenses, it was stated that the amount involved would reach $20,900. Now comes the information from the general office of the association in San Francisco that during the past eight months the accused have defrauded the association out of nearly five times that sum, or $98,000.

A dispatch to The Times last night from San Francisco states that from last October up to June 4, they handled no less than 102 fraudulent applications for loans all of which were allowed and by means of which $97,494 was secured from the company. This information must have been given out by the officers of the building and loan association in San Francisco. The officers here who worked up the case say they know nothing about such extensive operations. It is possible that the applications may have been sent from other towns because Christie and Taylor had been in business in Los Angeles only since January 1. Before that one of them operated in Bakersfield and it has been reported from that city that he was almost forced to leave because of the nature of his dealings. Both prisoners were released on bond yesterday after having spent several days in jail.

FRENCH FORCES BOMBARDING FIGUIG.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BENIOUNIF (Algeria) June 8.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The French artillery opened a preliminary fire at 5:30 o'clock this morning on the rebellious Figuig tribesmen. Gen. O'Connor commands the punitive expedition consisting of 4000 men of the Foreign Legion, and a strong force of artillery, armed with guns firing melenite shells. Details of the engagement have not yet been received. It was Gen. O'Connor's plan to advance upon Figuig in three columns, and post his artillery on commanding hills surrounding the rebel stronghold.

The actual bombardment began at 7:30, and lasted until 9:30 a.m., when the French troops occupied two strategic hills, gaining these positions by surprise.

It is believed that the native loss was heavy, but no definite details of the casualties will be obtainable until the French enter Figuig. There was no loss on the French side.

The bulk of the population of Figuig is expected to be friendly to the French, as neighboring tribes are assisting in the operations of the punitive expedition.

France has formally notified the powers that she has no intention of taking Mocorran territory, and will only punish the Arab tribes who attacked Gen. Jonnert.

Gen. O'Connor was instructed to give the women and children of Figuig an opportunity to leave the town before the bombardment. A friendly Arab courier bearing a notification to this effect to the women and children, was killed while carrying the message.

YOUNG'S VIEW OF RAILROAD MERGER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PAUL (Minn.) June 8.—Judge George Young today continued his argument on behalf of the Northern Securities Company in the suit of the State against that corporation which is being heard by Judge Lochren. He devoted himself principally to an attempt to prove that the merger company was in reality a holding company for the stock of a few large holders of railway stocks who wished to protect themselves from raids by unscrupulous persons with designs on their roads, and who desired to consolidate their investments in private form.

COMMISSION RESUMES HEARING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, June 8.—The Interstate Commerce Commission returned to New York today to continue the investigation into the complaint of W. R. Hearst that the coal-carrying railroads have violated and are violating the anti-pool clause of the Sherman law. The commission declined the hearing until the United States District Court had passed on the right of coal-carrying railroads to refuse to answer questions as to contracts between the coal companies and the railroads.

Robert M. Oliphant, former president of the Delaware and Hudson, one of the respondent roads, was the first witness. He corroborated the statements of the other coal men who have testified that the price of coal to the public is to be raised 10 cents a ton a month, until the maximum increase of 50 cents a ton is reached. He was not prepared to say that the increased cost of production would not exceed 30 cents.

Mr. Oliphant said he doubted if his company made any money when coal was selling in New York at $4, or less. For the last ten years the profits of the company have been about 7 per cent. His company increased the price, he said, because exigencies of the trade justified the demand.

"We could get a higher price if we asked for it," he added.

It was out of deference to the needs of the public, the witness said, that the price of coal was kept at $5 just after the strike, when the independent operators were getting $8 to $10.

Adelbert Moot of counsel for the Erie system, protested that the commission has no jurisdiction in any matter that concerns the price of coal. The commission decided it could consider the prices realized for a product to arrive at the reasonableness or unreasonableness of the freight rates.

Judge Campbell, the legal representative of the Reading system, declared his clients ready to concede that the price of coal is about $5 a ton, and the price will increase until $5.50 is reached.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS MISSING DENVER MAN.

Reward Offered and Searching Parties Out for W. H. Chandler at La Jolla, but Not a Trace Found—May be Coming to Los Angeles.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The search for W. H. Chandler of Denver, who has been missing from La Jolla since Wednesday having proved unsuccessful, announcement was made today by C. G. Soderstrom, his companion, of a reward of $100 for information leading to the recovery of Chandler or his body. Chandler's disappearance was almost as sudden as though the ground had opened and swallowed him up. For twenty years he has been in the employ of F. M. Davis of the iron works in Denver, Colo., bearing that name—one of the largest concerns in the country. Fourteen years he has been superintendent of the boiler department. He is a man of excellent habits and stands high in the estimation of his employer. He has a wife and two children in Denver. Chandler has been prudent, and his family is in good financial circumstances. His illness dates back about six months and is spoken of as insomnia.

Twice in Denver Chandler strayed from home, occasioning his family great alarm. At Christmas time he took a few weeks off and came to the Coast, visiting San Francisco and other cities. The trip did not benefit him. His condition growing worse, he accepted Mr. Davis's offer to pay all his bills for an extended sojourn at La Jolla, this to include the services of Soderstrom. The men left Denver April 29, coming direct to La Jolla, engaging quarters at the home of G. Arnett. Chandler showed improvement from the first. He slept better and in the six weeks gained thirteen pounds. Other than his inability to sleep, Chandler was the same as other men. His affliction did not make him despondent; in fact, he was of a cheerful and optimistic turn of mind. Only once did he escape the vigilance of Soderstrom, this being a week before his disappearance. He left the Arnett cottage early in the morning and was not seen again until late in the afternoon. He was then walking toward La Jolla and said that he had been lost in the fog.

Last Wednesday morning it was agreed by Chandler and Soderstrom that they should go shell hunting that forenoon, pack the grips in the afternoon and start for Los Angeles the following morning en route for Denver. Chandler turned back to get his watch and chain, but he took no money, nor did he have any before. There was nothing unusual in his manner or conversation. Soderstrom rolled up his trousers and waded into the water after shells. He thinks his back was turned about five minutes, and in that time Chandler disappeared. He has not been seen since, in spite of the fact that searching parties have been out day and night. Soderstrom thinks Chandler has no relatives in Los Angeles, but he has many friends there. The only theory he has is that the unfortunate man may be making his way there. Chandler is 45 years old, five feet eight inches high, has a yellow-brown mustache and wears a dark suit and soft black hat.

RACE WAR IN MISSISSIPPI.

Four Negroes and One Negress Killed, Several Badly Beaten and Others Ordered to Leave Smith County.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

FOREST (Miss.) June 8.—Four negroes and one negress were killed, eight or ten badly beaten, and most of the other negroes in the community ordered to leave, as the result of shooting from ambush of Mr. Craft, and the wounding of Mr. Boyd by negroes last week. This occurred in the northern part of Smith county, and the excitement there last week was intense. Reports from there are now that everything is quiet, and perhaps will remain so if the negroes ordered to leave will do so at once.

It is said that the killing and flogging of the negroes was done by men from the part of the country where Craft lived.

Betting in the Williams-Fields controversy ought to be about 10 to 7 that Williams does not stop the Oxnard lad. If Fields fights in the style he did when Thurston tried conclusions with him, nobody is likely to catch him in thirty minutes of actual fighting, though that is a long distance for a man to go.

Doings of the Boxers.

Benny Yanger has arrived in San Francisco, and is very anxious to meet Young Corbett. Experts figure Benny has taken on the hardest game of his career in tackling Eddie Hanlon.

Philadelphia clubs are planning to hold boxing shows Saturday afternoons during the hot months.

Billy Delaney says Jeffries's quarters at El Campo will be ready in two weeks.

Young Corbett is engaged to be married. This is, we believe, the eleventh or twelfth time the Denver press agent has evolved this pipe with multifarious and nefarious changes rung therein.

YACHTING.

FIRST SOUTH COAST CRUISE.

The first cruise of the South Coast Yacht Club for this season, which was begun in the outer harbor at San Pedro Saturday, was completed Sunday afternoon. The fleet sailed in squadron to the Isthmus at Catalina Island, remained there all Saturday night and returned to San Pedro yesterday. There was no attempt made at racing. The yachtsmen report having had an excellent voyage.

Roque Men Active.

Roque players of various Southern California towns have arranged to meet today on the grounds of the Long Beach Roque Club for the customary annual tournament today. Quite a number of recruits have become interested in the game, and nearly all the old-timers have prepared to battle for their laurels. In all probability the contests will last several days.

Olinda Beat Hamburgers.

The correct score of Sunday's baseball debate between the Olinda oil team and the Hamburgers of this city was 22 to 6 in favor of the drillers.

Simpson Wins Again.

The fourth chapter of the Simpson-Dysinger serial story was read off at the Belmont alleys last night and F. P. Simpson retained his lead over Dysinger, increasing it from 12 to 34 pins. The bowling was high-class throughout, as shown by the appended scores:

Simpson 181-169-194-192-200
Dysinger 190-193-170-161-200

Athletic Club Talk.

The old rumor of an opposition athletic club in Los Angeles to compete with the Century Club, has been revived, but thus far no person af any consequence have been mentioned in connection with the project.

San Berdoo Boxing.

SAN BERNARDINO, June 8.—Local sports will incorporate an athletic club so as to pull off fights here. Harry Phillips, John McCall, N. K. Herzog, James Murray and Frank Ashe are the directors. The first bout will be between Frank Fields of Oxnard and Kid Dewey, June 22.

TALKS WITH TRAVELERS.

Touring Southern California, and, in fact, all the southwestern part of the United States, is Zeppelin Brevort, American representative of Clauder & Co., French importers of tropical products. Mr. Brevort passed through Los Angeles yesterday, en route to some of the citrus groves of Orange, Riverside and San Diego counties. Seen at the Angelus, after a late afternoon lunch, he expressed great faith in the prowess of the California agriculturalist.

Said he: "We of the Old World are looking to this section of the United States for many things which you do not as yet produce—we expect in time that you will furnish us with products of which you have not even dreamed. The fame of California as a grower of all manner of good things to eat and drink, is as well known, or perhaps better known, in Europe than in your Eastern States.

"Western Europe has a great call for much of your goods. There are numerous establishments which import fruits or wines, and repack them under French, Spanish or German labels, and I suppose that eventually they may work themselves back to this very city, to be sold at fancy prices.

"In Spain California olives are imported in great quantities, and are repacked as genuine home-grown Queen olives of Spain. It is, of course, a very stale joke about imported champagne being native California wine.

"California, however, is raising today many things that we actually need. Some of your products are no joking matter with many of our poor people. The prune joke, ancient in every boarding-house in America, has never yet been taken humorously in France. There are thousands of French poor, to whom a Bordeaux prune is a fruit not to be had. The California product, however, by its plentiful amount and cheapness, has so cut into the prune market that the poor are able to get this dried fruit at reasonable prices in the winter months. Common product though it is, it is none the less valued as a rarity by thousands of people on the continent.

"The other California dried fruits, such as the peach, apricot and fig, are making themselves known all around the world. You did not originate these things—you did not even introduce them into the market; but you first made them cheap and plenty.

"European economists believe that California will in the future produce many of the ultra-tropical products which it is now thought impossible to grow here."

Frank S. McDonald, formerly of Santa Barbara, has returned to Southern California after a three years' stay in the Philippines. Although in the employ of a foreign corporation during that time, Mr. McDonald has not forgotton to boost this end of the United States, and says that he finds California and Californians well received everywhere.

Seen yesterday at the Nadeau, Mr. McDonald said: "I believe that there is a field more tremendous than any other in the world just opening to civilization's markets in the Orient. We have taken for the cause of civilization and education a very large country, known as the Philippines, and this is just a little of the territory opening to the white man's sovereign demand at the present time.

"It is a positive fact that China, with her 800,000,000 of people, is eagerly awaiting civilization, and it is equally certain that she is going to take it from the nearest point—America. We are here on the western edge of America, a virtual connecting link between the oldest of the old and the newest of the new. California is bound to become a remarkable shipping point, and likewise a remarkable port of entry. With new oceanic steamship lines there will be new markets for California produce, and, in a few years, if all signs fail not, the Golden State will enter her most marvelous period of prosperity."

OCCIDENTAL COLLEGE NOTES.

The Philomathian Literary Society yesterday elected for president Miss Loua L. Gorham, '04; vice-president, William M. Walker, '06; secretary, Miss Edna Cumberland, '06; treasurer, Grant Gordon, '06, and censor, J. Percival Hagerman, '06. The feature of the programme was a sketch of the province of Ontario, Can., where Ralph Connor has laid the scenes of his popular Glengarry stories, and the former home of the writer, Mr. Hagerman. The next year will be started with a new constitution as well as new officers, the committee's report on the codification of the constitution and bylaws being accepted, and it is hoped that the officers will now be able to deal properly with delinquent members, as they now have greater powers.

Saturday some of the members of the Y.W.C.A. held a picnic at Elysian Park, at which the principal theme was the funny side of the Capitola conference. About twenty young women enjoyed a pleasant time in the park, with the anecdotes as well as the luncheon.

DOCTOR ADVOCATED OPERATION---
PE-RU-NA MADE KNIFE UNNECESSARY.

CATARRH is a very frequent cause of that class of diseases popularly known as female weakness

Catarrh of the pelvic organs produces such a variety of disagreeable and irritating symptoms that many people—in fact, the majority of people, have no idea that they are caused by catarrh.

If all the women who are suffering with any form of female weakness would write to Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio, and give him a complete description of their symptoms and the peculiarities of their troubles, he will immediately reply with complete directions for treatment, free of charge.

Mrs. Eva Bartho, 133 East 12th street, N. Y. City, N. Y., writes:

"I suffered for three years with leucorrhea and ulceration of the womb. The doctor advocated an operation which I dreaded very much, and strongly objected to go under it. Now I am a changed woman. Peruna cured me; it took nine bottles, but I felt so much improved I kept taking it, as I dreaded an operation so much. I am today in perfect health and have not felt so well for fifteen years."—Mrs. Eva Bartho.

MRS. EVA BARTHO.

Miss Maud Steinbach, 1399 Twelfth St., Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

"Last winter I felt sick most of the time, was irregular and suffered from nervous exhaustion and severe bearing down pains. I had so frequently heard of Peruna and what wonderful cures it performed, so I sent for a bottle, and in four weeks my health and strength were entirely restored to me."—Miss Maud Steinbach.

Everywhere the women are using Peruna and praising it. Peruna is not a palliative simply; it cures by removing the cause of female disease.

Dr. Hartman has probably cured more women of female ailments than any other living physician. He makes these cures simply by using and recommending Peruna.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Indigestion Causes Catarrh of the Stomach.

For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach caused indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. Indigestion causes catarrh. Repeated attacks of indigestion inflames the mucous membranes lining the stomach and exposes the nerves of the stomach, thus causing the glands to secrete mucin instead of the juices of natural digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

Please read the following:

MANHATTAN BEACH COMPANY,
531-532 Douglas Building.

GENTLEMEN:—As owners of lots at Manhattan Beach we are glad to say that we consider Manhattan a gem among the Beaches. The slope from front to rear in two blocks is about 100 feet. This puts one cottage a little higher than the other and affords an excellent marine view to all.

The natural cement which you have placed on Manhattan Avenue and Center Street is a feature unknown at any other Beach. While the lots are covered with sand; yet there is sufficient soil to grow flowers and shrubs and vines. The water is pure and soft.

The buildings are first-class and the restrictions are up-to-date. We gladly recommend Manhattan Beach to any who desire a Beach home.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Taken Back for Trial.

Chief of Police J. D. Brinkerhoff of Middletown, N. Y., left last night on the Santa Fé overland train, having in custody George Ryan, who was arrested by the Los Angeles officers as a fugitive from justice. Ryan is wanted on charge of obtaining money by false pretenses, seduction and jumping a bond of $2500. He made no fight against extradition. It is said that his own father was one of the victims of his peculations.

Change of Preachers.

The pulpit of Calvary Baptist Church, on Boyle Heights, has been vacated by Rev. J. M. French and Rev. J. C. Hall has been called to take up the duties. Mr. French has withdrawn on account of ill health, and the work will be assumed by Mr. Hall after he returns from a vacation trip to the East. He has been engaged in evangelistic work in this section of the State for a year or more, and was a Methodist minister when he first came to this city.

Nurses' Commencement.

The undergraduates of the Training School for Nurses of the California Hospital will receive the graduating class, the alumni of the California Hospital Training School, and the instructors and their wives, at the newly-purchased Nurses' Home for the California Hospital, No. 1415 South Grand avenue, at 9:30 p. m. Thursday, at the close of the commencement exercises. The graduation exercises will take place at Blanchard's Hall. Henry W. O'Melveny, Esq., will be the orator of the evening.

Improvement League.

The Citizens' Southwest Improvement League held its regular meeting in Wilson's Hall on Vermont avenue last night. Among the matters discussed was a movement to have the Traction company lay a second rail on Vermont avenue from Thirty-seventh street south to Santa Monica avenue, and to place the rails on the established grade. A petition will be presented to Postmaster Groff for the establishment of two mail deliveries daily in the territory south of thirty-seventh street and west of Vermont avenue.

Fraternal Brotherhood Honors.

Angelus Lodge of the Fraternal Brotherhood offers a tea set to be voted to the most popular lady in Los Angeles. The contest will close on the 19th inst. Miss Maude A. Smith was nominated by La Grande Lodge, No. 9, but declined the honor because she was a member of the lodge making the offer. Among the candidates started in the race are Miss Grace E. Woodbury of Los Angeles Lodge No. 1, Miss Marie Garnier of Hermosa Lodge No. 32, Miss Sophie Bente of Washington Lodge No. 51, and Miss Edna Andrews of Poppy Lodge No. 226.

Was Within His Rights.

Peter Viotto, who was arrested on a charge of violating the Sunday closing ordinance, in that he sold liquor Sunday at the winery of Secundo Guasti at Third and Alameda streets, will plead that he did not violate the law in having made the sale. His employer asserts that he sold two sealed bottles of wine to the officers who arrested him, and according to a decision of the Supreme Court a producer has a legal right to sell his own product even on Sunday. Mr. Guasti declares that in twenty years' business he never sold wine by the glass at any of his wineries.

UNDER STRONG GUARD.

Chauncey Dewey and His Cowboys on Way to St. Francis for Preliminary Hearing in Murder Case.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

COLBY (Kan.) June 8.—Under guard of a Sheriff's posse and a company of State militia, Chauncey Dewey, Clyde Wilson and W. J. McBride, alleged murderers of E. M. Bery and two sons, left here today for a forty-mile march across country to St. Francis, where the preliminary trial will be held. It is believed that the march will consume three days, and as telephone wires in the hills have been cut, the guard is not likely to be heard from until St. Francis is reached.

Dewey, who is a son of a Chicago millionaire, and second cousin to Admiral Dewey, refuses to talk, but seems cheerful and in good spirits. Officers of the militia and others do not fear an open battle with armed settlers, but are afraid that as the party passes through the hills and wooded places efforts may be made by sharpshooters to pick off the accused prisoners.

The Popularity Of Credit Buying

Now-a-days even the strongest business institutions make use of credit. It is little wonder that in private life men and women also take advantage of credit in fitting out their homes. The old-fashioned installment plan is quite a different thing. The Brent Credit System is a modern, substantial, solid system that is useful to the well-to-do as well as to those of moderate means.

Consider this system in your own case. Could you not easily afford to lay aside a small sum at stated intervals? And in a surprisingly short time this means that you would have a tidy, well furnished home. How easily you could spend this same sum on small trifles.

If you would like to know more about this popular system, call at the store and have it explained to you.

UPHEAVAL IN THE SCHOOLS.

Board of Education Executes Havoc Programme.

J. B. Monlux and M. C. Bettinger New Superintendents.

J. B. Millard and W. W. Tritt Deposed—Seven New Principals—The Teachers.

The city school system was formally ripped up, tossed in the air, jerked inside out and then put together again last night, by unanimous prearrangement of the Board of Education.

It was the most extensive and surprising upheaval the schools have suffered. Superintendents were hired and fired; principals were elevated or degraded, teachers were transferred, promoted or discharged by the score. Salaries were increased all along the top of the list of employés, expenditures were approved by the hundred and new conditions inaugurated.

So perfect was the programme that there was not a ripple of excitement on the surface. The sensational changes agreed upon were guarded so well from the public that there was no crowd. Those outsiders present were politicians interested in witnessin the consummation, among whom were several Councilmen and former members of the Board of Education.

J. B. MONLUX.

All the havoc was wrought with exceeding rapidity and harmony. The eventful session lasted less than two hours. The educational executives actually looked and acted "bored." While the reports were being read which meant everything in the world to scores of teachers, the members sat back and dozed, or went out to smoke. The vote was unanimous on every question of importance.

Politics which accomplished the extensive changes in the surface, strangely enough, were charged by the members with responsibility for the reconstruction. The members declared they had been so long and seriously oppressed by employés with "influence," and the department had suffered to such an extent that they had decided to go ahead regardless of everything but their own dictates. The educators reduced in rank were charged with having made themselves obnoxious by reason of their supposed security on account of official and political friends. So the members avowed they had revolted and taken the matter in their own hands, declaring their action to have been solely "for the good of the service."

M. C. BETTINGER, NEW ASSISTANT SUPT. IN FRONT.

At the close of business, just before adjournment, the chairman, Dr. H. Bert Ellis, arose and said: "We have accomplished considerable good work tonight. But there is one thing I wish to announce openly in closing. That is how very keenly I regret that the individual members of this board have had to be so hounded by politicians. We were elected to run the schools of this city, and we are able to do it. It is to be regretted that we we have had to be bothered, in season and out, early and late, by outside influences in regard to filling positions. I want to say that for my part I will not be bothered by any more of it."

There was quiet applause by a couple of the members. Several of them later stated that the pressure on them had been so fierce of late that it had become a positive nuisance. Ambitious employés had sent everyone they knew to plead their causes, and the members declared their eating and sleeping hours had been intruded upon.

NOTABLE CHANGES.

Most notable among the many changes were those in the office of Superintendent James A. Foshay. As deputy superintendent J. B. Monlux was elected to succeed J. B. Millard. As assistant superintendent, M. C. Bettinger was elected to succeed W. W. Tritt. Superintendent Foshay was unanimously reëlected to serve four more years from June 30. The two new chief assistants were Superintendent Foshay's choice.

Mr. Monlux was principal of the Twenty-eighth street school, where he has been stationed for over six years past. He has an excellent record. Mr. Millard by the change was made principal of the Ninth-street school, one of the best principalships in the city.

Mr. Bettinger was principal of the Thirtieth-street school, where he has been for over a decade. He has been prominent in local public educational service for twice that period. Mr. Tritt was given the principalship of the Thirtieth street school.

Seven principals were reduced to the rank of teachers, and an equal number of teachers elevated to head of schools. The principals reduced were: E. P. Powell, San Pedro street; Mrs. Fannie Byram, Normal model; Mrs. C. S. Dubois, Castelar street; Miss Esther Strauss, Fremont avenue; Miss Cora Slack, Alpine street; Mrs. M. J. Henry, Breed street; Mrs. Marie Halverson, Grafton street. The seven teachers given principalships were: Miss Catherine Clark, Grafton street; Miss Thornton, Highland; Miss Finney, Harmony; Miss Wittman, Staunton avenue; Miss Cora Freeman, Fremont avenue; Miss Alice Cushing, Macy street; Robert L. Lane, Vernon.

In addition to these the lists show numerous transferences of principals, several being promoted from small to larger schools.

Eight hundred teachers were elected and analysis of the list will show extensive changes. Some were virtually dismissed, the board notifying these of their fate and giving them opportunity to resign.

All of the school employés are now under civil service.

RAPID TRANSACTIONS.

Business was transacted rapidly in accordance with the programme on the opening of last night's session. On motion of Horgan, the rules were suspended, and the board leaped to the most important deeds.

Bulfinch immediately nominated J. B. Millard to succeed himself as deputy superintendent, and this was seconded by Thom. Monroe nominated J. B. Monlux, and Goodhue seconded. There was no discussion, and on roll call the vote stood 7 to 2 in favor of Monlux, Bulfinch and Thom voting for Millard, and Page, Hammon, Ellis, Monroe, Goodhue, Horgan and Jessup voting for Monlux.

Bulfinch nominated Tritt for reëlection as assistant superintendent, and Hammon seconded. Thom nominated Bettinger, and Monroe seconded. On this the vote was 5 to 4. Page, Hammon, Bulfinch and Jessup stood by Tritt, and Ellis, Monroe, Goodhue, Thom and Horgan voting for Bettinger.

The Teachers' Committee presented its report, with the 800 names already agreed upon. Secretary Averill read every one of the long list of names published below. The report was then unanimously adopted, without discussion or opposition. The teachers are elected for the school year ending June 30, 1904. The conditions of election provided that each teache must before August 1 file with the secretary written acceptance of the position, and all the conditions thereof. Failure of teachers to file such written acceptance will be taken as a declination of the position, and it will be declared vacant.

On behalf of the board of trustees of the State Normal School, President E. T. Pierce addressed a communication to the board, protesting against the removal of Mrs. Fannie Byram from the principalship of the Normal Training School. If Mrs. Byram could not be retained, President Pierce urged the appointment of Mrs. Albertina Smith as second choice, or Miss Kate F. Osgood as third choice. The communication was ordered filed, Miss Osgood having been made principal.

An attempt was made by Hammon and Horgan to amend the report to retain Mrs. Marie Halverson as principal of the Grafton-street school, but the motion received but the two votes.

The Teachers' Committee, which had in charge the preparation of the report, was composed of Bulfinch, Goodhue and Hammon. After its reading Goodhue moved its adoption, and it carried unanimously.

The Finance Committee's report providing for increase in the salary of Superintendent Foshay, from $275 to $300 a month, and also in a general raise in the monthly salaries of all the principals and the heads of departments at the High School, was adopted without opposition.

On recommendation of Superintendent Foshay, at the last moment, the board voted that the schools shall close for the summer vacation on Friday, June 26.

The complete list of teachers elected, the assignmnet of principals and the new salary schedule, are published below.

LIKE BALLOON IT COLLAPSED.

Butchers' Strike is Dead, Meat Boycott "Busted."

Complete Failure of Union Plan to Cause a Famine.

Simon Maier Doesn't Recognize the Council of Labor in Settlement.

The butchers' strike is dead.

It expired last night after a conference between Simon Maier, W. E. Roberts, manager of the Cudahy Packing Company's local plant, and President J. E. Bond of the slaughterers' union.

After it was all over, Maier said that he had not recognized the Council of Labor, but had made a settlement with his men that was satisfactory to himself.

The Council of Labor made every effort to so tie up the butchering business as to cause a long meat famine, affecting this city and nearby towns, but this union plan completely miscarried.

Maier has had the slaughterers over a barrel at every stage of the strike, and none knew it better than they. The request for a conference came from the butchers' union after the strikers had seen their places at the slaughter-house and packing plant filled by non-union men, and that without any particular activity on the part of Maier.

Of course, there was the strongest kind of pressure brought to bear on the butchers' union by the hireling union jawsmiths, who have hoped to see a general strike. They tried to encourage the butchers with the statement that all the cooks and waiters were going out in sympathy, and that if this did not bring the retailers and wholesalers to terms business throughout the city would be completely paralyzed.

But the butchers thought only of their jobs, which were already being filled, and so they advised Bond to do the best he could.

From beginning to end of the conference Maier stood firm for the point upon which he insisted at first. This was that he should conduct his own business; in other words, that the union was not to be recognized. For a long time Bond stuck on this, but finally gave in when Maier conceded certain points regarding slaughter-house rules. These are just the matters which he has expressed himself as willing to arbitrate.

RETAILERS CONGRATULATED.

If there was ever a time where public sentiment was against strikers it was yesterday. All day long the retailers throughout the city were in receipt of congratulations from their customers, including business men, lawyers, preachers, women and even union men not affiliated with the meat-cutters' organization. The proprietors of a down-town market were interrupted about every five minutes during the day by some one who was glad that the retailers had stood firm, and wanted to say so.

The Executive Committee of the Retail Butchers' Board of Trade met in the rooms of the M. and M. Association yesterday morning to listen to an explanation of the causes of the strike from President Bond of the local meat-cutters' union. Bond told them the old story of the meat-cutters' alleged grievance against Maier, and the members of the committee heard respectfully, but the unionist's remarks didn't make any difference with men who had already determined to run their business affairs as suited them.

The strikers were taught one lesson which was not counted on. They were confident there would be [illegible] of union sympathy for them. They banked on inducing the cooks and waiters of the city to walk out in a great protest against "injustice." But the cooks and waiters did not do this. They said that they sympathized with the meat-cutters' but they didn't leave their good jobs. Their "sympathy" didn't extend that far.

The cooks and waiters were importuned, by all the union principles and bonds known, and were "cussed" at with the choicest words of hired agitators, but all this was unavailing. Two or three of the chief sedition-breeders resorted to threats yesterday morning as they went the rounds trying to stir up sympathy, but they were met with stony silence by the men who have no grievance.

"HURLED" MUST RETRACT.

A committee of the Retail Butchers' Board of Trade waited on the management of the "Hurled" yesterday afternoon, and quietly but very convincingly demanded that the malicious and idiotic lie published in Sunday morning's "Hurled" be retracted. This was to the effect that on Saturday afternoon Gen. Otis attended the meeting of the retailers and influenced them to reject the terms of the strikers. The manager of the "Hurled," like a boy that has been whipped, promised to see that the article is retracted.

The retailers are particularly incensed over this report, as it was printed purely out of malevolence, and on the word of a striker, who "filled" a reporter with cheap gutter talk. The retailers are able to handle the situation themselves, and so far have not been proffered any advice by any one except the hireling jawsmiths of the union.

STRIKE WAS A BLUFF.

"From all that I can hear and see," said a prominent retail butcher yesterday, "the strike was nothing more than a bluff. The union agitators promised at the beginning that the refusal of the wholesalers and retailers to yield to the demands of the strikers, would result in disaster to the people of the city. They pictured to us the terrible condition that would ensue. They threatened that if their demands were not granted, all of the restaurants must close for want of help, and not a house in the city would be furnished with fresh meat. They even went farther and said that all business in the city would be at a standstill.

"Why, this fellow Bond, who has taken so many burdens on his back, visited one of the principal members of the Retail Butchers' Board of Trade, and the manager of a local packing-house, late Sunday night, got them out of their beds and told them that if they did not yield, 1200 cooks and waiters would walk out this (Monday) morning. Bond tried to induce these men to call a meeting of the Executive Committee of the retailers right off and settle the matter. He had the audacity to suggest that they call on the members in hacks, rout them from their beds, and give him a favorable answer before 5 o'clock.

"They laughed at the impudence of the man, and told him they could not think of doing such a thing; that their minds were made up once and for all, and that they represented the sentiment of the retailers. After this rebuff, Bond began to threaten, but was sent away with little ceremony. And I failed to notice," concluded the speaker, "that either 1200 cooks and waiters, or even a hundredth part of that number, walked out, or are likely to at present."

MATRIMONIAL HEAD-OFF.

Young Claudius Wants to Marry, but He's Too Young and Stern Papa Too Vigilant.

Pity poor Jimmie Claudius, who wants to get married and can't, because his stern papa has headed him off at every County Clerk's office in this end of the State.

If James B. Claudius, who has a terrible itching for matrimony, were a year older, all would be well. But now he must pay the penalty of youth. When he has attained his majority, which will be a year hence, Jimmie will probably marry left and right to his heart's content.

James is not constituted like an ordinary man, with a heart for just one woman. He does not intend to get married just for the sake of possessing a dear, little thing, either. He wants to marry for marriage's sake.

James's father, J. H. Claudius, who lives at No. 804 West Twenty-third street, is considerably exasperated over his son's mania for marriage. Last fall James fell in love with Mary Todd, a very sweet girl who had just come here from Iowa with her mother. She lived on West First street. Jimmie began to talk marriage almost as soon as he had seen her, but he didn't come right out square and say that he was going to wed Mary. He kind of muttered it to himself and a mother's quick ears heard, and then papa knew all about it. So the County Clerk of Los Angeles was advised not to issue a license.

Poor Mary died of consumption a week ago, and Jimmie left town and went to Corona, where he is working in a hotel. But the father feared that Jimmie still might want to marry for marriage's sake, so he decided to head his boy off effectually. He wrote to every County Clerk south of the Tehachepi, and if Jimmie crosses the mountains, like Hannibal, he will find all matrimonial avenues closed to him there, for Mr. Claudius is going to pursue and defeat with potent postal cards the ambitions of his son.

Jimmie has been going to get married about a dozen times in the last two years.

His imaginative soul conceived the beauty of marriage in Avalon, when he was 18. Since then his aspirations have had many checks.

Test for Drink Habit.

Half a score of clerks in one of the largest brokerage houses in New York were astounded one morning last week when, one by one, they were called into their employer's private office and asked to hold up their feet and show the shanks of their shoes. They thought that the "old man" had gone quite mad. Each young man as he entered the office was told to sit down and put his foot up on a corner of the desk where it could be examined. Then the head of the house put on his glasses and very carefully scrutinized the shank of the shoe.

When all had been put through this examination he called the entire force of clerks into his office and explained to them why this unusual examination had been made.

"You are all aware," said he, "that I will not have a drinking man in my employ if I know it. For some time I have had good reasons for believing that several of the young men before me have been indulging quite too much. Now I know it. Here are the marks of the bar rail on the bottoms of your shoes."

Several of the young men braced themselves against the wall and lifted their feet as the blacksmith lifts the foot of a horse. Sure enough, there were the glazed, metallic marks on the dry leather. They were the evidences of guilt and the young men's faces showed it.

"It's unmistakable proof," said the head of the house. "You can fix up your breath at the drug store and the barber can clean up your eyes and face, but you neglect the shanks of your shoes."

That afternoon three young men cleaned out their desks and gave the keys to the managing clerk.—[New York Herald.

WYATT'S THEATER FOR THE ORPHEUM.

MANAGER HARRY WYATT, who has the lease of the Los Angeles Theater, has been conducting negotiations with the Orpheum management for subletting it to them after his retirement, which will occur in the near future.

Wyatt has agreed to let the theater to them on the condition that they will close up the Orpheum on Main street, and will not try to run two theaters.

Mr. Wyatt has been in cable communication with President Meyerfield of the Orpheum circuit, who is very anxious to make the move.

It is now definitely decided that Sothern's magnificent production of "If I Were King," will open the new Mason Operahouse on June 18, and the transfer from the Main-street Orpheum to the present Los Angeles Theater will probably occur somewhere near that date.

The Main-street Orpheum is the oldest theater in the city, and was for many years the old Grand Operahouse. At that time it was the only theater, and here many famous stars made their appearance before the old gas footlights. Emma Abbott has sung here, all of the younger school of American tragedians have trod its boards, and many famous stars on many visits to Los Angeles knew no other playhouse.

When Meyerfield founded the Orpheum circuit it was one of his first houses, and has been a tremendous money-maker since it fell into his hands. Everyday performances for the past five or six years have always had a full attendance, and for most of them people have been turned away.

The house will continue under the management of Clarence Drown, who came here several months ago as the successor of Eric Pollock.

GASEOUS LOWE IS EXPLODED.

Knocked in Air by Decision of Supreme Court.

Legal Bomb Goes Off Under Suit of Lowe's Corporation.

City's Right to Regulate Erection of Stinking Gasworks Fully Sustained.

To hush the yawp of the Lowe gas concern once for all, the Supreme Court of California has just handed down a decision which knocks the thing down and then rubs its nose in the dirt. It gives it one deadly swipe and does a hornpipe on the carcass.

The case was brought by Mrs. Caroline Dobbins against the city of Los Angeles to restrain the city from enforcing the ordinance forbidding the erection and maintenance of gas factories in certain sections. In the lower court the case was thrown out on demurrer, and it is this order which was appealed from.

The Supreme Court holds that the Lowe Gas Company's contention that the ordinance is void because it is a restriction of the rights granted by the Federal Constitution, is not well taken. It holds that not only is the ordinance not a restriction of that right, but it is based on a right expressly given by the State Constitution, the statutes and the city charter.

In other wards, the right to pass this ordinance is within the police power of the city—the right to prohibit the maintenance of offensive places and to regulate combustibles.

The court says that the only question is whether the adopted ordinance is a legitimate exercise of that power.

The opinion says: "It cannot be said judicially that volatile, inflammable, explosive and bad smelling gas is not within the police power of the city to regulate."

One of the grounds of appeal was that the council was moved not so much by the public welfare as by the proddings of a rival company. The court declines to discuss this. It says that the motives of a legislative body cannot be considered where the validity of a law is in dispute.

Another allegation of the appellants is that after the first ordinance the Lowe Gas Company began the erection of certain works which were included in a later ordinance. The court says that the police power covers partly erected buildings in spite of hardships to builders which may follow.

As to the contention that the permit the fire commissioners had been given the Lowe Gas Company, the court confesses that it can't see the significance. The Lowe gas lawyers claimed that this permit was an express contract on the part of the city to allow the building to proceed. The court holds that nothing in this permit can take away the police powers of the city.

The opinion does not discuss the question whether a court of equity can enjoin a criminal prosecution.

The opinion is written by Justice McFarland, and concurred in by Justices Shaw, Angelotti, Lorigan, and Henshaw.

Justice Lucien Shaw of the Supreme Court apparently considered that Superior Judge Shaw sized it about right in the lower court.

The Press of New Mexico on Each Other.

Following is one of a series of resolutions adopted at a mass meteing in Albuquerque, N. M., held May 30:

"Whereas, it is our duty to respond to any attack made upon our good name and standing as a people; therefore, be it

"Resolved, that we denounce in the most unqualified terms the malicious liar and hypocrite, Normán Skinner, as a villain unworthy to be called a Christian and a citizen of New Mexico (we have nothing to do with his church or faith and do not hold it responsible,) but request the Presbyterian Home Missions to 'deliver us' from this blot in our midst and transplant him to a more congenial clime, the farther the distance the better, and we call upon all citizens of New Mexico, irrespective of race or creed, to express their feelings publicly upon this matter.

"Be it resolved, that we feel great pride in noticing that the whole press of New Mexico, Spanish-American and English newspapers, especially the Albuquerque Daily Citizen, with only two noticeable exceptions, the Albuquerque Democrat and Las Vegas Optic, have spoken out in defense of the native people, their fellow-citizens, thereby exemplifying the unity and harmony that exists among the citizens of a common country, without distinction of race or creed, and we therefore denounce the Democrat and Optic for upholding this religious hypocrite in his abuse of the native people of the Territory and the Territory's splendid school system."

It will be seen that the resolution contains a severe denunciation of two of the New Mexico's papers, the Albuquerque Democrat and the Las Vegas Optic.

ARCADIAN BUT TOUGH.

Job of the Census Taker in Lucky Baldwin's Pipe-Dream City.

The official census taker started yesterday on the tough job of sorting out imported peons from legitimate population in "Lucky" Baldwin's pipe-dream town of Arcadia.

He is up against a hard proposition, for he is under orders not to take the word of the inhabitants for the ownership of the children found in "Lucky's" town. The Supervisors are afraid "Lucky" will run up the population by importing children to make up the 500.

The question is, how is the census taker to know whom they belong to by rights?

The census taker is supplied with an interpreter to talk to the Mexicans.

AT THE CITY HALL.

SPIRITED FRANCHISE DEBATE IN COUNCIL.

CLARK & BRYAN PAY LIBERALLY FOR CONCESSION.

City Fathers Unbosom Themselves About Franchises—Declare that Applicants must pay for all Franchises Their Real Value—Blanket Franchise Talk.

An exciting franchise debate, which netted the city $2300, was the feature of the Council session yesterday.

Councilmen declared most positively that no more franchises will be given away or sold for a song. At times the discussion grew animated and the City Fathers pounded their desks to emphasize the points in their fervid oratory.

Loads of franchise wisdom were scattered about the Council Chamber. For the franchise beginning at Ninth and Grand View streets and running for 1350 feet over Ninth, Park View and Hoover streets to Tenth street the Los Angeles Railway Company offered $200. Attorney Dunn refused to raise this bid and declared that the franchise was worth less than nothing to the company.

Clark & Bryan, who have deeded a right-of-way on Tenth street through the Westmoreland tract to the Los Angeles Railway Company, viewed the matter in a different light. The franchise was absolutely necessary to form a connecting link between the western terminus of Huntington's Ninth street line and their tract. They raised the bid to $500, then to $1000 and finally to $2500, at which figure the concession was awarded to them by the Council.

Davenport and Summerland were willing to sell the franchise for $200; Nofziger and Kern held out for $1000; Skilling and Farish valued the franchise at $2500 and McAleer declared the franchise worth $10,000 and refused to vote for the award. President Bowen and Councilman Todd were absent.

While the Westmoreland tract is in the populous section of the Fourth Ward its streets have never been accepted by the city and this fact complicated the franchise issue. It is customary for persons making subdivisions to submit maps for the approval of the Council. In this way some degree of uniformity in streets is preserved, the property rights of adjacent owners are protected and improvements are made under street department inspection.

Clark & Bryan ignored the Council and laid out their tract to suit themselves. They disregarded the protests of property owners, who had built homes on the west side of Vermont avenue and turned a tier of lots so that the rear of the houses would be toward the avenue. In many other ways the firm stirred the indignation of residents in the vicinity of their tract. All the street work was done without municipal inspection.

Thus far the city officials have steadily refused to approve the maps of the tract or to assume any responsibility whatever for the streets. A number of those now in office assert that the dedication of streets never will be accepted, owing to the high handed manner in which the firm has handled the subdivision.

When it became known that they had also deeded a franchise to the railway company further opposition was engendered. The Councilmen thought it a trick to get a franchise through a valuable part of the city without paying for it.

When the bid was opened yesterday morning E. R. Fox made a protest against its acceptance. He asked that all bids be rejected and a franchise offered for sale over a different route. He suggested that the franchise begin at Eighth and Carondelet streets in order to secure competitive bids from the Traction Company.

Farish declared that $200 was entirely too low and Skilling, said, he should oppose the sale of any more franchises at such a ridiculous figure.

After a tilt between Fox and Atchason Q. St. George over their respective property holdings in the district Attorney Oscar Lawler raised the bid to $500 on behalf of Clark & Bryan. McAleer moved to reject the bid and Summerland declared himself in favor of its acceptance because his constituents in the Fourth Ward wanted the franchise granted.

"It is a question of whether we should give away our streets," declared Farish. "If we keep on selling these franchises for $200 or $300 we will sell all the streets in the city by and by and not get more than a church collection."

Davenport wanted to know who could say what a franchise was worth. He thought the construction of railway lines essential to the growth of the city. They raised the assessment values, he said.

Skilling maintained that just because the property owners wanted the franchise the Council should not give it away.

"Gentlemen, your views on the value of street-railway franchises are truly refreshing," said Attorney Dunn. "Why, there are miles and miles of streets in every ward over which no railway company would build if given $10,000 a mile. I don't believe that the man who paid $110,000 for the Sixth-street franchise would put much money in a franchise running through these outlying tracts. A great many men have gone broke in the street-railway business in Los Angeles."

After further discussion Attorney Lawler held a whispered consultation with Acting President Nofziger and then announced that he would bid $1000 for the franchise. Nofziger called Skilling to the chair and made a speech in favor of accepting the bid.

Fox said he would post a guarantee to bid more for the franchise over the route he had suggested.

"I favor rejecting this bid," declared McAleer with emphasis. "I ask if Clark & Bryan come here in good faith when they ask us to sell two blocks of street franchise for a paltry sum and give them one and one-half miles of similar franchise. The streets are valuable. The time has come when they should no longer be given away. Companies not in existence today may come in here and want to buy franchises.

"Let's act as men and not as politicians. I say, let's act as men!" and McAleer brought his fist down hard on the top of the desk. "Then you will get $10,000 for the franchises as easily as $1000."

Nofziger was nettled at the remarks of the First Warder. He denied that he was acting as a politician. He said he was acting for the whole city, and if anyone could get $10,000 for the franchise he would withdraw his motion to make the award on the $1000 bid.

Then Farish sprung a joker. He said that if the franchise was granted and the line built over the Westmoreland tract the city could not collect the 2 per cent. of the gross earnings of the road over that mileage.

City Attorney Mathews was called in. He said it would be improbable that the city could collect the percentage unless a special agreement was entered into with the grantee.

"I feel that the promoters of this tract have not given us or the city a square deal," declared Skilling. "This smacks too much of trickery to suit me."

A vote was then taken on a motion to reject all bids, with the following result: Yeas—McAleer, Farish, Skilling; nays, Davenport, Kern, Nofziger and Summerland.

Then a motion to accept the $1000 bid was tried, as follows: Yeas, Davenport, Kern, Nofziger, Summerland; nays, Skilling, Farish, McAleer.

Six votes are necessary to award a franchise.

When the Council reconvened in the afternoon the same two motions were again put, with the same results.

Davenport made another long talk, in which he declared that "the value of a franchise is purely 'suppositionary.'"

A great silence fell upon the Council when this disclosure was made.

Wesley Clark saw that there was no hope of getting the required number of votes unless the bid was materially increased. He held a whispered consultation with Skilling. He said he would give $2000; but Skilling held out for $2500.

"I will raise the bid to $2500," said Clark, finally.

On motion of Skilling the award was made, McAleer alone voting "no."

Before the ordinance is passed the City Attorney will try to get an agreement from the grantee that will enable the city to collect the 2 per cent. of gross receipts as provided by the Broughton law.

GAS FRANCHISE.

CORNWALL FILES PETITION.

Bruce Cornwall of San Francisco, who is said to be a man of independent means, made application to the Council yesterday for a franchise to furnish gas for heating, power and illuminating purposes to the inhabitants of Los Angeles. Cornwall is represented by Oscar Lawler, Esq. The statement was made yesterday that Cornwall is not in Los Angeles. Lawler would vouchsafe no information regarding his connections in San Francisco.

It is surmised that he is affiliated with the Independent Gas and Power Company of San Francisco. Some of the city officials believe that Cornwall is a representative of the Spreckels interests. Officials of the Los Angeles Lighting Company profess to be mystified by the application.

Cornwall says he believes he is entitled to a franchise without the formalities of competitive sale, and asks the Council to pass an ordinance granting him such franchise, subject to the general regulations of the city regarding the use of the public streets. Mr. Cornwall says:

"Your petitioner respectfully represents that he is entitled to and should have said franchise from the city in order that he may at all times hereafter be enabled to have visible, available and tangible evidence of his rights in the premises, and further represents that such franchise is and will be essential to him as such evidence of his right, in interesting capital in the furtherance of his plans and purposes in the maintenance, extension and conduct of his said business of supplying gas for the purposes hereinbefore set forth.

"It is clear that your petitioner is entitled to this franchise, and that it is the duty of your Honorable Body to grant it, for under the provisions of the Constitution of the State the right to so use the public streets and thoroughfares has been declared to be the privilege of any person or corporation organized for that purpose, and the highest court of the State has declared that, this privilege existing, it is the 'imperative duty of the Council to grant the franchise' when demanded.

"Petitioner represents that his rights to have such a franchise declared upon by your Honorable Body is respectfully insisted upon for the reason that he does not wish his interests jeopardized by subsequent attack nor to remain indefinite for want of a clear definition and thereby be clouded with such uncertainties as to diminish the actual value of his service system while the franchise would yet be taxed as though it were definite and certain. As the supply of gas for power and heating purposes has been declared by the Supreme Court not to be an added burden to the privileges generally granted by the Constitution, and as the same honorable court has decided that it is the 'imperative duty' of the Council to so grant such franchise, though it includes heat and power, your petitioner asks that the franchise be so freely granted."

The petition was referred to the Board of Public Works.

MINOR MATTERS.

DAVENPORT EXPLAINS.

A very large delegation of interested property owners filled the lobby yesterday to learn the fate of the proceedings for the opening and widening of Griffith avenue, from Twenty-ninth to Jefferson street. Davenport explained that he had intended to press the motion for an abandonment of the proceedings, but that unforeseen contingencies had induced him to ask the Council for a week's delay. He promised his constituents a satisfactory solution of the opening matter at the next session. It is understood that Davenport expects the Los Angeles Railway Company to adjust the differences on the street, as a franchise over the affected portion will be sold next Monday.

A petition for the opening of Carlotta boulevard to a width of 150 feet, was referred to the Board of Public Works yesterday. This petition is part of the plan to electrize the Terminal steam road. When completed Carlotta is to connect with Monterey boulevard, which leads to Pasadena.

To the committee on Legislation was referred an ordinance amending the loitering ordinance in such manner that Sixth-street Park cannot be used for the open-air meetings of religious enthusiasts, or for other gatherings. The "Holy Jumpers" of Texas were the last straw, and the citizens of the vicinity have applied to the authorities for relief.

An ordinance was passed accepting the roadway of Broadway, from Second to Sixth street.

That belated missive labeled "sealed bid for bonds," which reached the City Clerk last Saturday, proved to be no bid at all. It was opened at the Council session yesterday, and contained the following interesting statement:

"Referring to the $2,180,000 issue of 3¾ per cent. bonds, which your city proposes to sell, we have to say that we would not be interested in these bonds bearing so low a rate of interest. If, however, you do not receive a satisfactory bid for the bonds on the day of sale, and decide to raise the rate to 4 per cent., we should be glad of an opportunity to make you an offer for your bonds."

The letter is signed by Denison, Prior & Co. of Cleveland.

On motion of Councilman Davenport the City Clerk was instructed to inform interested property owners that the assessment for the opening of Wall street, from Pico to Fifteenth street, has been made, and that the Council will hear protestants at 2 o'clock p.m. on the 22d inst.

The Building Committee of the Council was given power to superintend the construction of a small room at the rear of the City Hall for the use of the Assessor, Clerk and Tax Collector. Space is wanting in the regular offices for the proper handling of the tax rolls, and the room when completed, will be used for that purpose. A petition from the several departments requesting the improvement, was presented yesterday. Later the contract was awarded to F. O. Engstrum.

In accordance with a recommendation of the Finance Committee, the Council directed the City Attorney to present an ordinance providing for the employment of three inspectors and a milk and dairy inspector in the health department, at a salary of $80 a month.

An ordinance of intention was passed to improve Hill street, from First to Second street, by paving.

SHOULD CALL BLUFF.

BLANKET FRANCHISE DEBATE.

Because of the stand taken by Councilman Farish at the session yesterday the adverse report of the Board of Public works on the blanket franchise was not adopted.

"Call their bluff," was the keynote of Farish's speech.

It was finally decided to postpone action for one week, and to invite the promoters of the blanket franchise to appear before the committee of the whole and make a further statement.

When the report was read Farish instantly moved to postpone action.

"Relative to this blanket franchise I wish to say that it means much to the city if its promises can be fulfilled. It means a saving of 40 cents on the $1 in the cost of street car transportation; it means $500,000 to the traveling public of this city every year. The Council holds the key to the situation. It can fix the terms of the sale, the rate to be charged and the amount of the bond. The Council can reject any and all bids. If the franchise is sold the State law requires the road must be constructed within three years. Under these conditions the city might be justified in putting the franchise up for sale. It is a question of whether the offer is made in good faith or is a bluff. I say let's call that bluff.

Of course the routes named in the franchise application might have to be revised in part. But it does not cost the city anything to call the bluff, and see what these men intend to do, while if the proposition is bona fide the sale of the franchise will insure competition in the street railway business for forty years, a 3-cent fare and the expenditure of over $2,000,000 in the construction of this road.

"We can fix the bond at $1,000,000. If the applicants fail to buy the franchise no harm is done. If a satisfactory price is offered for the franchise, and the road is not built, the city will get the streets back again, and $1,000,000 in addition at the end of three years.

"I believe we should defer action one week, and have our clerk notify the petitioners to appear before the Council and make a plain statement of their intentions. If they will agree to put up the money to defray the expense of advertising the notice of sale, and will agree to a notice that is acceptable to the Council, I believe we should call the bluff on 3-cent fares and give them a chance to bid for the franchise. I will move to defer action one week."

"If anything is to be gained I will favor postponement," said McAleer.

"I move that the report of the Board of Public Works be adopted, and the franchise petition denied," said Davenport. "Public opinion rules the world, and it governs this Council. At least 76 per cent. of the people of this city are opposed to the blanket franchise. Apparently the promoters are not much interested in the sale of the franchise, as they did not attend the session of the Board of Public Works at which the report was formulated.

"This is no jay town; no 3-cent city; it's not an eastern, but a California city. Pennies do not circulate here. I think we had better vote this franchise down right now."

"Well, I don't think there is any one in the city who would not accept a 3-car ride if they were assured of good service," retorted Farish. "Let's call that bluff and see what comes of it."

Nofziger explained that the petitioner did not propose to give a regular 3-cent service, but merely to sell five tickets for 15 cents.

Farish renewed his motion. Skilling seconded it. The vote stood: Farish, Kern, McAleer and Skilling for postponement, and Davenport, Cummerland and Nofziger opposed to such action.

Whither Drifting?

There is no one at the helm of the municipal bark, and it is not inappropriate to inquire, "whither are we drifting?" Apparently toward the Yosemite Valley. Mayor Meredith Pinxton Snyder is there. Acting Mayor Bowen has followed in his footsteps. The charter makes no provision for such a contingency and Los Angeles occupies a unique position today—it is, in all probability, the only city in the United States without a Mayor or a Mayor's substitute. A spirited controversy arose yesterday between Nofziger, who had been chosen acting president of the Council, and Chairman Skilling of the Finance Committee, as to their respective rights to the Mayoralty shoes. The City Attorney rather favored Skilling, but Nofziger is far from convinced that he is not the real Chief Executive. "I can't afford a trip to the Yosemite, and I guess I am not exactly fitted for the position," sighed Skilling yesterday afternoon. Bowen alleges that he made all arrangements to visit the valley two months ago and could not foresee that Mayor Snyder would be away. President Bowen and his family will be away about ten days. Mayor Snyder is expected home tomorrow.

AT THE COURT HOUSE

JUDGE MADE MRS. DRIGGS GO ON WITNESS STAND.

SHE WAS SHY AND WARY, GIVING SMALL SATISFACTION.

She Didn't Know if it Was, but Would Not Say it Was Not Her Signature—Another Long Session of Expert Testimony.

Mrs. Driggs was smoked out yesterday morning in the Hill will case, and Judge Wilbur made her clear up the mystery of her signatures whether she would or no.

The Charles side of the case was previously put in a funny and embarrassing position by Mrs. Driggs's foxiness. Here were their learned experts prepared to prove from examples of her handwriting that the Hill will signatures were all written by her, and here was Mrs. Driggs who would not admit that she had written the letters and things by which they proposed to make comparison. She would neither affirm nor deny them.

So yesterday morning Judge Wilbur made her take the witness stand, and there asked her flatly about the signatures.

He first called her attention to a deed from her husband, Nelson Driggs, and herself to John M. Spriggs. He asked her if the signatures of herself and husband were genuine.

She looked at the document coolly.

"Well," she said, "dubiously, "my husband had variously different ways of signing his name."

"But, is it yours?"

"Well, of course it might be. It is written very poorly; I can't hardly say."

"But, is it?"

"Well, it looks as though the word Gertrude might be mine."

"But is the signature yours?"

"Why, I can't hardly say. I don't think it is, but it might be. You see I might have been nervous when I wrote it."

"Can't you tell by looking at the deed?"

"I haven't looked at it."

"Look at it, then."

She looked at it, and handed it regretfully back.

"I can't really remember."

"I would call your attention to the acknowledgment of the deed."

She did not seem impressed by the acknowledgment.

"Oh, well, of course, my husband may have signed my name to that. I always signed whatever paper he told me."

But as they kept on showing her deeds, two or three of them, she at last got to the point where she would admit a signature as having been made by herself and another by her husband.

Judge Wilbur: So you admit both signatures?

"Yes."

"And you are the proponent of the will?"

She looked at him dubiously, as though she were afraid he was calling her names. "I suppose so if you want to call me that."

Mrs. Driggs was excused and Expert Hough was again put on the witness stand to describe in detail his reasons for thinking that Salem Charles, alias Charles Hill, did not sign his name to the alleged will.

He pointed out the minute differences between the signatures of Salem Charles and his signature after he assumed the name of Charles Hill. Among other things, he said that Charles always wrote his l's higher than the capital C, whereas, in the alleged will the contrary is true.

Earl Rogers, Esq., subjected Hough to a tremendous cross-examination, which took nearly all day. Rogers is himself a handwriting expert, and has a thorough understanding of the subject.

Hour after hour they pounded away over the curls of the e's and the curves of the l's, etc.

It was highly important and exceedingly profound, but a frightful bore.

ANOTHER WIDOW.

MAKES HER CLAIM.

Another widow of the much-married Ellerton W. Aldrich turned up here yesterday as a claimant for Aldrich's money, in Judge Wilbur's court.

Aldrich is the man who was shot and killed by the police at the Hotel Savoy on Broadway while resisting arrest.

All the unattached females in the country who are not nieces of Charles Hill have turned out to be widows of Aldrich. Perhaps some are both

The claimant whose petition was filed yesterday is alleged to be the first wife that Aldrich ever had; this one he is said to have married while a very young man in Erie, Pa. He surely must have been a very young man else he would not have had time to marry all the rest of the wives. Her name is given as Susan Alexander Aldrich Stroup; she has a daughter, Effie Z. Aldrich, aged 26.

She claims in her petition that Aldrich was never married to the little Texas lady, Lenora, who is in the lead in the race for Aldrich's money. She asks for letters of administration.

Aldrich did not have such a lot of money as might be supposed from the fight that is being made for it. He had about $1200 in money and some property.

DEER SEASON LENGTHENED.

BY THE SUPERVISORS.

Open season for doves, August and September.

Deer season, July 15 to September 1.

That is the new game ordinance passed yesterday by the Supervisors.

It leaves the dove season the same and lengthens the deer season two weeks.

It was the result of a long squabble before the board between the farmers, who wanted to protect the doves and sportsmen who wanted to kill them.

The hearing came up on a petition of the Pasadena Farmers' Club to shorten the period allowed by the State law in which doves may be killed.

One of the speakers in favor of the short season was Prof. Joseph Grinnell, ornithologist.

He favored protecting doves through the fall, as many of the doves have young in the nests at that time.

Dr. Seymour of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, said he was glad to be able to say that he had never shot doves, and he didn't consider it a sportsmanlike proceeding. He said that he was convinced that even the men who are willing to shoot them would not willingly do so at the season when the mother birds are feeding their young. He offered proof to show that the doves breed during part of the open season.

Corney Pendleton appeared for the shooters. He said he didn't know much about doves until they get on the platter, but he believed it was too much trouble to climb the hills after doves, and that is where they go late in the season. He thought they ought to head 'em off.

Mr. Scott claimed that the doves do no good as pest destroyers, although Dr. Seymour said that an examination of many dove stomachs had revealed the contrary.

At the end, Supervisor Graham wanted to absolutely prohibit the shooting of doves. The board decided to stick by the old ordinance in regard to doves, not tinkering further with the State law.

The deer season was stretched out at the solicitation of Supervisor Patterson, who claimed that thirty days did not allow many business men to get into the mountains.

One of the sportsmen who came in said that the shooters from the city do not stand any responsibility for exterminating the deer; it is the ranchers who do it. He said that deer are pretty safe from the men who come out in a camp wagon with camp outfits new from the stores.

POINT TOO FINE.

GARCIA'S SHOOTING.

José Garcia was brought to trial in Judge Smith's court yesterday for assault to kill Anton Marchesi. They had a row in a saloon in Sonoratown, because Garcia desired to gamble in Marchesi's saloon in violation of the law. Marchesi threw him out, and then chased him down the street with a gun, following which Garcia returned the compliment by shooting Marchesi.

After one witness had been sworn, and Garcia had been placed in technical jeopardy of the law, Garcia's attorney tried to have the case dismissed without further trial on the ground that three words required by the statute had been left out of the information.

He claimed that it was not enough to allege that the assault had been committed upon Anton Marchesi, but claimed that it must be alleged that the assault was committed "upon the person" of Marchesi.

Judge Smith would not dismiss the charge on such ground, and the trial proceeded.

COX BUNGED UP.

WAS ARRAIGNED.

"Hully gee! what did the other fellow look like?" muttered a bystander in Judge Smith's Court yesterday when Ernest Cox was led in to be arraigned for assault to commit murder.

He was swathed in bandages until his head was hardly to be seen at all. He was about the most doleful and woe-begone specimen of humanity that ever stepped inside a courtroom.

Cox is the young man who attempted to kill Nellie Courser, the waiter girl, of whom he was madly jealous, because she was going to live with another man.

OFF HIS FEED.

COVINA JUDGE.

The Supreme Court of Covina got a sarcastic rap from the District Attorney yesterday.

The Covina Justice of the Peace had bound over a man named E. R. Bell for stealing a bicycle, and the District Attorney had the papers in his hand.

"I want to return these papers," said the District Attorney. "I refuse to file an information on any such case. He is charged with stealing a bike. Well, he didn't steal it. The evidence at the preliminary examination showed that he didn't; I can't see why he was ever held over for trial."

The case was dismissed.

WANTED TO CONFESS.

FRANKIE WAS PENITENT.

Frankie Ray, one of the graduates of Lena Donahue's fast house, is in the singular position of believing herself guilty of a crime she did not commit. You would infer that at any rate from a slight difference of opinion that Frankie had with her lawyer, "El Hutch," yesterday morning.

She was arraigned on a charge of "touching" a man for $40 in a crib.

Frankie was plainly in a mood melting with penitence.

"Are you guilty or not guilty?" asked the District Attorney.

Frankie bent her head with a pious look, and was about to speak, when "El Hutch" rushed in. "Not guilty; not guilty," he whispered hoarsely.

Frankie scowled at him and flirted her dress around, so that she had her back turned on him. She stood there pouting, and her mouth was making very ugly-looking motions. Frankie wanted to plead guilty.

Frankie had come back to be revaccinated with reform virus. The first time it didn't take.

When she was first arrested, Judge Smith let her go at the earnest solicitation of a number of charitable ladies who were convinced by Frankie's tearful protestations that she wanted to be good, be it ever so painful. She hadn't gone any farther than San Bernardino when she robbed another man and was brought back in disgrace.

Two other women were arraigned in Judge Smith's court yesterday for larceny—both ladies of easy reputation. One was Henrietta Lynch, and the other a pretty girl named Bessie Wood, who has seen the inside of a jail before.

BIG BOY.

STARTLED JUDGE SMITH.

Judge Smith glared over his spectacles at a hulking giant, as big as the side of a house.

"How old do you say this boy is?" he demanded.

"He's just 16," said the District Attorney, doubtfully.

"Well, if he is 16, he is the biggest boy I ever saw for 16," said the court skeptically.

The boy in question was Frank Winget, charged with stealing a bicycle. His father testified that he is only 16, and thus saved him from going to prison. He was sent to Whittier.

AFTER BLIND PIGS.

SALOON MEN FINED.

Hog cholera has broken out among the "blind pigs" of the county—"blind pigs" being the slang name for places where liquor is sold without a license.

Henry Gorman, the proprietor of the Cahuenga roadhouse, was fined $125 yesterday by Justice Young. Mrs. Thornburg was fined $50 for the same offense at "Alkali Al's" southwest of the city. Franz Vaureller was fined $125 for running a blind pig at Washington street. A. M. Hoke, proprietor of a house on Washington street, has been arrested.

COURT NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

'NOTHER HUNTINGTON COMPANY. Pacific Land Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $400,000, of which $4000 has been subscribed. Directors: H. E. Huntington, Epes Randolph, J. A. Muir, Howard E. Huntington, George Patten.

INSANE FROM SPIRITUALISM. Trying to have friendly doings with friends in the "spirit world" was the cause of the insanity of Mrs. May Johnson, who was sent to the insane asylum yesterday. She is in such a terrible condition physically, as well as mentally, that she is not expected to live but a short time. She went insane studying spiritualism. She has no friends here, and is in a pitiable condition. An attempt has been made to communicate with her husband, who is supposed to be in Colorado Springs.

QUICK WORK. J. C. Walker was held over by Justice Pierce yesterday on a charge of forgery. He is alleged to have passed checks signed with the name of James Keene, and made out to the order of Jack Grundy. One was on the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank. A few hours after the examination, he pleaded guilty before Judge Smith and got a year in Folsom.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

GREENBERG'S KID EARNED A STAR.

HELD THIEF BY THE LEG TILL POLICE OFFICER ARRIVED.

How the City Treasury "Hit" the Chinese Lottery—The "Chinks" Simply Said "Yes," but the White Men Put up a Bluff.

Coplan Greenberg hasn't filed an application with the Civil Service board, nor applied for a place on the police force, but he has passed successfully the crucial examination, and after he has sufficiently increased his fourteen years, he should be tendered a place on the force.

At the trial of Juan Rodriguez yesterday, for stealing three watches from the show window of Simon Greenberg's store, the proprietor's gritty fourteen-year-old son told how he had captured the thief:

"I was standin' by a post in front of the store, when I saw this here feller in the window. When he came out I grabbed his hands and a watch fell on the floor; then he punched me, but I held to his vest and tried to search him some more; then he punched me again, and run and throwed a watch out in the street. I run after him, and caught him around the leg, and he punched me again, but I held on to his leg till that man over there come and helped me hold him till the police come and took him."

Rodriguez, who is a heavily-built Mexican, owned up to the whole story, and said the boy had told it straight. He was sentenced to seventy-five days on the chain gang.

Lucky Lottery Tickets.

The Police Court had a lot of lottery tickets yesterday, that paid good dividends into the city's coffers.

Ah Sing was caught with about 500 tickets in his Chinatown joint, and paid a fine of $40. When Officer Parker raided his place the chink dexterously threw all the tickets into a pail of water, but the officer saw the move and rescued them.

Chon Wah and Ting Luen were caught on the street, by Officer Strode, each with a bunch of tickets in his pockets. Like Ah Sing, they pleaded guilty and were fined $30 each.

J. O. Forquer went into one of the Chinese joints on Sunday to see a friend, and while there the friend, whose name he had forgotten, gave him a lottery ticket to keep for him, and then handed him a bunch which were supposed to be lucky numbers. Just after all this friendly friendliness of his friend had taken place, the police officer looked in, and it cost Forquer $20 for being so accommodating. He is an old man, getting quite gray, and, of course, he told the unvarnished truth.

P. Geery ended the line. He said he had been sick, and just took a shy at the lottery to help himself out, but he failed to reach the vein of sympathy lying under Justice Chambers's unwrinkled cuticle, and he was likewise ordered to "duff up" a twenty.

Sheriff's Chef Astray.

It must have been a great humiliation for Sheriff White's cook to come down from the county bastile and suffer himself to be penned up in the City Jail.

When W. H. Eldred was arraigned before Justice Chambers yesterday for drunkenness, he said he was cook at the County Jail. He said it with a sort of dignity, you know, as if he was just a little proud of the job, and felt that his position might shield him from a heavy sentence; but it didn't. He got five days, which is recognized as the limit for a first-term common drunk.

It's Easy, if You Loiter.

Charles Williams, a Pasadena painter, was bleeding from a great gash in his head, and was about $27 short in cash, when picked up by the police on Sunday in the Buena Vista-street section. He couldn't tell anything about it, but agreed that he must have been drunk, and was let go on a suspended sentence.

Frank Mar, another painter, got off in the same way. It was the painters' lucky day.

John Hawkins, a rancher, slipped through on a "floater." He couldn't even guess how it all came about, but he was picked up in Sonoratown also, when very drunk, and claimed to have been robbed of $300.

COURT BREVITIES.

Peter Viotts, proprietor of a winery, confessed to having sold bottles of wine to two police officers in citizen's dress on Sunday, and was fined $15.

Al Moore, a teamster, was released from jail, Saturday morning, at the close of a sentence for drunkenness. He was netted on the same complaint on Sunday, and has started in on a fifteen-day turn.

B. Ballerino, who is charged with a violation of the health ordinance, on account of the condition of the plumbing, down among his "crib" residences, had the trial reset for Thursday.

MINES AND MINING.

COMPLETE ORE TESTING PLANT FOR THIS CITY.

COMPANY PLANNING TO ERECT ONE NEAR RIVER.

Yellow Aster Company Will Not Listen to Miners' Union—Items of Importance in Copper World—Road Into Nevada Planned.

Plans are being matured for the establishment in this city of testing works, of large capacity, where ores of any class can be treated by the most improved processes. The company having this enterprise under consideration is known as the Southwestern Metallurgical Works, recently incorporated with a capitalization of $50,000 and the backing of local mining men.

The promoters of this enterprise include P. H. McDermott, at one time connected with the Exposed Treasure mine near Mojave, W. K. Reese, Jr., Dr. J. Koebig, Charles T. Brant, until recently metallurgist at the Yellow Aster mine, and others.

According to the promoters, it is their intention to establish what will be the most up-to-date testing works in the State. It will have a capacity for treating from 100 pounds to carload lots, and will cost in the neighborhood of $20,000, and will be established, probably, near the intersection of Pasadena avenue and the river.

The works will be equipped with dry and wet crushing rolls, stamps, concentrators, roasting furnaces, cyanide and chlorination plants, besides machinery to handle ores by any special or combination process. The laboratory is to be a feature, and if plans are carried out will be fitted with the latest and most complete apparatus where any kind of work can be successfully handled, from a simple ore assay to a complicated chemical analysis.

Besides all the latest machinery there will be storage capacity for 500 tons, and complete automatic sampling works.

"We believe there is an opening for such a plant as we propose to establish here," said C. T. Brant, who will be superintendent of the works. "This class of work is now done at El Paso, Denver or Selby, and there seems no reason why a well equipped plant in this city, operated by first-class men in their line, should not be made a success. We are now negotiating for a good site, and if this deal is closed we will begin actual construction within the next few days."

YELLOW ASTER SNUBS UNION.

"If the employés of our company have any grievances, real or otherwise, they will be heard, provided they make their complaints as individuals; the demands of the union will not be entertained." Thus spoke President John Singleton of the Yellow Aster Mining and Milling Company yesterday, and Mr. Singleton spoke with emphasis.

President Singleton voiced the sentiments of the operators in the Randsburg camp. The miners' union, that is attempting to force an increase of from [illegible] to $3.50 a day for miners, and from [illegible] to $3 a day for muckers in the Randsburg mines will find that the operators are of one mind and that the demands will be met by a refusal. There will be no concession. That is evident in the statement made yesterday by President Singleton to the effect that the Yellow Aster mine would be closed before the increase would be entertained.

At a meeting of the directors of the Yellow Aster company yesterday the following notice was drawn up and has been posted at the mine.

"To the employés of the Yellow Aster Mining and Milling Company: Gentlemen: You are hereby notified that any grievance of any of the employés will be given proper and courteous attention by the company, if such matters are presented as individuals, as has been the custom in the past.

"Yellow Aster Mining and Milling Company, E. H. Barton, superintendent."

"Mining in the Randsburg camp is easy," said Mr. Singleton. "The miners have little or nothing to complain of; they get their pay regularly and it is a well-known fact that they don't have to kill themselves in mining under conditions that exist there."

The fire of Saturday at Randsburg was quite as disastrous as first reported, according to reports received yesterday. The loss will be fully $100,000. There is now some doubt regarding the early commencement of rebuilding, owing to the threatened trouble. If the miners' union continues its demand the mines will be closed, and if the mines are closed, merchants have declared that they will not rebuild their stores at this time.

IMPORTANT TO COPPER INDUSTRY.

George Mitchell of this city, superintendent of the Greene Consolidated works at Cananea, and owner of large mining interests in Mexico, lately stated before an assemblage of mining engineers at Swansea, Wales, that the construction of the Panama Canal will materially change the reduction processes in the Sonora copper districts. He asserted that with the advantage of [illegible] and of water transportation copper matte could be shipped from Sonora to Swansea and there refined, and the copper sold at a profit of $28 a ton, considerably more than is made now by marketing the black copper in the United States.

MAY MAKE COPPER GOODS.

For about the third time the rumor is afloat that at Cananea is to be built a large factory for the manufacturing of copper goods, particularly for sale within the republic of Mexico. It would necessitate the refining of the copper at the same place, but the Mexican traffic charges are so heavy upon this class of ware that it is believed that an immense profit would result.

Six 500-ton furnaces are now being built at Cananea. They will give the works eleven furnaces, with the daily [illegible] ore, consisting of the largest capacity for the reduction of 7500 tons smelting plant in the world.

Not far from the Calumet and Arizona is the property of the Wolverine and Arizona Company, which has commenced sinking on the Broken Promise claim. Extensive surface improvements are being made, in the preparation for sinking on the old reliable lime contact.

The Marquette and Arizona shaft is down something over 100 feet. The miners are encouraged by finding small stringers of copper-stained rock and bits of good copper ore once in a while. The shaft is being driven with three shifts of men a day.

On the Lake Superior and Pittsburgh property two shafts are down about 1000 feet. Work is somewhat delayed by a heavy flood of water, but it is expected that the ore body will be struck within a couple of hundred feet.

G. E. Tomlinson of Bisbee and of the Copper Glance company writes that a good find has been made in that property. Workmen have been running a drift at the 500-foot level, and recently encountered a foot of leach ore. These leached-ore lodes are indicative of the permanent ore bodies near by, and the operators are greatly encouraged. The company recently placed orders for new machinery, and when it arrives sinking will be resumed.

ROAD INTO NEVADA.

A special to the Bakersfield Californian from Mojave says that C. W. Craig has been in Owens River Valley, Inyo county, for the past month gathering information for eastern railroad people as to the business a railroad would secure from Mojave to the Owens River Valley, and possibly pushing on to Tonopah. This road would reach the Olanche fruit district from Keeler, the present terminus of the Carson and Columbus Railroad, eighteen miles; then would take its course on the western side of Owen's Lake and river of the same name, skirting the eastern slope of the Sierra Nevada Mountains on their way to Bishop, and strike the following farming and mining towns and distances as follows: From Mojave to Olanche, 95 miles; from Olanche to Lone Pine, 25 miles; from Lone Pine to Independence, 16 miles; from Independence to Big Pine, 28 miles; from Big Pine to Bishop, 16 miles; from Mojave, 180 miles.

Mr. Craig has been engaged in the newspaper business in Redlands some time past. He stated that he found the people alive to the importance of an outlet to Southern California, and he had no trouble in securing a bonus of $50,000, with a promise of all necessary ground for depot and right of way.

ACTIVITY OF WARREN DISTRICT.

Activity in the Warren copper camp of Arizona continues unabated, with most of the mining being done by companies with double-jointed names, that indicate to a degree the location of the home offices.

The Calumet and Pittsburgh is sinking a double-compartment shaft and has found some good ore. The prospecting shaft is down 900 feet, and while it is understood nothing phenomenal has been found, there is every prospect that the mine will be a good producer. This property is peculiar in that the ore has been found materially outside of what has been considered the ore zone.

The Calumet and Bisbee is a property adjoining the South Bisbee. Three shifts of miners are being worked on the main shaft, with the expectation of striking the South Bisbee ore body at a depth of 1000 feet. The shaft is only a couple of hundred feet deep, but has been equipped in the most modern manner for deep mining.

CONTEST OVER MISSION MINES.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, June 8.—The trial of the case of John Stewart vs. Nelson G. Douglass and Rosalind O. Butterfield, which is to determine the ownership of the valuable lepidolite mines at Pala, known as the Stewart and Mission mines, was to have been commenced this morning in the Superior Court, but objection was raised to the taking of testimony on the part of the plaintiff, on the grounds that the complaint does not state a cause of action. Stewart says that he secured the services of Douglass to locate the claims, with the understanding that the records should show that each of them were joint owners in the property, but that Douglass located them in his own name, thus claiming the title to the mines. Douglass denies that there was such an understanding. Barstow and Verall are counsel for plaintiff, and Valentine & Newby and Titus & Shaw for the defendant.

The court sustained the objections on the ground that there was no showing in the complaint that plaintiff had done no work which entitled him to a share of $30,000. The defendant's motion to dismiss the complaint went over to tomorrow morning.

WILL SOON DECIDE IT.

Superior Court Expected to Render an Opinion Today in Case Involving Derated Police Officers.

A ripple of excitement was caused among the members of the police force last night by the report that a decision had been rendered in the cases brought by the derated police officers against the Board of Police Commissioners for reinstatement, and that the decision had been in favor of the officers, practically knocking out the civil service provisions of the amended city charter in so far as they apply to the police and fire departments.

An investigation of the rumor showed that the decision has not been actually rendered, but the opinion of the Superior Court in the cases is being prepared, and all that is necessary to make it effective is its rendition in open court. The action is for a writ of mandate to compel the Board of Police Commissioners to reinstate the officers who are plaintiffs in the case. They are former Secretary Cottle, former Bailiff Rosso and former Desk Sergeant Edwards.

No person except the judge of the department in which the case is pending, knows what the decision will be, but there is a persistent rumor that it will be in favor of the derated officers. If such is the decision it will have an important effect upon the administration of affairs in both police and fire departments. It has been contended that the provisions of the amendments to the charter with reference to those departments are contradictory and ambiguous. The reason lies in the fact that all of the amendments proposed to the people were not ratified at the election last December, and in some of the sections which were carried at the polls reference is made to certain sections which were defeated. It is therefore held that these sections are not binding inasmuch as they refer to something which is not now, and never was a part of the charter. The decision may be made public today.

Getting Acquainted.

"We hesitated about renting this place," said the woman who had just moved in, until we learned that the families on both sides of us owned their houses. It is so unpleasant to live where the people next door are always changing, and you never know what kind of neighbors you are going to have."

"Yes," responded the woman on the other side of the fence. "That's one reason why we are trying to sell our house."—[Chicago Tribune.

Beach Cottage Furniture.

It has been demonstrated time and time again that a beach cottage containing artistic furniture will sell or rent for a much higher price than an equally good cottage furnished with the ordinary kinds of home furniture. It has been the fashion of some to put discarded pieces of furniture in their beach homes. This is a mistake. The furniture for a summer cottage should be selected carefully, and in order to have the largest variety to select from you should come to our store. Freshen up your cottage with a few new pieces—you will make money by doing so.

We show "Arts and Crafts," Jansen's raffia, the finest reed and rustic pieces. The designs are new, novel, different; all designed for comfort and beauty.

Brewery Talk No. 11

One of the Rooms in our Brewery

In a room where the beer is kept for so long a time before served to mankind, must indeed be a well-prepared room for that purpose. To keep the beer the right temperature and maintain all the properties that it has acquired so far, there is every precaution used. The tanks are made from wood that will in no way give a disagreeable flavor to the beer. The inside of the tanks are varnished and so prepared that not the least particle of anything can find a way into the inside. Here also the rooms are snowy white, presenting a picture of pureness and cleanliness. Our department here is enlarged from time to time as our trade increases. It has become so enlarged that today it is one of massiveness in size and structure. A glass of beer examined here before it has gone through every process necessary takes on the appearance of the real, pure beer. Thus we find that in every detail the Los Angnles Brewing Co. seeks to give to the trade the best that can be manufactured. And the constantly increasing trade verifies the statement that there is "none better manufactured." Those having once used it become regular customers. Those who have not, should become acquainted with its merits and excellent qualities. Noted scientists acknowledge that there are properties of nourishment in beer that is properly made. This is what is sought for by the Los Angeles Brewing Company—to make properly brewed beer. That it has attained all these essentials thousands attest. When you drink your friend's good health and wish him joy and happiness, pledge them with the well-known and renowned

E. S. Fancher, retired, of 118 S. 18th street, says: "I had attacks of kidney complaint for several years and every time I caught a cold it settled in these organs and I suffered severely. When the spells were at their worst I could hardly stoop or bend, or get up and down from a chair. On such occasions trouble with the kidney secretions existed and when last annoyed I noticed Doan's Kidney Pills advertised at Dean's Drug Store at second and Spring streets and got a box. I found that the remedy did all that was claimed for it. In a very short time I was completely cured of the attack. I have taken a barrel of medicine during my life, but I never found anything which suited my case as Doan's Kidney Pills have."

AMERICANS IN MEXICO.

Astonishing the Natives by Their Energy.

Building Railroads at a Remarkable Rate of Speed.

Government's Solicitude About Funds—General News from the Republic.

By Edward C. Butler.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

CITY OF MEXICO, June 1, 1903.—The genius of necessity has enabled Americans to accomplish perfect wonders in the world of mechanics. This fact is illustrated by the experience of the young Americans from Los Angeles, who are building the Pan-American Railroad in Southern Mexico, the last link of the intercolonial line that is destined, this year, to connect New York and Guatemala, via Mexico, by an all-rail route, broad gauge at that. General Manager J. M. Neelands, who has just returned to Los Angeles, said that both H. L. Heintz and W. B. Green, who are constructing the road from Tonala to San Geronimo, and placing the telegraph line in connection therewith, are young men, full of energy, ambitious and enthusiastic. With a gang of 800 men they are building a kilometre per day, an unusual if not unprecedented record for Mexico. The only American contractor who has perhaps surpassed this record is Col. Joseph H. Hampson. The Pan-American has laid 127 kilometres of track and has 100 kilometres more graded. They expect to inaugurate the line by September 16, and have regular trains running before the end of the year. J. H. Bowman, chief engineer, is pushing the work from Tonala to the Guatemalan frontier.

J. E. Jennings, the master mechanic, comes from a family of railroad builders. His brother serves the Mexican Central in like capacity. His record reads like a chapter from the Swiss Family Robinson, only the scene of his unique operations is wild jungle lands in the southernmost corner of this republic. He is cut off from all sources of supplies and constructtion, without any access to manufacturers and iron workers. Yet he has set up his shops and gone into the business of building locomotives and cars from the ground up. In the past four months he has practically constructed four locomotives, which are now in active service and doing as good work as the painted and polished engines from the United States.

At the same time, with the aid of the big Tehuantepec Indians and the mahogany-dyed natives of Chiapas and Campeche, and a few skilled operatives from California, he has built, during the past four months fifty-one cars. He has equipped them all with air brakes and hand brakes, many of them of his own construction. The rolling stock thus constructed in the distant South are perfectly substantial even if not quite as elegant as the machine-turned engines and cars of the United States. The Mexican peon, like the Japanese, is very imitative, and although astonished at the marvels they see, the mechanics under Jennings are turning out to be very effective. They also possess seemingly infinite patience and are not idle men at all; in fact, the laboring element in Southern Mexico is superior to that found in the central and northern portions of the Mexican republic.

ANXIOUS ABOUT APPROPRIATIONS.

The Mexican government is scrupulous in the accounting for the funds, ordinary and extraordinary, expended by it for public improvements. The annual budget of receipts and expenditures is always accompanied by a detailed report of the items to be met, as well as the expenditures in the preceding fiscal year. Among the many items of public expenditure which have occasioned the government the greatest of anxiety is the appropriation, made year after year for the construction and maintenance of the Tehuantepec Isthmus National Railroad, the short line of about 100 miles, connecting the Gulf of Mexico and the Pacific Ocean. The history of that road reads like romance. Millions have been expended, and it is only just now commencing, under the substantial work of Sir Weetman Pearson, to develop into a practical possibility. Like great quicksands, the marshy lands of the Gulf coast have swallowed up miles of track and buildings, which have again and again been replaced, and whole leagues of artificial ground have been created to make footing for the engines and cars. Discouragement has been written on the face of the entire undertaking, but still the government has stuck to the chilling proposition.

NEW QUARANTINE RULES.

The United States Treasury Department has just issued new regulations regarding the inspection and quarantine of animals imported into the United States, and the regulations effect Mexico somewhat: Horses for breeding, show, sale, grazing, or other work, must be inspected at port of entry. Those belonging to Indian tribes or scouts, or used in connection with stock-raising (cow ponies,) and mining, and those for temporary stay along frontier, not to exceed two weeks, do not require inspection. Horses admitted in bond for re-export from the United States, will be admitted without inspection. They are to be inspected, however, at the ports of exportation. All cattle are subject to inspection on being brought from Mexico into the United States. Cattle for breeding, milk production, grazing or feeding, must be accompanied by affidavits that they have been in the district from which shipped for six months directly preceding shipment, and have not been exposed for such period to any contagious disease. All cattle not covered by such affidavit, are to be held at the border, at expense of the shipper, for one week, in quarantine, and during that time a rigorous inspection will be made. Cattle for immediate slaughter may be admitted upon inspection only, when found free from disease. When so entered, such cattle shall be subject to the regulations pertaining to the transportation of cattle from the district infected with Texas fever or splenetic fever. Sheep and swine are subject to the same ruling as cattle.

LIVES SACRIFICED TO SCIENCE.

In my last letter I gave particulars of the death in this city of Dr. Luna y Drusina, chemist of the Board of Health, he having died of typhus contracted while examining the viscera of a man supposed to have been poisoned. Dr. Juan José Ramirez de Arellano, also of the Board of Health, was commissioned to continue the work commenced by Dr. Drusina, but he also was attacked by typhus while examining the poisoned viscera, and died this week. Deceased, who thus sacrificed his life to the cause of medical investigation was one of the prominent physicians of this city. He was for a number of years member of the City Council, and recently connected with the Board of Health, and was sanitary inspector of some of the governmental institutions.

The crops promise exceedingly well this year. With the exception of a few portions of Tlaxcala, Queretaro, Guanajuato, Durango and Sonora, the corn, wheat, beans, rice and coffee are in unusually fine condition. From Sonora great quantities of oranges have been exported to the United States, and Canada, where that fruit is sold in gold at three times the sum it is sold in silver in the Mexican market. The vanilla product in the Pantala district, State of Vera Cruz, was so abundant this year that the farmers have had to employ women and children in harvest time, as there were not enough peons, and the crop was too precious to allow it to go to waste. In the Laguna cotton belt, where the great irrigation works were established some years ago, and which lies in the States of Durango, Chihuahua and Coahuila, the planters expect the biggest crop ever raised, and they are opening up large tracts of new lands. In view of the success attained in cotton growing in that northern portion of the republic, that product is now being planted out in the Yaqui country. Heniquen and coffee are being sent out from Mexico as never before and bringing the best prices ever commanded. In the southern part of Nuevo Leon the wheat fields are already shooting into ears, and the corn called maize temprano, or early corn, promises splendid returns.

ADVANCING TOWARD PROHIBITION.

Gov. Pimentel of the State of Chiapas, who is considered one of the most progressive men in the government circles, is taking advanced steps for the betterment of his people. His State has just taken legislative action toward prohibition, being the first in the Mexican Union to do so, and this step was taken as a result of the recent visit of Mrs. Fields, the temperance worker, of this city. Following the example of Gov. Landa y Escandon of the Federal district, he has ordered the early closing of the saloons, and has gone even further. He is an ardent advocate of high license, and also of a greater tax being put on the distillation of aguardiente. He also recently sent to Yucatan for shoots of the heniquen plant, with the intention of having it raised in Chiapas, whose soil is considered as good as that of Yucatan for that plant. After the late eruption in the republic of Guatemala, when the volcano of Santa Maria sent its devastating ashes for hundreds of miles, and they fell sometimes two inches in depth in his State, Gov. Pimentel personally visited the coffee districts to see how he might aid the planters. Fortunately the fall of ashes was not deep enough or hot enough to hurt the coffee.

IN BRIEF.

In Southern Mexico the mahogany has been depleted from the forests along most of the streams deep enough to float the logs, but back from the deeper waterways the forests remain untouched. American companies in Illinois, Pennsylvania and Iowa are contemplating taking up tracts of the virgin forests, and making roads thereto. Something like 600,000 acres have thus been recently taken up in the State of Campeche.

There are indications of mineral oil near Guadalcazar, in the State of Guerrero. A mining man, Albert Drysdale, who has just returned from Guerrero, so reports. Some denouncements of oil lands are about to be made.

The law of June 4, 1901, permitting the importation of horses free of duty, has been extended to June 30, 1904.

June 9, Flower Day, will be appropriately observed at the rooms of the W.C.T.U. in this city. Mrs. Fields, the active temperance agitator in charge (who is active without being offensive) is collecting a free library for the reading-room, and some kind people in the United States and Mexico, interested in the noble work, are making donations of books and magazines.

Among the arrivals from the United States this week was A. L. Benney of St. Louis, who will go to the State of Chiapas, where he is interested in the growing of heniquen. He is planning to install machinery to make rope of the fiber, which he is cultivating. He has already a small rope-making machine on his property, and as it is a success, he has decided to enter upon manufacture of heniquen on a large scale.

Under date of November 17, 1897, the City Council granted to William H. Hayden, an American, a concession to establish and develop a factory for making hydro-carbon gas, which concession he transferred to the City of Mexico Light and Power Company, and it has just been declared forfeited. The forfeit included the $10,000 deposited as guarantee by concessionaires in the National Bank of Mexico. This is an opening for capital, provided they combine practical knowledge of the business with the necessary capital.

Hon. J. M. Castillo Velasco, Consul-General of Argentine Republic, in speaking of the trans-Andean Railway, being brought to completion, said that through the combined efforts of Chile and Argentine only about fifteen or twenty miles of railroad are to be built to connect the railway systems of the two republics. This route will deflect much traffic from the Panama Canal, and make Valparaiso and Buenos Ayres very important commercial ports. People in the United States or Mexico have no idea of the immense engineering difficulties to be overcome between Soledad in Chile and Inca in Argentine. There is only one place in the republic of Mexico where the enormous difficulties confronting engineering skill in the surmounting of the Cordilleras of South America can be compared, and that is on the road to Batapilas, in the State of Chihuahua.

The American and Mexican Smelting and Refining Company has opened an office in the city of Durango, for the purchase and working of ores. A party of engineers has gone to Durango to make plans and specifications for the power dam and power plant talked of for that place. Some American engineers recently fixed the cost of the dam at $20,000 silver. The company will be able to reduce the cost of the city lighting one-half. It will also reduce most of power for manufacturing concerns, which are being opened there by Americans.

A Durango inventor has just made a labor-saving flour machine. The inventor is an American, David Anthony, and his invention is the grooving of cylinders to a flour mill. It works automatically, and does the work that before required two men. It is applicable to all classes of flour mills. The actual cost of each machine, the inventor says, will not exceed $200. Prior to the discovery made by Anthony it required a machine costing $2000 and the services of two men. He is a young man, and has already made a record for inventiveness, having made a nixtamal machine, that was the best thing of the kind for the milling of the nixtamal.

Business men in this city are commencing to appreciate the effort of the Women's Exchange to provide noonday lunches. The move is undertaken in the interests of charity, and is becoming immensely popular and profitable.

Full committees are being organized for the Fourth of July celebration at this capital by the American colony. As was the case last year the celebration will be held in the spacious Tivoli Eliseo.

Gen. H. C. M. Agramonte, the brilliant editor of the Anglo-American of this city, left last night on a trip to San Francisco and Salt Lake, and expects to make a trip through the bad lands of Nevada. He will be absent for a number of weeks, during which time the Anglo-American will be edited by his wife, one of the cleverest thinkers and writers in the Anglo-American colony, and perhaps the most original.

The American Mexican Banking Company is a new concern that is now proposed in this city. It is still in its formative stages, and the working capital of $200,000 was easily raised here during this week. F. J. Dunkerly and A. D. Putnam, respectively the assistant manager and cashier, and the auditor of the American Bank, will be connected with the new concern, the former in the capacity of general manager and the latter as cashier. Both will leave the American Bank on August 1, and the new banking concern will then assume business, being officed somewhere in San Francisco street.

Memorial Day was fittingly celebrated on Saturday by the local post of the G.A.R., the O.R.C. Ord Post, No. 100. In honor of the day the American flag floated half-masted over the United States embassy and the consulate, and the Cuban legation also had the courtesy to hoist its flags. Capt. John Ayres, the veteran superintendent of the American Cemetery, himself an old sailor of the American navy, who had his hearing impaired by a cannon concussion, had decorated the National Cemetery with beautiful flowers and flags. This cemetery is American soil, the property of the United States government, the site of the graceful shaft that rests over the remains of the Americans who fell in the campaign of 1847 in the historic Valley of Mexico. After the reading of general orders from the general post commander in New York, Gen. Agramonte, the post adjutant, delivered a telling oration. The exercises included invocation by the post chaplain, Rev. W. H. Sloan; songs by the male quartette, composed of Messrs. Hill, Healey, Selover and Lee, and the sprinkling of flowers on the graves of the Federal and Confederate soldiers and sailors dreamlessly asleep in that quiet corner of the Valley of Mexico. The soldiers' monument was draped with the American flag, and at its base, after the regular exercises, a short and eloquent speech was made by the United States Ambassador, Gen. Powell Clayton, who also read a poem written by himself during his late illness, appropriate to the occasion. For the first time in these commemorative celebrations of the American colony, a committee was present from the Military Academy of Chapultepec, and a group of the handsome cadets placed wreathes on the American monument. This courtesy was paid in kind after the ceremonies at the cemetery, when the committee, headed by Gen. Clayton, placed beautiful floral wreaths on the monument erected at Chapultepec to the cadets who, in September, 1847, fell in the defense of that castle against the Americans. It was a touching and tender interchange of international courtesies, one of those unwritten chapters in diplomacy that do more than tons of diplomatic notes toward affirming and perpetuating the kindred friendships between Mexicans and Americans.

The following were arrivals from California during the week: Mrs. A. J. Bacon, W. F. Hase, B. Harris and children, V. Vargas, J. G. Zavares, P. McPaso, San Francisco; W. J. Lyons, J. F. Lee, H. McKey, Los Angeles.

1300 Tons of Gold.

Nearly 1300 tons of gold lie today in the vaults of the treasury of the United States—the greatest hoard of the yellow metal ever gathered in the history of the world. Four hundred tons of this gold are piled, like bags of salt, within the four walls of the subtreasury in Wall street, New York. Outside the treasury hoard there is in circulation through the country a nearly equal amount of gold coin, making more than 2500 tons of gold in the United States, bearing the imprint of the eagle. The value of this coin is more than $1,260,000,000.

One of the remarkable things about this gold is that, despite the fact of its forming one-half of the country's circulating money, it is rarely seen in the course of ordinary business. One may live in New York or Chicago or San Francisco without seeing a single gold coin for a year. This is in striking contrast to conditions abroad, where gold is everybody's coin. The gold sovereign of England is as current as the $5 silver certificates of this country. There, a man with a small income may not have a piece of paper money (the £5 Bank of England note is the smallest) in his hands for months. What becomes of all our American gold? The mines of Colorado, California, Alaska, and other gold producing regions of the West add $80,000,000 a year to our hoard of gold, and three-fourths of this output goes to the mints. The yearly coinage of gold actually approaches in value the entire circulation of silver dollars.

The treasury holds in trust, against outstanding gold certificates, $400,000,000 in gold coin. These gold certificates range from $20 to $10,000. They are issued from the treasury in exchange for gold coin or bullion, and are just as good as gold. The Englishman wears his pockets out carrying gold coin around with him; the American prefers to have his money in the form of representative paper that can be folded compactly in his waistcoat pocket. In the subtreasury at New York, recently, I picked up a handful of gold certificates to the value of $3,600,000; the bundle could be stowed away in one's hip pocket, but it represented seven tons of gold. Stored in the vaults of the building at the time was a hoard of gold coin of the value of $200,000,000. In one vault, no larger than the bedroom of a New York flat, was an aggregate of $78,000,000 in gold. This was stored in little white bags stowed away in scores of steel boxes, covering the four walls of the vault from floor to ceiling. Every box was sealed, and some of the seals were dated several years back. The first thought, at sight of this gold hoard, is that it is idle money, but it should be recalled that all of it is in circulation by proxy in the form of gold certificates.—[Success.

A SPLENDID TOURISTS' HOTEL.

The Washington of Seattle Easily Leads All Others of the North Coast.

Tourists traveling North from California will find the Washington Hotel at Seattle an elegant halting place for a day, a week or for months. It was opened with especial attention to the wants of tourists, having elegant verandas, from which the scenic view is unsurpassed anywhere. The chef is of the best and the entire arrangement and appurtenances of the hotel are, without doubt, the equal of any hotel in the country. Seattle is now enjoying delightful weather, and is, in fact, a summer resort worth visiting.

The climate there at this season is neither too warm nor too cold—just delightful.

Seattle is the gateway of the Orient, as well as the principal point of departure for Alaska, hence all tourists center there, particularly during the summer, and the Washington Hotel will be the tourists' headquarters from this time on.

Men Only

Weakness

Most doctors do not know how to cure the real cause of the derangement. I use no tonics at all. My treatment is a local one entirely, and corrects every abnormal condition of that vital center, the prostate gland.

Varicocele

I positively cure Varicocele in one week by painless treatment. I have cured thousands of cases of this disease. In not a single instance has my treatment been followed by undesirable results. The methods I employ are, in their essential features, distinctively my own, and are a result of years of careful study and observation.

Other disorders I cure are stricture, contracted disorders, specific blood poison, piles, etc.

"Live All Your Years a Man" is the name of my pamphlet. I want every afflicted man to possess one. Send name and address. Mailed free in plain sealed wrapper.

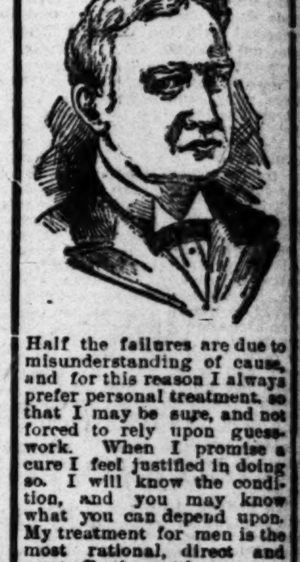
Woman's Narrowness.

Mrs. Buttercup: I wish I had a million dollars.

Mr. Buttercup: Thunderation, woman, haven't you any business acumen? What do you want to stop at a paltry million for when you can wish for a hundred million just as easily and with just as much prospect of getting it? No wonder we are poor!—[Kansas City Journal.



The Treatment I Give Is Followed By Permanent Cure

Half the failures are due to misunderstanding of cause, and for this reason I always prefer personal treatment, so that I may be sure, and not forced to rely upon guesswork. When I promise a cure I feel justified in doing so. I will know the condition, and you may know what you can depend upon. My treatment for men is the most rational, direct and most effective yet known.

Contracted Diseases.

Become chronic through improper treatment; painful, caustic remedies are the direct cause of stricture, ulceration and deep-seated inflammation of the urinary tract. Chances are that every case now chronic could have been cured in one week to ten days with the right treatment, scientifically applied. I am confident I cure these ailments more quickly than anyone, and with less pain or inconvenience to patients.

Varicocele.

My treatment effects a cure in 4 to 6 days, and the cure will be PERMANENT. Normal circulation is quickly restored, the pains cease, swelling subsides, the patient's strength and vitality improve immediately.

Weakness.

Decline of functional activity, strength and vitality is nearly always traceable to a disturbance in the functions of the reproductive system. Under my treatment functional equilibrium is restored, the nerve irritation reduced, the circulation is increased and strength renewed. My cures are absolute and permanent.

Not By Mail.

I cure by my methods of treatment some of the most chronic and aggravated conditions that cannot be successfully treated by mail or any means of guessing. For this reason I have often refused to send by mail a treatment which I know if personally given will result satisfactorily. There are many troubles that can be quickly cured, but not by uncertain methods.

DOCTOR HARRISON

Success invariably follows our treatment, our practice being strictly legitimate.

It seems unnecessary for DR. HARRISON & CO. to say much of themselves. The public know them well and we think favorably. Since establishing their office in Los Angeles they have had a large practice. They are willing the people should judge them by the results of their work. Ailing men visiting them will always be given references among leading business men, who we think will vouch for their ability and integrity. We court the closest scrutiny of our work by physicians and the general public.

VARICOCELE

It is indeed fortunate for men having varicocele that DR. HARRISON & CO. are enabled to say to you that they POSITIVELY CURE EVERY CASE OF VARICOCELE THEY TREAT. It is cured to stay cured. This they give an absolute guarantee to do. To every man suffering with varicocele and wishing to be cured we will gladly introduce him to dozens of leading business men here in Los Angeles that we have cured, and we will give one thousand dollars for a case we have failed to cure that we have treated. Are not these convincing facts?

"WEAKNESS"

Affections of men commonly described as "weakness," according to our observations are not such, but depend upon reflex disturbance, and are almost invariably induced or maintained by appreciable damage to the prostate gland. Under our local plan of treatment, directed toward reducing the enlarged and swollen prostate, immediate results, as indicated by increased circulation and renewed strength, are observed. Our colored chart, which we send free on application, is interesting to anyone wishing to study the anatomy of the male.

EIGHT NEW VEGETABLES. Eight vegetables, new to this country, are being cultivated in the government experiment stations with reference to introducing them to the truck gardeners. They are described as follows: A European okra of giant proportions is a very valuable starch producer. From Mexico is a pepper largely used in that country and a "husk tomato" which makes delicious sweet pickles. A decorative and medicinal vine is a cucumber, also Mexican, which distributes its seeds broadly when ripe, by violently exploding. Chevril, a sedge like plant from Europe, produces a tuber of hazel-nut size, which eaten raw, tastes like cocoanuts. The Indian "basella," a vine, has blossoms like an arbutus and fruit like a blackberry bush.

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS.

CITRUS-FRUIT SHIPMENTS. Shipments of citrus fruits from Southern California on Saturday and Sunday were 110 carloads of oranges, and 20 carloads of lemons. The total shipments for the season from November 1, 1902, to date, are 18,088 carloads, of which number 1708 carloads are lemons.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKETS.

The week opened today (Monday) with business reported good, and a marked feeling of confidence in evidence all along the street. Heavy demands from the beaches have begun, and the warm weather makes all kinds of fresh fruit and vegetables go quickly. Cherries arrived in large quantity, about 2000 boxes being disposed of during the day; the market was weaker and good fruit sold 90c@$1 per box and 7@9c per pound. Under heavy receipts it is considered that the market held up well.

Gooseberries sold at 90c@$1 per box.

Currants were held at 50c per box; [illegible] per crate.

Apricots sold as high as 90c per 20-pound box.

Red raspberries from the north arrived in good shape and brought 75c@[illegible] per crate.

The egg market jumped up again today and official quotations at the Produce Exchange were made to read: Ranch candled, 19½@20c; case-count, 20c. Receipts from the country are reported light, and the hot weather drives people from meat to more cooling diet, such as eggs, fruit and cereals.

Butter remains about the same; demand good; supplies sufficient in most quarters.

Cheese unchanged; market firm.

New potatoes maturing more slowly than demand requires; market firm; good quality old stock feels stiffer on that account; demand fair for all kinds of old stock.

Onion market in a state of collapse; stocks about up to the limit have been laid in everywhere.

Lots of cabbage offered; prices fair; peas firm, cucumbers still high priced; rhubarb in light receipt.

Watermelons have begun to be seen occasionally in the market—just a very few. They will be plentiful this year.

Grain and feed stuffs are firm.

Poultry is wanted.

Fish enough; the strike is driving lots of families from meat to fish.

Other commodities steady at jobbing prices heretofore quoted.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, June 8.—Further severe inroads upon prices of stocks were made today, under a renewal of active liquidation. In the last hour of the market this liquidation had apparently spent its force, and in order to cover their short contracts the room traders were obliged to bid up prices from 1 to 1½ of the active stocks, curtailing by that much the extreme losses of the day. The principal selling was amongst the corn carriers, and the cotton carriers and the coalers were also subject to heavy selling pressure. These movements were passed in part upon the belated corn crop, the poor condition of the cotton crop and the fear that labor troubles will again break out in the anthracite mining region. An unconfirmed rumor that the Rock Island authorities are taking steps in the matter of rates that threatens a widespread unsettlement in their territory was correct, but it was not clear that it had anything to do with today's weakness. Rock Island itself was not as weak as some other stocks. The decline of over three points in Atchison and the heavy dealings in that stock combined to make it the most conspicuous in the day's trading. The 3¾-point drop in Reading was somewhat sensational, in view of the recent support in that stock, and some of the northwestern stocks, with unimportant train traffic, shared in the day's weakness. Chicago and Northwestern sold down to 169, and Northern Securities on the curb went to a new low record. It was to be expected from the showing made by the banks in the Saturday's statement there was some calling of loans and forced liquidation as a result. The selling came from many directions, London joining in the early offerings on account of the advance on the discount rate of the Imperial Bank of Germany. Commission houses were also very general sellers on orders from many parts of this country. A small engagement of gold for export to Germany was announced, but this was without special effect, as the question of large exports was an open one, in spite of the lowering of the exchange rate, owing to the demand for money in Germany and the decline in the sterling exchange rate at Berlin and at Paris. It is reported that German banks, in their eagerness to obtain allotments of the lately-issued imperial loan, have committed themselves so largely as to demand a recall of German credits placed abroad. Demand for money in Germany is also attributed to reviving industrial activity. In our own market, preparation is being made for the payment of an installment of $7,500,000 for the subscriptions to the Metropolitan Securities Company due Wednesday. The 50-per-cent. installment on the new Pennsylvania stock, calling for $45,000,000, is payable from June 15 to June 27, although it is understood that the Pennsylvania company's six-month loan of $40,000,000 secured last January is to be paid off with the proceeds of these subscriptions. In spite of the severe declines today, there was singularly little talk of financial embarassment. But discussion in banking circles of the size of the loans accorded to individual capitalists, especially among those whose recent great fortunes have resulted from the industrial commission process, indicate formidable figures. It is well understood two very large loans of this character are in process of repayment, and it is commonly believed that important settlements have been made by private agreement, involving very large transfers of holdings in important railroad systems and arousing suggestions of possible changes in the control. There was a noticeably firm tone today in few stocks which have suffered most from some of the recent liquidation, notably Pennsylvania, New York Central, St. Paul and Southern Pacific. But at other points the absorption of the offerings were still on a descending scale and clearly in the nature of acceptances, rather than a bidding for stocks. The closing was about steady at the rally. Bonds were irregular; total sales, par value, $2,405,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

GENERAL EASTERN MARKETS.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, June 8.—The grain markets were governed almost entirely by the weather, and ruled weaker. July wheat closed ⅜c lower, July corn ⅞c lower and oats down ½c. Provisions closed steady; the September product being from 5c lower to 5c higher. There was moderate trading in wheat. The improvement in the weather conditions, together with disappointing cables, caused considerable selling at the start, and opening prices were lower, July being ¼ to ½c lower, at 75½@75⅝. Outside markets were all lower with St. Louis, and the Northwest, especially was weak. This fact brought out plenty of long wheat, and with little support the market gradually yielded, July selling off to 74⅞. Late in the day, commission houses which had sold earlier in the session turned buyers, and the market rallied somewhat, although only a small part of the early loss was regained. The close was steady, with July ⅜c lower, at 75¼. In spite of the bullish foreign news and firm cables, the corn pit experienced considerable weakness throughout the day, the greatly improved weather conditions being the dominating influence. Local longs led in the selling, while outside traders were also on that side of the market. July closed ⅞c lower, at 47⅝, after selling between 47¾ and 48⅝. Oats started weak in sympathy with the decline in other grains, and much-needed rains in the East, together with better weather West and Northwest. Offerings were liberal early in the day, local longs being the best sellers, but the market was well supported by three or four concerns, who took all the offerings, which soon resulted in a better feeling. Trading was quiet and featureless the latter part of the day, and the market closed steady with July off half a cent at 36c, after ranging between 36 and 36½. Provisions were dull, and about the only feature was the changing of July to the more distant months. The weakness in grains had a depressing influence early in the day, but with a fair demand for lard and ribs with light offerings, a firmer tone developed. September pork closed 5c lower; lard was a shade higher, and ribs were up 5c.

The leading futures closed as follows:

PLENTY OF PRESSURE NOW.

Water from New High-gravity Reservoir Struck Boyle Heights Sunday Night—Large Cement Order.

The water from the new reservoir was received on Boyle Heights Sunday night, and when Superintendent Mulholland was asked if the pressure was satisfactory, he said it wasn't satisfactory to the people—they complained of having too much.

"We had a h—hallelujah time of it this morning," he explained. "About twenty people called us up at the same time, and said their pipers were all bursting because there was too much pressure on the water."

This territory is now supplied by the new high-gravity reservoir instead of from the Buena Vista and Hazard reservoirs, as heretofore. The pressure is increased from thirty-five to sixty-five pounds, and the old pipes won't stand it.

No quorum was present at the meeting of the water board yesterday, and no business whatever was transacted. The Supply Committee had a meeting on Thursday and executed contracts with the Spreckels Commercial Company for 6500 barrels of cement for the completion of the main conduit, at $3.24 per barrel. It is to be delivered at the rate of 450 barrels per week.

French Play at Ebell.

If you speak French you would have appreciated the play that was presented by the French section of the Ebell yesterday, entitled "La Loterie de Francfort." But those of the audience who could not, enjoyed it almost as keenly, for it was so well set and the characterization was so excellent, that one hardly needed the English prologue given in explanation by the curator of the section, Mrs. Louis A. Gould. The auditorium at Cumnock was filled to the limit of its seating capacity, and the cast, both individually and collectively, was accorded the most enthusiastic applause. The section has been studying under Mme. J. A. Donato, with Mrs. Louis A. Guild as curator and Mrs. Louis C. Carlisle as assistant curator, and yesterday's excellent performance attested the efficiency of the leaders and the faithful application of the section. Mrs. C. D. Willard acted as property manager, the stage furnishings being loaned by Barker Bros.

Mrs. Le Doux is a French woman to the manner born, and her work was true to life and one of the strongest parts of the play. Mrs. Carlisle's impertinence was so much like the real thing sometimes observed in American as well as in French maids, that it was quite startling. Mrs. Willard gave the daintiest possible portrayal of a French landlady, looking the part to the life. "Michel," the "Poultry Vender," the granddame—each and all were well depicted, and if in the stress of the play, an accent fell on the wrong syllable or if attention was so occupied with the bothersome accent that a gesture was forgotten or omitted, why, few in the audience were any the wiser.

The time was the present, the place the interior of the village inn at Malbron; the cast of characters was as follows: Louise Legrand, proprietress of the village inn, and who poses as a philosopher, Mrs. J. B. Millard; Rosette, a cousin to Louise, a simple country maid, Miss Elva Moss; Perine, an old servant with a proverb for every occasion, Mrs. M. Caldwell; Grandmere Legrand, grandmother to Louise, Mrs. Lyman Farwell; Mme. Godard, Marquise d'Hauterive, a parvenu, Mrs. J. A. Le Doux; Amanda, her impertinent femme-de-chambre, Mrs. Lewis C. Carlisle; Jeannette, a servant, Mrs. S. M. Goddard; the postmistress, Mrs. George V. Horr; a poultry vender, Mrs. Sydned Parsons; Michel, fiancé of Louise, an honest country fellow, Miss E. A. Lamb; the coachman of the Marquise.

The plot of the play hinged on a lottery ticket, and the mistaken reading of the right number upside down, thus transforming Louise's ticket, numbered "66," into the prize winner, "9." Louise is a bit of a philosopher, and this stood her in good stead when she suddenly found herself—as she fonly imagined—about to enter the upper circle of society, but when her mistake is discovered and she descends from the clouds to terra firma—well, then, she has her lover, an early wedding day is set, and they live happy ever after.

A summer garden, designed as a place of amusement to be conducted without the sale of intoxicating liquor, was opened last night by Smith and Cooper on West Fifth street.

Two thousand people witnessed the initial performance of vaudeville. The Dulcie sisters, soloists, opened the bill. Among the other attractions presented were Delmas, who does tricks with trapeze rings; Miss Edna Roslin, contralto soloist; Kalacratus, who juggles with hoops and does difficult feats at balancing; Chase, who draws pictures with sand; a turn by Stafford and Stone; and Dolly and Ward, Irish athletes.

Tommy's Quick Answer.

"Tommy," said an uncle to his precocious nephew, "your mother tells me she has given you pennies to be good. Do you think that is as things should be?"

"Of course it is," replied Tommy. "You certainly don't want me to grow up and be good for nothing, do you, uncle?"—[Chums.

REDLANDS.

CHURCH DEDICATED.

REDLANDS, June 8.—The beautiful new Methodist Episcopal Church building was dedicated yesterday. In the morning a large audience filled the auditorium to hear Bishop Hamilton deliver the dedicatory sermon. The structure has a very attractive exterior, being of Romanesque style in pressed brick and plaster finish. Above the main entrance rises a lofty square tower surmounted by a rounded pinnacle. A smaller tower similar in style is over the lower entrance. The exterior decorations are elaborate pilasters and ornamentations of stone and terra cotta. The doors are stained green, with heavy wrought iron hinges, while two large and many small stained glass windows add a touch of color to the whole. The interior is no less charming, and is convenient. There is a ladies' waiting room and general waiting room just within the main entrance to the left and right of the vestibule, separated from the main room by half partitions and ground glass drop windows. The choir loft is at the right of the speaker, and a balcony about three sides of the room. The main auditorium will seat about nine hundred persons, while the Sunday-school room will increase this capacity by 700. It is separated from the main room by an elaborately carved piece of woodwork, which may be opened to permit of the rooms being thrown together if occasion demands. In the basement is a kitchen and a social and dining-room. The primary department is also in the basement. The church furnishings are in harmony with the rest of the building. The pews and altar pieces are of oak in Colonial style, while the carpetings are in green and wood brown.

The pastor, Rev. R. L. Bruce, was assisted in the services by the following named former pastors of this church: Rev. C. W. Nicklin, Rev. B. C. Corey, Rev. E. J. Inwood, Rev. L. M. Hartley and Rev. W. M. Stirling. After the sermon by Bishop Hamilton, subscriptions were asked for to the amount of $12,000, that sum being necessary to finish the payments on the structure. The subscriptions came in so quickly that in a short time all but $2000 had been provided for. In the evening this was easily made up, with $500 to spare. The trustees then presented the church for dedication and Bishop Hamilton proceeded with the ceremonies.

In the afternoon union services were held, at which the pastors of the various churches of the city were the principal speakers. In the evening an impressive song service was rendered by the choir under the leadership of C. H. Fowler. During the week services will be held as follows: Monday at 10:30 and 2:30, district preachers' meeting, with papers and discussion; at 7:30 p. m., sermon by Rev. L. M. Hartley; Tuesday evening, sermon by Rev. B. C. Corey; Wednesday evening, sermon by Rev. B. C. Haywood; Thursday evening, sermon by Rev. G. A. Hough; Friday evening, sermon by Rev. W. W Cookman.

"Played Out"

Is one of the curious expressions used for worked out. Many a woman drops into a chair, in utter weariness "all played out," and wonders why she feels so weak. She has not yet realized that the general health is so intimately related to the local health of the womanly organism, that weakness must follow womanly diseases.

Restoration of the general health invariably follows the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It regulates the periods, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces refreshing sleep.

There is no substitute for "Favorite Prescription," for there is nothing "just as good" for womanly ills.

"I wish to advise the suffering women of this great land, of the good I have received from Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,'" writes Mrs. Mary Shappell, of Columbus Grove, Putnam Co., Ohio. "For four years I had been a sufferer from female troubles, and at times was unable to do even the housework for three in the family. I had such pains that I suffered almost death dozens of times, but after taking five bottles of your medicines I can truthfully say that my health was greatly improved. I have a good appetite and am gaining in flesh right along. This spring is the first time in five years that I have done my house cleaning all by myself and without the least fatigue whatever. I hope all suffering women may find relief as I have done.

"My gain in weight has been just ten pounds, and I am still gaining."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 large pages, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only, or for cloth-bound book, send 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y.

THE OIL INDUSTRY

MARICOPA REFINERY STILLS HAVE ARRIVED.

LARGE SUNSET PLANT WILL BE UNDER WAY SOON.

To Have Capacity of Six Hundred Barrels a Day—Movement Among Kern Operators—Important Meeting of the Reed Crude Company.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

BAKERSFIELD, June 8.—The California Consolidated Oil Fields Company's stills for the new refinery to be erected at Maricopa, in the Sunset oil field, have arrived and the work of construction is to be commenced at once. The plant will have a capacity of 600 barrels a day. There are now two refineries in operation at Sunset, the Navajo and Jewett & Blodgett's.

Strong pressure is being brought to bear upon the Santa Fé Railroad Company to continue its Sunset line a distance of about three miles into the heart of the oil fields, by which it will reach a large number of wells that have been developed by numerous companies during the past year. The route is from Pioneer to Maricopa, where a refinery is to be erected for the Wichita and California Consolidated Oil Companies.

John D. Spreckels and Messrs. Mattson and Croker, the second of the Pacific Transportation Company, and the latter president of the Crocker, Woolworth National Bank, all of San Francisco, who are interested in the Monarch Oil Company at Sunset, have interested themselves, together with other men of the oil district, and are said to have secured definite assurances from the Santa Fé officials that the extension will be built in a very short time.

The proposed line will reach the properties of the Fulton, Maricopa, Lion, Tiger, Sunset, Center, Monarch, Del Rey, T. and P., Superior, United Crude, Stratton and many other oil companies. It will give the West Side field the transportation facilities that the Kern River field has enjoyed for many years and permit hauling direct from the various wells. The oil men say this is one of the greatest needs of the Sunset field and it has been largely handicapped by the lack of it.

The Monarch Oil Company has just completed its new reservoir. It has a capacity of 75,000 barrels. The Monarch is pumping two wells, the second one was brought in only a few days ago. Lumber is now on hand for erecting a rig for a third well on the Monarch property.

There is great activity all over the Sunset field. The Alameda Oil Company has just finished work on its sixth well, and has a force proceeding with No. 7.

O. S. Hickey expects to have the rig for drilling well No. 2 for the Charter Oil Company finished by Monday next, and to commence boring immediately.

The California-Sedalia Oil Company started work on another well during the week.

SUPPLIES COMING WEST.

The largest shipment of oil-well machinery ever sent West by a single firm is now en route to California. It consists of a trainload of machinery sent from Toledo, O., by the National Supply Company to its California branch houses, which are located in this city, Bakersfield, McKittrick and Coalinga. The machinery is valued at $75,000, and the freight charges amount to over $5000.

IMPORTANT MEETING.

A meeting of the Reed Crude Oil Company will be held in the offices of the company in this city today. It is understood that something of importance will be considered by the stockholders of that concern. Rumor has it that a deal has been closed for a large block of stock held by that corporation.

MOLTEN LAVA SHOWER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BAKERSFIELD, June 8.—News reached here today that a large meteor fell blazing from the sky, striking the earth near the Claudino farm, at Delano, last night. The aerial visitor was seen by a large number of persons and was easily located as it set fire to the grass where it fell, and the blaze endangered a large wheat field before it was extinguished. Molten lava was scattered all over the ground for a considerable distance, and many persons secured pieces as souvenirs.

NEARLY A MURDER.

An unknown ruffian deliberately attempted to murder Charles Kelly while the latter was asleep in a saloon this evening. He entered and, seeing Kelly, went out in the back yard and got an empty bottle. Without a word he struck the sleeping man on the head several times and then stabbed him with a piece of the glass in the left breast. The bartender grappled with the ruffian, knocking him down twice. Outside the fellow broke away and escaped. Kelly nearly died from loss of blood before a doctor could be summoned. No motive for the attack could be learned.

ESPEE IMPROVING.

The Southern Pacific is making a number of improvements in its telegraph lines on this division as part of the general improvement covering the entire system. A new wire has been strung between Los Angeles and Vicente, sixty miles, and another through the mountains between Bealville and Tehachepi, all of which will be continued to Bakersfield. Lines are also being strung to the north between Bakersfield, Fresno, Lathrop, Stockton and Sacramento, as well as on the branches to Alcalde, Hanford and Porterville. Another is being strung on the Santa Barbara line. A number of minor improvements are being made in the handling and stringing of wires. The object of these improvements is to do away with many of the relays now necessary and to render the company more independent as regards the handling of its business. At present it is sometimes obliged to use the commercial wires for train orders.

Lured from home by countrymen who believed she carried a large amount of money, robbed of $60, and then murdered, is said by the police to have been the fate of Mrs. Marie Danielovsky, whose body has been found in a lonely spot on the Illinois and Michigan Canal. The Chicago police are hunting for her nephew.

[illegible] TENNIS CUP.

[illegible] been received by local and Los Angeles tennis players to take part in the championship tournament at Vancouver, B. C., in the latter part of August. L. R. Freeman of this city won the cup last year and will defend it this year. The trophy is one of the handsomest in America, having cost between $300 and $400. It was made in China after plans furnished by an officer of the British navy. Its capacity is about ten quarts and it has been the custom of the club to fill it each year with champagne, to be drunk to the winner's health.

The handles of the cup are in the form of rampant dragons grasping the upper rim in their teeth, their tails being folded artistically at the base. The handsome trophy is mounted on ornately-carved ebony which also has a Chinese dragon design. As this is the most sought after prize in the Northwest it is probable that a number of California players will go after it, taking cognizance also of the sentimental value given the cup by the fact that H.R.H., the Prince of Wales, then Duke of York christened it by mixing in it a punch that was sold at $5 per glass at a charity bazaar at Victoria.

Freeman speaks in the highest terms of the people of Victoria and Vancouver and says they will show any visiting players the greatest hospitality.

CHAFF AND CULLS.

MONROVIA.

NEW SCHOOL VOTED FOR.

MONROVIA, June 8.—By a large majority the citizens of Monrovia today decided that they wanted a new, large and up-to-date school house. An election was held, on the proposition to issue $30,000 bonds, to purchase land, and build a schoolhouse. It is proposed to buy a full block if a suitable location can be obtained, and build a ten or twelve-room building, all on the ground floor. The building will be hurriedly constructed, so as to open the fall term therein. Owing to the rapid growth of the town, more room is absolutely necessary, and an addition will have to be made to the corps of teachers.

The Saturday Afternoon Club cleared nearly $400 on the fair, and expects to soon commence building a clubhouse.

The graduating exercises of the High School will be held Friday evening in the operahouse. Miss Glen Price is valedictorian. Prof. Gates of Pomona College will deliver an address.

SANTA MONICA DIDN'T VOTE PROHIBITION.

ALLEGED CORRUPTION IN THE ELECTION OF YESTERDAY.

Women Worked About the Polls and Distributed Cards to Voters—Saloon and Liquor Dealers' Influence Used Freely—Contest Not Unlikely.

SANTA MONICA, June 8.—Today's special city election resulted against the adoption of the Long Beach prohibition ordinance. There were two voting precincts divided by Front street. The question as submitted was "For the prohibition of the liquor traffic—"Yes" and "No." The vote by precincts was as follows:

	Yes.	No.
North side precinct	195	300
South side precinct	92	244
Totals	287	544
Majority against prohibition		257

The total number of votes cast in the South side precinct was 342. In the general municipal election in April there were 396 votes cast in that precinct. The total vote in the north side precinct numbered 501. The total vote of that precinct at the general municipal election in April was 496. A small number of rejected ballots for each precinct allows for the difference between the totals and the sums of the votes for and against prohibition.

A large number of women interested in the movement for prohibition were about the polling places and distributed cards bearing the words: "Please protest the hlepless mothers and innocent children by voting 'Prohibition of the liquor traffic, yes.'"

Saloon and liquor dealers' influence was used freely in the effort to bring about the boozy result. Some there were who favored temperance measures, but who were opposed to a proposition so "tight" as the Long Beach ordinance. They were not the ones much in evidence in the fight against that ordinance, however.

About the middle of the forenoon the question came up at the polling place of the north side precinct as to whether a man registered within the past twenty-five days could vote. The question was submitted to ex-City Attorney R. R. Tanner, and to Jud R. Rush, Esq. of Los Angeles. They submitted an opinion that the fact that a would-be voter had registered or transferred his registration within the past twenty-five days was not a legitimate ground of challenge. They based their opinion on section 1230 of the Political Code, which section states the grounds on which a challenge may be made, but does not include that ground.

Although the election was attended with about all the formalities of a regular municipal election, it was a "straw" affair, recognized as having no legal weight. The temptation to illegal voting—or to voting that in other elections would be illegal—was accordingly strong.

In the South Side precinct a man appeared at the polling place and attempted to vote in the name of one Snyder, who is said to have been dead three weeks. He made three unsuccessful efforts to write the name. The first time he wrote it "Snider," the second "Synder," and the third "Syndr." It was through the watchfulness of B. F. Hunter, late candidate for City Attorney, that the variations in spelling and also the difference between the man's writing and that of the signature on the official register were noted.

Whisky and beer were served freely near Second and Hill streets, under direction of one of the men of the Abbot Kinney railroad gang, and a large number of men from that gang were brought in from their camp near the Charnock ranch, to swell the liquor vote.

The admission of votes from all men registered, regardless of how late their registry or reregistry was, opened the way for over 100 votes of men registered since the last city election, so it is said.

Of that number a large proportion is alleged to have been of union carpenters, whose prospect of remaining long in the town is considered more than doubtful.

It is probable that the City Trustees will canvass the returns of the election before the end of the week. There is a prospect that the friends of the prohibition movement will contest the result of the election on the ground of illegal voting.

SEASIDE PICK-UPS.

A party of thirty of the Marlborough girls of Los Angeles, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Ellis, was entertained at luncheon by the Misses Bernard Saturday. A hop at the Arcadia was enjoyed in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Presbrey of Los Angeles, L. B. Goodrich of Iowa, Edwin H. Husher of San Francisco, Mrs. E. M. Sanger of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Field of Redlands, and Mrs. W. H. Phelps of Los Angeles, are staying at the Arcadia.

V. Marsallo, arrested by State Fish and Game Commissioner Pritchard Sunday on a charge of selling quail contrary to law, was found guilty by Justice Jenness today. He was sent to the County Jail for twenty-five days.

By an inadvertence the Los Angeles-Pacific Railroad was referred to in The Times today as a branch of Huntington's system. The road is not a part of the Huntington system, but is a system by itself, under the management of Gen. M. H. Sherman and E. P. Clark.

Abner Wiseman of Sawtelle was taken before Justice Jenness today on a charge of assault, preferred by Deputy Constable H. K. Laird. The defendant is alleged to have assaulted the officer with an ax. He pleaded not guilty, and the case is pending.

T. A. Johnson, Carl F. Schader, Louis Blankenhorn and William Mead, interested in the American National Bank, which is about to be established here, came down from Los Angeles Saturday, and looked over the proposed sites for the bank. They decided on the west corner of Third street and Oregon avenue. A two-story building will be erected for the institution, in which Mayor T. H. Dudley is interested.

If you have lost an opporunity, try a Los Angeles Times "want" ad. and you will get another just as good. Telephone your wants to Main 95 and our Santa Monica agency will take your ad., and send it to the main office.

SANTA CATALINA ISLAND.

BREVITIES AND PERSONALS.

AVALON, June 8.—J. Marco, who had an unpleasant adventure at Seal Rocks three summers ago, is again a visitor here. Marco at that time laid a wager of $20 that he could walk down to the Seal Rocks, capture a baby sea lion and return to Avalon with it in a few hours. The result was that he was marooned on Seal Rocks all night and half a day, and nearly drowned.

Ex-Senator Stephen W. Dorsey chartered the Meteor yesterday and invited a number of women and men to accompany him on a trip to the Isthmus and Johnson's Landing. An elaborate lunch was served during the stay at the Isthmus. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey, Dr. and Mrs. Albert Soiland, Mrs. Margaret B. Hobbs, Los Angeles. C. H. White, Mrs. C. M. McNeill, Colorado Springs; W. B. Bogert, and W. B. Bogert, Jr., Evanston, Ill.; Mrs. T. B. McCauley, Chicago; E. T. Perkins and wife, Washington, D. C.; Roswell S. Jones and wife, Miss Carrie Jones, Stanford Jones, Denver; Gilmour Sharp, London, Eng.

W. M. Hunt left this morning for Lake county, where he will spend two months hunting and fishing.

Miss M. Elizabeth Richards of Los Angeles spent Sunday on the island, the guest of Mrs. Barrette.

"Uncle John" Nestell scored again yesterday with a 234-pound black sea bass, his sixth within the past ten days. He landed this monster fish in 58 minutes. Uncle John is losing no time these days, as he leaves for his home in New York next Friday, called there by some members of his family going abroad for the summer. This will interfere with his determination to fill orders for several tuna, for which he was under contract.

E. E. Chapman, owner of the launch Rival, was made happy yesterday by his success in taking a 210-pound black sea bass. He has labored long and faithfully to accomplish this feat, and he figures that his big fish has cost him about $120 a pound, which makes jewfishing rather an expensive luxury. With Mr. Chapman was A. C. Parlett, who also landed a big fish weighing 160 pounds.

A. H. Whitney and F. H. Stadlmueller, with the Lolland, yesterday came in loaded to the guards with fish. They had fourteen yellowtail, twenty-four barracuda, nine rock bass, and one whitefish.

John Norris of Pueblo, W. M. Gottschalk of Milwaukee and Paul Joerns of Sheboygan, Wis., with the Adelaide yesterday took eight yellowtail and four barracuda in two hours and a half of fishing.

J. Poundstone of Redlands and G. H. Seaton of Riverside with the Aileen yesterday took thirteen yellowtail and seven rock bass. Their catch weighed 300 pounds.

A. M. Lovelace and F. S. Hughes of Los Angeles took four yellowtail, fifteen barracuda and sixteen rock bass.

SAN PEDRO.

FISHERMAN MISSING.

SAN PEDRO, June 8.—Johnny Bey, an old fisherman, who has been living in a small hut alongside the seawall at East San Pedro, is missing, and it is feared that he was drowned. He left Duffy's Landing about dark last evening in a skiff to cross the bay, and has not been heard of since. This morning Bey's boat was found adrift underneath the wharf of the E. K. Wood Lumber Company, with a small demijohn of beer in it, but no signs of the owner. A search has been instituted by the authorities.

HARBOR TOWN JOTTINGS.

G. S. Dunscomb of Grand Rapids, Mich., has purchased a small tract of land on Fifth street, near the lumber wharves, where he intends to build and equip a plant for the manufacture of different grades of boxes. About twenty-five men will be employed at the start.

Work was begun on the new reservoir of the Seaside Water Company this morning, eleven teams and many men being employed.

The school census has been completed in Wilmington, and shows 117 children of school age in that district.

Pugilist James J. Jeffries was the guest of Col. Luke Kelly yesterday.

D. W. Lyun and wife entertained a party of friends aboard a sailboat for a trip around the bay yesterday.

Mrs. E. Boor of Santa Paula is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ray Mitchell.

M. Foster of Avalon visited friends in the city today.

O. Weston has returned from Massachusetts, where he has been visiting for the past eight months.

The San Pedro baseball team will cross bats with the Tropico boys here Sunday.

WHITTIER.

CALL TO PASTORATE.

WHITTIER, June 8.—Plymouth Congregational Church, which has been without a pastor since the death of Dr. Samuel G. Arnett about two months ago, yesterday voted unanimously to extend a call to Rev. Nicholas T. Edwards of Escondido, his pastorate to begin at a date to be named by him.

ON THE SIDE.

Mrs. H. W. R. Strong and daughters, Misses Harryett and Nellye Strong of Ranchito del Fuerte, have gone to New York City, and will sail for Europe very soon. They plan to spend about four months abroad, and will visit France, Germany, Italy and England.

The Whittier Citrus Association shipped five carloads of lemons last week. The fruit was of very fine quality.

Cashier A. C. Johnson of the Whittier Bank is confined to his home by illness.

Herbert Hunt entertained a number of school friends at the home of his parents, Saturday evening.

A Mexican workman in the cement ditch of the East Whittier Water Company, was lodged in jail yesterday as the result of an attempted assault with a knife on another workman. He was disarmed before serious injury was done, his intended victim turning the tables on him by the vigorous use of a pitchfork.

COVINA.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

COVINA, June 8.—At the Masonic Hall last evening Rev. Alfred Fletcher, rector of Holy Trinity, preached the baccalaureate sermon to the graduates of the Civina High School. The anthem, "Samuel's Prayer," was rendered with feeling and expression by Miss Marion Gordon of Los Angeles. The sermon was a strong and scholarly appeal for the placing of the Bible in the schools. The claim was presented by the preacher that no education is complete without cherishing and unfolding the seed of immortality already sown within the child, and to prohibit the study of the Bible in the schools must react to the disadvantage of the morality of the nation. No services were held in the other churches, but for the first time in the history of Covina the pastors were neither provided with seats on the platform nor asked to participate in the services, an incident which has caused wide comment. The full Episcopal service was used.

MINOR MENTION.

The Amphion Club held its annual open meeting in the Masonic Hall Saturday evening, each member being allowed to invite a limited number of guests. This closing society event of the season was attended by all the leaders in social circles for miles around. The hall was exquisitely decorated with cut flowers and potted plants. During the evening a musical programme was rendered, consisting of numbers by Mrs. Louise S. Macneil, Miss Nellie M. Ruddock, Miss Marion Macneil, Miss Flora A. Follett, Paul Jennison, and a reading by Mrs. Edna Robinson Sheldon. Refreshments were served.

Iona, the three-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. W. Overholtzer died of scarlet fever, at Bellefontaine, Friday. Mrs. Overholtzer and the child left only two weeks ago to spend the summer in the East.

W. H. Souther, an aged pioneer of this State, is dangerously ill at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. C. E. Bemis.

SAWTELLE.

BAPTIST EVENT.

SAWTELLE, June 8.—Today ministers and delegates from the Baptist churches of Los Angeles county met in council here to recognize the local congregation, as a regular Baptist church, entitled to admission to the Los Angeles Baptist Association. The church was elaborately decorated with American flags, set pieces and bouquets. After a brief statement of the faith and organization of the church, with a sketch of its history by the clerk, T. R. Gabel, the church was recognized by vote, after which was a recognition prayer by Rev. C. H. Hobart of Pasadena; recognition sermon, Rev. Joseph Smale, Los Angeles; benediction, Rev. L. M. Whiting, Compton. Rev. T. N. Lord of Alhambra was made chairman of the council and Rev. W. D. White of Pomona secretary. At noon the delegates adjourned to the Soldiers' Home, where they were received by Gov. LaGrange, and partook of the hospitality of the host, and were conducted about the grounds by the Home authorities. Gen. La Grange made an appropriate address of welcome.

In the afternoon, after devotional and praise service, the charge to the pastor was delivered by Rev. M. B. Shaw; charge to church, Rev. W. F. Binney; solo, Prof. Williams. There was fine singing throughout.

REDONDO.

CASH THIEF CAUGHT.

REDONDO, June 8.—R. D. Smith of the firm of Smith Bros., while busy Sunday morning in the meat shop, was compelled to leave for a few moments, and on going out neglected to lock the rear door. It has been customary for employés of the different restaurants to enter in that way, especially in the morning, to get their meat for the day. Upon Smith's return he found that a sack of money containing $108.90, which was taken in too late for banking the previous day, was missing. The City Marshal learned that A. C. Munier was seen coming out of the shop during Smith's absence. He was charged with the theft, but strenuously denied it, until the Marshal found part of the missing coin in the linen closet of Well's restaurant, where Munier is employed as a waiter. When confronted with this evidence, he broke down and acknowledged that he was the guilty party, and directed the officer to where the balance of the money, with the exception of $10, was hidden. He had issued a fictitious check for $10, which he passed at Murphy's saloon the day previous, and used the stolen money to take it up. His preliminary examination will be before Justice Smith Wednesday.

DEMORALIZING JAG.

Oscar Absith, a local character, lies in durance vile for following the precepts laid down by Happy Hooligan in playing the good Samaritan. It seems that H. D. Cooper of Los Angeles imbibed too freely Sunday evening, and fell by the wayside. Now comes Oscar and relieves the weary one of a fine gold watch and chain, which upon request was turned over to a deputy Constable for safekeeping, but now is in the hands of the local justice as exhibit A, in the case of the People vs. Oscar, charged with grand larceny. The case will come up for preliminary examination Wednesday. Cooper was fined $5 for getting off his pins.

GREAT SUNDAY CROWD.

It is estimated that there were 10,000 people at the beach Sunday, and, for its size, it was one of the best-behaved crowds ever here. The day was ideal, and the throng amused itself in the various ways that can only be found at the seashore. The only drawback to the pleasure of the day was the oiling of the front street, which caused inconvenience to many, but this was a condition that could not be avoided, owing to the difficulty of handling the oil, and the lack of labor to cover it with a coating of gravel.

SEASIDE RIPPLES.

Christopher Gonzales is under the ban, having made an attempt to rob Charles Lawrence, a local fisherman. After a desperate struggle, he was handed over to the police, and will have a hearing Wednesday in Justice Smith's court.

A. Kninitzer, the unionist agitator, who was fined $50 by Justice Smith last week for interfering with the laborers on the dock, was in Redondo Saturday night with a party of union men from San Pedro, evidently to make trouble if possible, but the officers kept a sharp watch on the gang.

Do Not Dose The Stomach—Balsamic Air of Hyomei Cures.

Use common sense when there is a case of catarrh to be treated. Few people would swallow tablets or tonics to cure a broken arm, yet it is just as sensible to try and cure catarrh of the head by dosing the stomach. Let the air you breathe be filled with the healing balsams of Hyomei and all catarrhal germs will be destroyed and health restored to the irritated mucous membrane.

Hyomei is the only known treatment for catarrh where you can get your money back from a local dealer in case it does not help. Dean's Drug Store have sold hundreds of Hyomei outfits, every one with their personal guarantee to return the money if it did not cure and they have had only two customers ask for a refund.

This speaks louder than any advertisement possibly could as to the unusual curative powers of Hyomei.

Begin the use of Hyomei today, remembering that it will not cost you a cent unless it cures.

Union Labor We Employ

We are not unfriendly to the cause of labor, as you would be made to believe by agitators, boycotters and spies, who draw salaries for nothing but trouble making. That it is their living, their bread and butter to agitate, to boycott, to spy, is no excuse. In time of war, martial law placed spies and agitators in the criminal class.

We are not unfriendly to labor. We employ indirectly one thousand people to manufacture our Union Made Clothing. We reckon that 509 Union Labor people are employed all year round on the shoes we sell. We estimate that 50 Union Hatters are employed twelve months in the year to make the Union Hats we sell. We employ in the Union factory of R. L. McDonald & Co., year in and year out 150 Union Men to make engineers' overalls, jumpers, and jeans clothing. We employ 40 men all year round making waiters' coats in the factory of C. M. Church & Sons. We employ weekly a band of Union Musicians to give our concerts.

If we had a grievance against Union Labor would we pay more for Union made goods, sanitary made goods, and then compete to sell them for less than sweat shop stuff? We have passed the stage of a paltry gain, as against service and wearability.

We sell you everything of the best, but one thing we will not sell, and that is our independence. We will not sell our citizenship to Biddle, Hay and Rogers. We advertise in the "Times" because it has the largest circulation, and so does every other progressive merchant in town.

When Mr. Lynch, the President of the National Body, called upon us in our office, and we proved the above to his satisfaction, Mr. Lynch said, "It was a mistake, if I had been here this would not have been."

The rank and file and large majority of wage earners love liberty, and will not be driven by Biddle, Hay and Rogers.

Hygienic Value of the Yawn.

IMPORTANT RESULTS.

HYGIENIC FACTS IN CONJUNCTION WITH BODY STRETCHING—WAKENS SLUGGISH ORGANS—A SYSTEM OF PHYSICAL CULTURE BASED ON THESE NATURAL ANIMAL MOVEMENTS.

By W. R. C. Latson, M.D.

(Editor Health Culture Magazine, New York; author of "Food Value of Meat," "Physical Training as the Basis of Health, Strength and Grace," etc.)

AMONG the most important movements which go to make a common sense system of physical development are the stretching exercises. The stretching exercises are based upon certain movements made by animals when their instincts apprise them of such need. A dog, for instance, after lying prone beside the fireplace for an hour, will, on awakening, stretch and yawn vigorously. The dog does this because he knows by experience (or instinct, which is merely inherited experience) that the deep breath and the general vigorous muscular exertion will relieve a certain feeling of discomfort. The sensation which the wise animal relieves by a stretch and a yawn is probably not unlike that of the man who has been for several hours bending over a desk in a close room, or who has slept in an unventilated bedroom.

Vigorous bodily activity is essential to the proper functioning of the vital organs. To abstain from bodily activity, then, is to deprive these vital organs of their principal incentive to work. In the case of the man who has been sitting for several hours at a desk, the vital organs which digest the food, which convert food into blood, which carry this blood to the tissues and which carry off the waste—these vital organs miss the stimulus which can come only from vigorous movement; and so they slow down. The heart beats less strong, the lungs take in less air at each breath, and the important organs whose duty it is to separate and secrete the waste products of the body become much less active. So, after a few hours, the individual begins to experience discomfort, headache, rigidity, muscular pains, decreased mental power, depression, and so on.

THE YAWN AND STRETCH.

Now, just so the dog lying by the fireside in one position experiences a sense of discomfort from the same cause—lowered vital activity. And on awakening, the dog (wiser than the human being, at least than the cultured human being) knows what to do. He takes several deep breaths—that is, yawns—and then, holding a breath, he stretches vigorously, placing the fore-paws on the floor and reaching far back with the body, while the back is arched, the jaws stretched apart and the breath slowly expelled. It may be remarked that man also has this instinct to stretch and yawn after a period of active labor or of such inactivity as has lowered the force of the vital functionings. But this instinct toward relief is considered vulgar, and so in the majority of well-bred people an inclination to stretching and yawning is rare. To observe such natural exercise in mankind we must look somewhat farther down the scale of humanity. The negro field hand in the South, the Italian or Chinese laborer in the North and West—to watch a group of these more natural humans for a few minutes during their noon hour is a valuable lesson in "physical culture."

A yawn and a stretch—such simple, commonplace, even vulgar acts—how can they have so marked an effect in relieving vital stagnation? First of all we must realize that in both fatigue and in the inertia resulting from sedentary work the main source of discomfort and danger is the accumulation in the system of retained waste matter. Now, in a general way, it may be said that the most important factors in the process of waste removal are activity of the blood stream and widely expanding lungs. The yawn is of ocurse only the slow expiration of a deep breath, accompanied by a stretching of the jaws and generally of other muscles. A yawn means, then, a full expansion and ventilation of the lungs. This deep breath of pure air taken into the lungs enables the blood to throw off a greatly increased amount of the gaseous poisons with which it becomes loaded during the period of stagnation, and at the same time to take up a big load of oxygen.

STRETCH CONTRACTS ALL MUSCLES.

So much for the yawn. Now what does the stretch do? In the stretch, when properly performed, there is a general and firm, although not excessive, contraction, not of a few muscles, but of practically every large muscle in the body. This is important. All the muscles are firmly contracted simultaneously, while at the same time the lungs are held full of pure air. This means that the muscular system acts like a squeezed sponge, forcing the blood contained in the muscles rapidly onward into the heart and lungs, where it is purified and sent back laden with life-giving oxygen. When we remember that the blood makes its circuit from muscles to lungs and back to the muscles in twenty seconds—that in a stretch and yawn lasting one minute the outermost structures of the body are bathed by three circuits of the freshened and purified blood straight from the expanded lungs—we can begin to understand why a yawn is so restful and why the practice of these stretching movements produce such remarkable changes in the physique.

But the stretching exercises described in this paper have not only the effect of relieving fatigue or vital stagnation; they are most valuable as a "setting-up drill"—as a means of replacing structures of the body which, for one or another reason, have become disadjusted. Flat chests, "pigeon breasts," flaring shoulder blades, prominent collar bones, protruding abdomens, hollow backs, shambling knees—all these and many other faults of carriage and movement have been eradicated by the practice of these simple stretching movements, which the animals and the animal-like men know so well, but which cultured man has forgotten.

ADVANTAGES OF THIS SYSTEM.

The several stretching exercises described in this article, and the many others used by the writer to meet the requirements of special cases, are all based upon the stretching movements of animals. If practiced in accordance with the directions given, they will be found to have a remarkable effect in (a) relieving fatigue and the discomfort following periods of employment, (b) straightening and expanding the body, (c) imparting a normal and symmetrical development to the muscles, and (d) markedly increasing vital activity and augmenting both constitutional and muscular strength and endurance.

As a system, or rather part of a system, of physical development for general practice the stretching exercises have peculiar advantages. They do not necessitate apparatus; they may be practiced anywhere; they occupy but little time; they are adapted to all ages and all degrees of strength, and can be practiced with equally good results by the child, the invalid, the trained athlete; they cannot do any injury; they tend to symmetrical, and not "lumpy" development of the muscular system; they do not produce exhaustion, either of body or mind; they conduce to ease, quietness and grace of movement.

VIBRATORY WORK EXCESSIVE.

As regards the time given to these exercises and the amount of force applied, no general rule applicable to all cases can be given. The best guide will be one's own sensations. A sensation of fatigue should always be the sign to stop at once. Five minutes two or three times a day is a fair average of time to devote to the stretching movements. Many people, however, would be unable to do more than a minute's work without fatigue. Others, again, could give these exercises much more time with advantage. As to the amount of force put into the stretch, the general mistake is to stretch too firmly. A trembling or "vibration" of the muscles can hardly be other than an evidence of injurious overstrain. Remember, as explained above, that the good effect of the stretch is due largely to the fact that contraction of the muscles squeezes the blood out of them and onward into the heart and lungs. For this purpose strained contraction is not necessary. The best criterion as to the proper amount of force to apply to the stretch is the act of which it is an imitation—a real stretch with a yawn. The feeling of the writer is that the best stretching exercise is the one that most resembles a real, honest, vulgar stretch with a yawn—no more effort of will, no more effort of body, and the result will be restful and beneficial.

Those who are unaccustomed to physical activity, should practice the movements moderately for a time, in order to avoid any chance of a slight soreness of the muscles, which sometimes follows the too vigorous stretching of untrained muscles. The less clothing worn during this practice the better. Now, for a few typical stretching exercises:

SOME EXERCISES.

Exercise No. 1—Stand with feet slightly apart, muscles relaxed, arms hanging at the sides. Now inhale breath slowly and gently, at the same time lifting the arms slowly in front of the body, until by the time the lungs are full, the arms are extended straight upward. While reaching this position, allow the weight of the body to sway forward, and turn the face upward toward the ceiling. All this is done slowly, and gently, while inhaling a full breath. As soon as the lungs are full, and the arms have reached up and forward as far as they easily can, hold the breath and stretch body, head and arms firmly upward and forward, as though trying to place the face and hands against the ceiling.

The breath is held in a kind of grunt just as it often is during a natural stretch. Then after a moment or two of comfortable stretching, relax all the muscles, returning to original position, and at the same time allowing the breath to escape in a gentle sigh.

Besides the effects upon circulation and waste secretion already mentioned, this exercise brings into action all the important muscles of the body, and forces all its structures into (or at least toward) their normal position.

Exercise No. 2—Stand easily, as in preceding. Take breath slowly, at the same time raising the arms straight out at the sides. The weight should be swayed forward and the face uplifted. Now, the lungs being full and the arms straight out sidewise, hold the breath and stretch firmly, reaching out sidewise as far as possible with each arm.

This exercise is particularly valuable for the development of the chest, shoulders and lungs, and for the replacement of neck, chest and shoulders when these are bent out of their normal position.

Exercise No. 3—Stand on left foot, steadying yourself by grasping a chair or some similar object. Now take full breath slowly, and holding same, raise right leg from the floor and stretch it firmly downward and outward. (See Fig. 1.) Then reverse the position, and take same exercise with left leg.

This exercise, although mainly for the leg, has powerful effect upon all the muscles of the body.

Exercise No. 4—Stand with heels together, arms at side. Now, inhale breath slowly, at the same time raising the arms straight in front, until they are lifted straight above the head, palms forward, thumbs touching. Then, holding knees firmly back, sweep arms and body forward toward the floor, thus stretching firmly the muscles at the "small of the back" and behind the knees. (See Fig. 2.)

CHAMPION WHEEL THIEF.

Young Man from Portland Breaks the Record by Stealing Nine Bicycles in Nine Days and is Arrested.

M. S. Matlack, who says he is from Portland, Or., is about as nervy a thief as has been in the custody of the police in a long time. With the certainty of a term staring him in the face, he laughs at the prospect, and declares he will have a good time when he dons the stripes. He is a bicycle thief of the champion class, and he has broken all recent local records in that kind of stealing.

He was arrested yesterday afternoon on Main street by Detectives Smith and Dixon, while trying to dispose of a stolen bicycle. He had another wheel in his possession, and when taken to the Police Station, it was discovered that that also was stolen. Confronted with the evidence of his guilt he admitted it, and made light of the thefts. He said he arrived here nine days ago, and during his stay he stole nine bicycles. He told the officers what he had done with them, and it is almost certain that all of them will be recovered.

This thief is only about 24 years of age. He says it is no trick at all to steal bicycles, for a thief can pick out just whatever he wants by going along the streets and selecting the best wheels which are left at the curbs. He also informed the police that it is an easy matter to dispose of stolen goods in Los Angeles, saying he had no difficulty whatever in selling all the wheels he had stolen, and those to whom he made the sales asked him to bring others to them, promising him good prices. He refuses to tell anything about himself, except that he came here from Portland.

EVENTS IN SOCIETY.

There was the usual Monday night attendance at the Orpheum this week, numbering, as usual, many of the prominent society people of the city, who are always smartly gowned. One can not wonder at the vogue white toilettes have enjoyed this winter, for they are universally becoming, and a glance over the Orpheum audience frequently shows fully one-third of the ladies in white broadcloth or some of the clinging crepe-like fabrics that are such a joy to the feminine heart. It is a shame that the big white picture hats with drooping plumes and the handsome white opera cloaks can only be used in the crush of the aisles, for they are also things of beauty, and often calculated to make the hearts of the non-possessor burn with envy.

Among the well-known people present last evening were Mr. and Mrs. George A. Parkyns, who occupied a box. With them were Mrs. Charles Reynolds of San Rafael and her sister, Miss Krag. The party dined at the California Club before the performance. In one of the boxes were Mr. and Mrs. Stephen V. Childs, Mr. and Mrs. Alpheus Redman, Miss Chamberlin of Philadelphia and Miss Hortense Childs. Mr. and Mrs. George J. Denis entertained a party of twenty-four for Lieut. and Mrs. Randolph H. Miner, and Mrs. Hellman's guests occupied three boxes.

Messrs. Walker, Ellis, Bluff and Nesbit were hosts of a house party given at Ocean Park the last few days. Sunday the Donohue was chartered for a fishing party.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Nesbit and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McClung chaponered. The other guests were Misses Edith Learnered, Ula Hammers, Helen Witt, Grace McLaughlin, Any Jenkins, Elsie Huff, and Messrs. Schostrum and Alvin Carter.

Somes-Jones.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jones, No. 718 West First street, was the scene of a very pretty event Sunday afternoon, when their daughter, Ethel, was united in marriage to Omar Ray Somes, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Somes of West Twenty-fifth street. The parlors were prettily decorated in smilax, asparagus, ivy ferns, carnations, sweet peas and marguerites, the bridal couple standing under a canopy of smilax, from which was suspended a basket of white sweet peas. The bride was dressed in white Persian lawn, trimmed with Valenciennes lace and white satin ribbon, and carried a bouquet of white sweet peas. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Mabel McKeen of Oakland, who was dressed in white organdie. The groom was accompanied by Rufus L. Fallis. Rev. G. A. Hough of Vincent M. E. Church performed the ceremony. Only relatives were present. Many useful and valuable gifts were tendered the happy couple. They will be home to their friends Thursdays after July 1 at No. 110 South Flower street.

—o—

Twenty-fifth Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. William Carter entertained Friday evening at their residence, No. 1224 West Thirty-ninth street, in celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. A variety of flowers was used in decoration, one piece, which was especially admired, being a frame of roses and evergreen, about four feet by two, which hung over the double doors between the parlors, and which contained an enlarged photograph of the bride and groom, at the time of their marriage, and also a recent group photograph of the family.

Many handsome presents were received. The table in the dining-room was spread with a tempting repast. Dancing, singing and instrumental music furnished entertainment until a late hour.

—o—

Enjoyable House Dance.

The Pi Delta Sigma Club and gentlemen were delightfully entertained by Velvalle Dunn at her residence, No. 128 West Thirtieth street. The evening was spent in dancing. Those present were the Misses Marjorie Crosley, Eleanor Bauer, Genevieve Hayes, Amelia Menard, Vesta Edwards, Emma Lockwood, Phillippa Mitchell, Messrs. Rugly, Ross, Van Lansing, Ralph Homann, Frank Donnelly, Hugh Duff, John Parsons, Noah Thomson, Frank Bailey, John Minard, Tossie Maxwell.

—o—

From Clarinda, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Vance of Ingraham street, entertained in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William Russell of Denver, Colo., recently. The guests were all old residents of Clarinda, Iowa, and had known one another there, so the evening was spent in talking of the old times, and recalling old friends and old memories.

The rooms were beautifully decorated in vines and sweet peas. Dainty refreshments were served, and Miss McPherrin and Miss Vance furnished several musical numbers during the evening.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Russell, Dr. and Mrs. P. F. Bresee, Mr. and Mrs. Vance, Mmes. Arthur, Krickenberger and McPherrin, and Misses McPherrin and Vance.

—o—

Chamberlin-Mabry.

The marriage of Miss Pearl Mabry and Arthur E. Chamberlin was solemnized by Rev. Mr. Taylor of the Baptist Church, May 31, at the residence of the groom's brother, H. L. Chamberlin, No. 536 Ruth avenue. The bride wore white silk organdie, lace trimmed, and carried Bride roses. Only relatives and intimate friends were present. Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlin will reside at No. 536 Ruth avenue.
